The Governor and Self-Government

Just at the present time when there is much controversy regarding prohibition, local option, etc., there is a great deal of interest taken in the different platforms advanced by the candidates for Governor. Local option is self-government, and it is self-government that makes a satisfied community. The "majority" rule is usually right and we believe that we should be ruled by local majority. If the northern part of the state desires prohibition we believe that they would be justly entitled to it, but if another section of the state is opposed to prohibition we believe that their wishes also should be granted.

In a cosmopolitan town like New Orleans its welfare depends upon the liberal interpretation of prohibitive laws; while we believe that most of the laws of any state should be abided by, there are instances in certain localities where some leniency is best for the community. Prohibition for New Orleans would mean the loss of more than one million dollars in revenues. It would mean a loss to the city and to the state as well from many other sources. We do not believe that prohibition laws regarding liquor prohibits the consumption of this article and if the citizens of New Orleans and the other communities desire local option regarding the sale of liquor, we firmly believe that contrary legislation is an interference with the personal liberty which is granted by the constitution of this government.

Again, the prohibitionist points out all the dark sides of what might result from the consumption of alcoholic drinks, but there are two sides to every question—it is just as much a disgrace and a crime to be a glutton as it is to be a drunkard.

Regarding the races—there are other interests to this sport besides the gambling. Horse racing well conducted is a fine sport and is very much enjoyed by the lovers of the thoroughbred. It is not necessary to become a gambler in order to enjoy a horse race, for thousands and thousands witness the different horse races in the country without waging a cent of money on the results. The excitement in seeing a race is grand to those who have experienced it and as all horsemen will tell you, the horse also enjoys the race; he is bred for this purpose, he understands why he is put there with his running mates, and it is a pleasure to watch them go neck and neck around the track in their ambition to come in first. We can have racing at New Orleans, and an honestly conducted sport of this kind brings thousands of people to our city as well as dollars. If it is run clean we welcome it.

Again referring to prohibition—all law-abiding citizens will thank God when the day comes when the drunkard will be punished and laws made that will give a jail sentence for the one who consumes excessive amounts of liquor as well as for those who offer it for sale to one who is already intoxicated.

If the pitcher knocks the stone or the stone knocks the pitcher, it is equally bad for the pitcher.

SAFETY FIRST.

A North Texas man who recently made a trip to Galveston became greatly interested in watching a fair and very fat bather disporting herself in the surf. He was not familiar with the tides, and he did not notice that each succeeding wave came a little closer to his feet. At last an extra big wave washed over his shootops.

"Hey, there!" he yelled at the fat, fair bather. "Quit yer jumpin' up an' down! D'ye want to drown me?"

THIS BUSY WORLD.

Henderson and I had just entered a car and found seats for ourselves when I became suddenly aware that he had discovered an acquaintance beside him—a woman. I could not fail to hear the conversation.

"Why, how do you do, John—this is a surprise!"

"Isn't it? Why, Amy, it must be months since we met."

"Yes, almost a year, I should say. Do you know I've been so busy, and how time does fly when one is busy! But do you know it was just a month or so ago that I was thinking of you, and wondering when we would meet again."

"Amy! There must be something in this transmission of thought business after all! It wasn't so long ago that I was thinking almost the same thing about you. We did used to have good times together, didn't we?"

"Yes, indeed, John, we certainly did. John—" (as though with sudden thought)—"you must come and see me some time soon!"

"Indeed I will, Amy! I am going abroad for the firm tomorrow, and expect to be absent a month, then it will be the lodge for a couple of weeks' shooting—then West again. Business, of course—March before I get back, I suppose."

"Oh, the West, isn't it glorious! I spent a month out there, not long ago. We had a great campaign. Thousands of new recruits! I tell you national suffrage is not far off. I'm going South tonight. I speak in Atlanta Wednesday. Ah, here's the Grand Central—I'm due in Boston tonight. Good-bye, John. I hope I'll see you again."

"And I hope I'll see you, Amy."

And she was gone.

"Old flame?" I asked, casually.

"My wife," he replied.

Miss Harper, the new deaconess from St. Mark's Hall, will speak at the prayer meeting service to-night. The offering will go to aid mission stations in Japan.

Don't fail to buy a ticket for the concert Friday at Pythian Hall. A postcard folded with a picture of the old church on one side and a perspective of the new on the other will be on sale at the concert. We hope everyone will buy some and send them to their friends. The price is nominal—four for five cents.

The penny party given at Mrs. W. McCluskey's last Wednesday was a success in spite of the fact that it was not widely advertised. Something like $10 was realized for the new church.

Contributions for the new church were made last week by the following: Mrs. McCluskey's penny party, Miss Inez Daniels, Tisdale Daniels, J. B. Frears, Miss Ruth Pettigrove, Mrs. J. Summers, J. T. Owens, Mrs. Garland, Marion Ryan, Mrs. Mary Wells, Miss Mable George, C. J. Breen, Sr., Miss Maud Anderson, Bank No. 16 (Hoover Noma) Mrs. J. W. Lennox, Miss Ethel Rhodes, Woman's Missionary Society, Paul Malone, Miss Kate Kitchen, R. M. Brown, Mrs. Charles Zatarain.

While writing the notes for the paper yesterday morning we received the sad news of the death of Brother Frank Daniels. The church has sustained an irreparable loss. A nobler soul, a more loyal layman, a truer friend we have never met. But he is not dead; he still lives in the hearts of all who knew him and in the characters of the younger generation.

DIED.

FRANK A. DANIELS. Yesterday morning Death claimed Frank A. Daniels, after an illness of some time. Mr. Daniels, although ill for quite a while, was not confined to his home, and his death is a shock to the entire community, where he was looked up to as one of the noblest of men. His friends are numbered among those in all ranks of life. The needy have always known a friend in Frank Daniels; no worthy one was ever turned away without assistance. He was one of New Orleans' most progressive citizens and his success in life was due to his own efforts.

Hon. Frank A. Daniels was born in Algiers on December 1, 1858. He received his education in our private and public schools, but at the early age of fifteen he left school and started out in life as a messenger boy in the employ of A. K. Miller & Co. Being a boy of push and energy, he soon worked his way up, and won the respect and esteem of his employers by his gentlemanly manners and attention to his business. It is not surprising that at the time of his death he was not only a member of the firm, but the senior member of this great steamship agency.

In 1888 Mr. Daniels was elected to the City Council from our district. During this administration, the head of which was Mayor Shakespeare, the city's credit was put on a cash basis, all employees were paid in cash instead of discounted script, the site for the present courthouse was purchased, the electric railroad was installed and many streets were paved. Mr. Daniels was an able councilman and left the council with his name unsullied and with the fullest confidence of the people he had represented.

He served on the Orleans Levee Board from 1891 to 1894, and only resigned in order to accept the important appointment of postmaster of the city of New Orleans in 1894 and served until October 3, 1898. He served under Presidents Cleveland and McKinley.

In September, 1899, Mr. Daniels was appointed by Mayor Flower to serve the four years' term on the Sewerage and Water Board. In 1903 he was re-appointed for twelve years by Mayor Capdevielle. He always did all in his power for Algiers while on this board and it was through his earnest efforts that our district was one of the first to have the sewerage work started. He always took an active part in politics and was one of the leading factors in our local politics.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, of the Knights of Honor, and one of the leading members of the Methodist Church. Mr. Daniels was also the first president of the Algiers Improvement Association.

In 1881 Mr. Daniels wedded Miss Cora R. Booth, of East Baton Rouge, who, with two children, Mrs. C. S. Tuller and F. Albion Daniels, survive him. A few years ago Mr. Daniels removed from our district and purchased a home in Napoleon avenue, at which place he died yesterday morning.

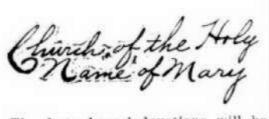

The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence, 2818 Napoleon avenue, Rev. R. M. Brown officiating. Interment will be in Metairie Cemetery.

RIDGE—On Saturday, Nov. 6, at 12:25 o'clock a. m. Mrs. William Giepert, nee Emma Ridge, died at the age of thirty three. Deceased was born in New Orleans and had been a resident of our district for eighteen years. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of brother-in-law, Al J. Neafus, 630 Elmira avenue. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one only sister, Mrs. L. Neafus, and three brothers, John, Edward and Sam Ridge.

Deceased was married in the year of 1905. She was much beloved by all who knew her, and during her prolonged illness bore it with much patience.

Thursday evening divine services will be held at 7:30; Sunday morning, English at 8, and German at 10:30 o'clock. Tuesday evening the monthly meeting of the Lutheran Young People's Society was held. Among other business transacted was the acceptance of a new constitution. On Friday evening the monthly meeting of the voting members of the congregation will be held. Indications are that our Sunday school will be benefited by the changes we have made, for we have attained

The forty hours' devotions will be held in this church next week. The program of exercises will be published in our next issue.

The Children of Mary will put on a comic operetta on Nov. 22 for the benefit of the convent. The histrionic talent which we have admired in the past in those budding actresses promises to be very much in evidence on that occasion. The entertainment will be given in St. Mary's Hall.

Watch for this column next week and you'll know that the editor, Father Petit, is back at his desk. After having spent a whole week in the nation's capital, he may have some interesting news to impart to the public and may possibly give us some new light on the President's new Mexican policy. At any rate, we'll all be glad to see Father Petit again in our midst. He is expected to return to-night.

"BULBUL." The comic operetta, "Bulbul," will be presented in St. Mary's Hall Monday, Nov. 22nd, at 8 p. m., by the Children of Mary for the Convent Repair Fund.

The cause is one that appeals to all, and one that has never yet failed to meet with the most hearty co-operation of the Catholics of Algiers.

The unusual attractiveness of this year's performance and the great popularity of the young ladies taking part promise to make this Thanksgiving benefit the greatest success ever yet achieved.

The tickets are 50 cents, and there will be no reserved seats.

Returns can be made to Father Larkin or the Sisters.

WOMEN INVITED TO USE HALL OF D. H. HOLMES

Seats 300, and Provides Convenient Meeting Place for Club Women and Others.

"The men of New Orleans have numerable places to assemble to hold their meetings, but they have never had a hall specially adapted to their use, so a few months ago the D. H. Holmes Company conceived the idea of providing a place for the women of New Orleans, say is their own," said P. W. Holmes, manager of the big store, as he sat in the center of the beautiful and watched several women talking the finishing touches on a large stage. Continuing, Mr. Holmes said:

"The rooms are absolutely open to the women of this city that does not mean essentially club women of New Orleans, but for the use of any body of women who desire to meet for any purpose whatever in a number of ways. Justify so large a hall. If the men of any church denomination desire to hold a meeting downtown, which church matters are to be discussed, or any body of women to hold a public meeting having any legitimate question of the day, they will be perfectly free to use the hall, provided they do so before 6 p. m., as the hall will not be after that time.

Already several applications have come from men's societies, and organizations composed of men and women for the use of Holmes, but to each a courteous reply has been sent stating that their request must be refused, as it is the policy of the management of the store to allow only women the use of the hall.

Holmes Hall has a seating capacity of 300, but with chairs placed in the aisles it can easily accommodate 500 persons. The seating arrangements are as near perfect as any public meeting place in New Orleans. The chairs are large, and are built on the modern theater chairs used in the best theaters in the United States.

The auditorium really is one of the most attractive in New Orleans, and is lighted by what is known as semi-direct method, which throws soft light without any shadow whatever. The room is fitted with French gray, with mahogany finishings. It can be made absolutely private as the entrances from the store can be closed. To further emphasize the fact that the women feel no embarrassment in asking the use of the hall, Mr. Holmes stated that not even men users will be gaged, this part of the work being placed in the hands of three or four young women.

Immediately back of the hall, which will have a fine curtain, are committee rooms which are equipped with hot and cold water and all conveniences, the idea appearing in the minds of those who planned the hall being comfort.

"Who will pay for the light service?" was asked Mr. Holmes, which he replied: "The D. H. Holmes Company will furnish everything free to the women, and we extend them a cordial invitation to use the hall whenever they need it."

The afternoons on which there are no club meetings or lectures, are planned to give a series of lectures of the Aeolian-Vocalion, and a man who desires to rest will be daily welcomed in this hall to spend a half hour in the protection from the strain of a shop-club work.

The hall also will be used for the purpose of class work by the employes. Spanish, store writing and other branches will be given, and lectures will be given by qualified teachers on efficiency and sales clerks. With this work, there will be a course of lectures on setry and anatomy. This part of the work will be in charge of a physician, who will advise women to their needs along this line.

Friday, Nov. 5, at 6:45 o'clock, "Old Guard" held its first meeting in the new hall at which was christened. This is an organization composed of the men of Holmes store who have a continuous service of fifteen years or more. There are 141 employees bear this distinction.
