BRING BUSINESS HERE

REPAIR WORK TO THE VALUE OF $50,000 BROUGHT HERE IN THE LAST FEW MONTHS—JOHNSON IRON WORKS BIG HUSTLERS.

A few months ago when the good news was heralded that the Johnson Iron Works would move their entire establishment to Algiers, many of us did not appreciate the magnitude of this industry, but since they have put up the finest repair shops in the city on our side of the river and are able to repair any ships that enter this port, we begin to see that the Johnson Iron Works is a bigger industry for our district than we first thought.

During the past few weeks the big works have had under repair the steamers Alabama, Atlantus, Livingston, Juanita, Eocene, Senator Bailey, and the Haakon and the steamships Astrakhan and Stavangeren are still under repair. Most of these ships have been brought here from Mobile, Ala.; Sabine, Tex., and other ports, by competitive bids. For instance, the steamer Atlantus was taken away from a big firm at Mobile, Ala., and the steamer Astrakhan was brought here from Sabine, Tex., for repairs. Both of these big jobs were the success of competition with Mobile and New York bidders.

H. D. Stearns, the president of the Johnson Iron Works, stated that during the past few months more than $50,000 worth of repairs have been secured from adjacent ports.

We trust that the Johnson Iron Works will keep up the good work and we owe them our hearty co-operation.

PUPILS OF EIGHTH GRADE, BELLEVILLE SCHOOL, WHO WILL ATTEND HIGH SCHOOL THIS YEAR.

BELLEVILLE AGAIN AMONG THE LEADERS.

Twenty-three Per Cent Above the City Average—Miss Harte and Teachers Complimented by Chas. J. Colton, Member of Ex. Com.

Toward the close of the term the Belleville school pupils took part in the test for accuracy and skill in arithmetical computation and made a standing seventh in the city, 23 per cent above the city average. This test was conducted by visiting principals in all public schools.

A large sheet of paper was given each pupil. Spaces, ruled off, had the problems and room for their solution. Ten minutes were allowed to solve as many as possible.

The grade scores will be given in a later issue.

RENECKY SELLS THE FAMOUS JUSTER BROWN SHOES FOR THE CHILDREN.

WINS FREE SCHOLARSHIP TO THE JESUITS COLLEGE.

Algiers may again boast of producing another successful pupil from McDonough No. 4 school. Master Robert Kennedy was the successful competitor in the "free for all" contest opened by the Jesuit high school. Through his splendid showing young Kennedy will be one of the five lucky individuals to receive a scholarship to the Jesuits High School. This means four years of high school free of tuition, and it is a high honor. This is the third time that boys from McDonough

No. 4 have won scholarships, the two other boys being Thomas Kennair and Leonard Aubert.

While this is a compliment to the boys who successfully reached this coveted goal, it is also a recognition of Miss Lizzie Kelly's ability. Many of our young men today who hold responsible positions are the product of McDonough No. 4, and received their education and their training under the tutelage of Miss Lizzie Kelly.

NAVAL WIRELESS WORKING AGAIN.

For the first time in three days, messages were sent out by the naval station's wireless Tuesday afternoon. It took that time to repair the damage done the twenty-five-foot aerial pole, which was split in two during the heavy thunderstorm Saturday at noon.

The damage was comparatively trifling, though workmen found it hard to repair the pole, due to its position on top of a tall smokestack. The streak of lightning that did the damage was a peculiar one, inasmuch as it allowed the receiving of messages, though none could be sent.
