FIRST JITNEY SERVICE

Phillip Cafiero Starts Algiers Service Friday to Be Known as the Cafiero Transfer Company.

The first jitney bus line to be established on this side of the river was started on Tuesday of this week. In charge of Mr. Phillip Cafiero, and the company will be known as the Cafiero Passenger Transfer Company. This service is put in for the purpose of delivering passengers from the Canal Street Ferry to the Algiers Railway Company. Mr. Cafiero will also make a specialty of evenings, taking small joy ride parties for trips about town and down the lower coast. For this service a very small fee per passenger will be charged and the time consumed will be in excess of the ordinary delivery from the ferry to points in our district. It is the purpose of this automobile bus line to transfer passengers from one part of Algiers to other parts for the price of five cents. The Algiers Street Railway Company only makes a belt of our town and the principal residential section of our district is not served by the car lines; in other words, the thickly settled portions of Belleville, Vallette, Olivier and Verret streets and other principal street. The car line merely makes a circle and is of no service to the people in that part of our district.

The Cafiero Passenger Transfer Company are making arrangements now to have delivered here shortly, cars especially suited for this kind of passenger service.

PITIFUL ACCIDENT.

The funeral of the little Doyle boys John, aged 14 years and William, aged 11, who were drowned on Thursday last, took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from their parents' residence, 717 Brooklyn avenue. Rev. R. M. Brown, of the Methodist church, officiated at the house, the church and the grave. Interment was in McDonoghville cemetery.

The little boys went down to the levee Thursday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock and making their way down the Coyle Company's passage way to the river, then entered a small skiff.

The younger boy got out of the skiff to walk on a log in the thick of the driftwood, ten feet from the bank. He lost his balance and slipped into the water. Crying to his brother for help, the child sank twice before the older boy could divest himself of his clothing, but the latter heroically plunged into the chilly water to help the little fellow. John too, screamed for help, but before it came, he was dragged beneath the surface by the drowning child.

No one was near enough to render timely assistance. Elmer Davidson, an employee of the W. G. Coyle Company, near the yards of which the tragedy occurred, heard the cries of the little fellows for help and he jumped into the water in an effort to reach them, but too late.

The body of William was found at 6 o'clock Friday morning by the father of the boys, John Doyle, who with relatives and friends, has been working incessantly at the task to recover the bodies since the tragedy. The body of John was found Saturday evening by Diver Fritz John, near the spot where that of Willie's was found.

Plain embroidered and printed voiles are also great favorites; then, too, the finish of voiles has been materially bettered, that they will retain their beauty after repeated washing. Cotton crepes and silk cotton novelties are classed as popular weaves.

Cotton Gabardines and Gollines are among the new offerings in cotton goods.

The range of weaves is wider than ever before, having been imported from France, England, and Switzerland. A comprehensive idea of the scope and beauty of this collection without an inspection is impossible. Prices range from 50 cents to $3.00 a yard.

WATER IN EXCESS.

F. H. Kass, a McDonoghville dairyman, believes in advertising as a boon to business, and when Recorder Goff "soaked" him for $25 Friday, on the charge of having in his possession milk with 23.8 per cent. added water, he requested the court to give the news to the papers. Incidentally, Kass told Recorder Goff that he had come prepared to meet the charge made by the City Board of Health Inspector, as he had had a sample of his milk analyzed the day the sample was taken by the inspector. Kass said that the chemist he employed found that the milk contained 27 per cent. added water, even more than the amount set forth in the affidavit.

TEN DOLLARS GONE

Mrs. W. B. Mendoza was robbed of $10 by a 14-year-old negro boy Monday. The boy was riding on a peddler's wagon and Mrs. Mendoza gave him $10 in payment for some of the fruit, whereupon he disappeared with the money. Joseph Comfort, the peddler was arrested and charged with peddling without a license. He claims not to know the boy's name or residence address.

PORZLER-POLLOCK.

One of the prettiest pre-Lenten weddings was that of Miss Alma Melane Porzler to Dr. James Ernest Pollock which took place on Wednesday of last week at 7:30 o'clock at Mt. Olivet Episcopal Church.

The sacred edifice, which was prettily decorated with palms, was filled with relatives and friends of the young couple. Rev. Sidney L. Vail performed the ceremony according to the sacred rites of the Episcopal Church.

At the appointed hour, the bridal party entered the church. Leading were Fred J. Schuber, Herman Joekel and Irvin C. Briel and Dr. S. F. Brand, then came the bridesmaid, Miss May Loretta McNeely, and next came the fair young bride leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Jno. Porzler, who gave her into the safe-keeping of the groom. The bridal party was met at the altar by the groom and his groomsmen, Dr. Ed. L. King.

The bride, who is a charming blonde, looked lovely in her wedding dress of mirror satin elaborately trimmed with Duchess lace and pearls. Her veil of illusion was arranged cap fashion and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was indeed a picture of girlish loveliness in her wedding attire. The bridesmaid, a stately brunette, was prettily gowned in buff crepe meteor with silk chiffon overdress. Her dress was elaborately trimmed with crystal trimmings.

During the signing of the register, Miss Hazel McNeely very ably rendered "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Geo. L. Cunningham, who also played the wedding march.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Venet street at which only the immed late family was present.

The young couple who were the recipients of many handsome presents, left the same evening for Indiana, Miss., where they will spend their honeymoon the guests of the groom's sister, Mrs. A. B. Smith. On their return, they will be at home to their friends at the Pollock residence corner Oliner street and Opelousa avenue.

The bride, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Porzler, is one of the most popular young girls in our district, while the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pollock, is one of the best known physicians here and is at present associated with Dr. Butterworth as his assistant in the children's clinic at Touro Infirmary. Dr. Pollock is making children's diseases a special study.

SEWERAGE AND WATER BOARD MEETING.

At a meeting of the Sewerage and Water Board held Friday night, the Mayor, president of the board, announced that he had appointed R. R. Gould, 222 Eliza street, to be inspector and meter reader at $4 per month, a promotion from messenger.

The amount of water purified at the Algiers plant has averaged about 2,100 gallons a day. J. W. Lennox disturbed the usual harmony and the routine record of quantity of opinion of the board by voting against a resolution to adopt the recommendation of the finance committee that the board carry its own employee's compensation insurance. The report stated that eleven bids for writing the insurance were received, the lowest being that of A. C. Overland representing the Ocean and Guarantee Corporation Ltd., $4,000.

MR. VEZIEEN TAKEN ILL IN COURT.

After the trial of Milton Jack for murder and assault and highway robbery had been in progress for several minutes Friday morning in the Second City Criminal Court J. Henry Vezeien, one of the State's principal counsel took suddenly ill in the courtroom and had to be rushed to his home in Algiers.

District Attorney Luzenberg, who was acting in the court in the absence of Assistant Prosecutor J. Arthur Chastagne, informed the court that he was not in a position to go on with the case as a result of the occurrence. Judge O'Donnell continued the case until a later date.

Mr. Vezeien, with other witnesses from Algiers, appeared in court Friday morning apparently in the best of health. Shortly before 11 o'clock, and less than ten minutes after the case of Jack had been called for trial, and while a police officer from Algiers was testifying, Mr. Vezeien, then sitting in the courtroom, toppled against a friend. He was taken from the courtroom into an outer office. He said that he was feeling badly and it was advised that he be taken home immediately. He was attended by Dr. J. A. Rupp. Mr. Vezeien is again on duty at his place of business.

It is recalled that on November 16 the saloon of Mr. Vezeien, 509-11 Patterson street, Algiers, was entered about 11 o'clock at night by a lone masked burglar. The man demanded those in the saloon to throw up their hands and forced them against the wall. He then went behind the counter and after securing considerable money backed out of the saloon. Adam Vatter, a night watchman, and one of the hold-up victims followed behind the highwayman and was shot as a result. He died in the Charity Hospital several days later. Jack was accused of the shooting.
