50 CENTS GAS TOO HIGH

Draft of an ordinance, the purpose of which is to lay before the council the proposition of W. M. McCormick to pipe natural gas from Houma to New Orleans, and to prescribe the form of the franchise, was presented to the commission council at the regular meeting Tuesday by Commissioner...

WHY AND WHY NOT.

New York has opened its first horse meat market. A New York burglar boarded a vessel at the wharf and stole a monkey valued at $1,000. The death-race among American miners from accidents last year was the lowest in 15 years. "Safety first!"

PERSONALS. The fathers from Jefferson College have returned to work, after a few weeks vacation spent in different parts of the country.

Very Rev. Father Smith, S. M., remains as president of the Convent, La. institution. It will be a source of pleasure to Father Smith's numerous friends and the boys of the college to know that the man who has piloted the destinies of the college so successfully for so many years will still be at his old post.

At the morning hour the pastor's subject was Luke 10, 38-42. Jesus entertained at Bethany. The junior choir sang an anthem, "I Need His Care," and for an offertory, "Watch Over Me."

Quite a Shock.

"You say that Miss Oldstyle is suffering from severe mental shock? What caused it?" "Why, she's been claiming that she's only twenty-eight years old and then somebody found her name in one of those '30-Years Ago' columns in the newspapers."

Patriotism of Americans.

"Malign us (Americans) as you will, we are a home-loving people and the things of the home we understand. Our patriotism centers itself about our homes, and our reverence for the past around the hearthstones of our forebears."—Walter A. Droe.

Loyalty.

When any part of an organization spends any part of its time criticizing and knocking the rest of the organization, the whole intent and purposes of that firm will suffer.—The Enthusiast.

Wickedness is the fool's vacation. Duty is usually founded on capacity. The key is never to blame for a rusty lock. A man will fondle his tobacco-tags as real gain. To some reformers versatility is the same old song to a new tune. A man can be firm, without having a head you could crack walnuts on. See that the apex of Doubt is no the point to puncture the bubble of Hope. After all, what are shadows? The grass of June laughs at the storms of December. "Common People" means a great block, upon which some men stand to reach persimmons. The dates on fresh eggs should be written with indelible ink—that the consumer may know. "For peace," observed the gunner, as he sent the thousand-pound shell on its benevolent mission. Some fellows read sacred history to find flaws. But think of a farmer climbing a laden tree only to hunt for rotten apples. Had Nature wanted man to be fitfully showing anger, she'd have put bristles on his back.—J. H. Mackley in the Ohio Farmer.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The female population of British India is nearly 119,000,000. Miss Mary Travers is a railroad crossing watchman at New Albany, Ind. Clara Kimball Young, the motion-picture star, receives $1,000 a week salary. Henderson, N. C., has a woman as a member of the chamber of commerce board of directors. Lillian Russell, the actress, has organized a woman's defense league to train women to shoot. Woman street cleaners in London have proved so efficient that it is proposed to employ more of them. The street car companies of New York are entertaining the idea of employing women as conductors. Queen Elizabeth of Belgium has been decorated with a new medal just created by the Belgian government. Woman performers with the various circuses in the country have formed a Red Cross unit which has more than 500 members.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

The high impulse should be followed at any risk. Unless a man undertakes to do more than he possibly can do he will never do all that he can do. The hardest thing in the world is self-control, and the saving of money means the exercising of self-control in all directions at once. That is what makes saving so hard. No book is worth anything which is not worth much; nor is it serviceable until it has been read, and reread, and loved again, and marked, so that you can refer to the passages you want in it as a soldier can seize his needs in an armory or a housewife bring the spice she needs from her store.

FAMILIAR MISQUOTATIONS

Honesty is the best bluff. Variety is the vice of life. The weakest go to the wall. Art is long, and mostly cheating. It's a long lane that has no cafe. Straw lids tell which way the wind blows. The husband who hesitates is bossed. And, like another Helen, find another boy. Assume a virtue and get away with it. I am monarch of all I survey—with my eyes shut. Better a cycle of Cathay than 15 minutes of Europe. Nature made woman to temper man—and she keeps him in one. FLASHLIGHTS

The knockers never get after a man that isn't doing something worth noticing. Children now and then are greater than their parents, but they wouldn't have been if their parents hadn't given them the proper start. 'Tis hard that a man should go out of the world almost as weak a wretch as he came into it. Old men are twice children, says the proverb. There is good in everything—even the pretzel is hardened and pretty crooked, but proves a most companionable fellow on acquaintance. Everyone says mean things about people he does not wish them to hear, and so it is a very mean trick to tell a man what people say about him. Money can be made honestly in so many ways that one sometimes has to stop and wonder why it is that some men deliberately select the crooked ones. STATISTICAL NOTES

Denmark has 538,000 horses and colts. There are 270,000 sheep in Denmark. Would Take Any Color. The family with guests were assembled at the evening meal. The father carved the roast chicken, and as he turned to each person he inquired whether dark or white meat was desired. When little John's turn came he looked gravely up into his father's face and graciously replied: "Oh, it doesn't matter so much what I take, just give me a little of all the other colors that aren't wanted."

THINGS NEW UNDER THE SUN

An Italian university professor claims to have found radium in ordinary dew. An electrically operated plane has been invented for smoothing butchers' chopping blocks. An Italian company is experimenting with carrying mails between Rome and Turin by airplane. By using a new side saddle rear seat on a motorcycle a woman is not obliged to wear divided skirts, yet can face in the direction in which the machine is running. A shoe-polishing outfit, including a tube of polish that is fed to a fountain brush, which can be used without soiling the hands, has been patented by a Minneapolis man. Suction is provided for an Ohio inventor's vacuum cleaner by a spiral current of water, the device being made so that it can be attached to almost any household faucet. An aluminum pencil that writes on glass or porcelain, producing marks that can be etched with acid or burnished to resemble inlaid silver, has been invented by a Swiss. As a variation on the nonrefillable bottle a New York man has invented attachments for ordinary bottles that prevent their contents being poured out if they have been refilled. An Australian claims to have discovered a new rapid tanning process with which sole leather can be tanned in seven days, calf skins in six hours and other skins proportionately quickly.

LOEW'S CRESCENT. That Loew's Crescent theater is now an established institution under its new policy is proven by the wonderful audiences that have been making the theater a rendezvous. Continuous vaudeville of the Loew type has undoubtedly taken a firm hold on the populace and Mr. Loew promises that he will continue the same excellence of attractions in the future as have brought him success already here during the first two weeks of the season. There are two changes of bill every week at the Crescent. One bill opens on Sunday at 1 o'clock and the other on Thursday at the same hour, all performances being continuous to 11 o'clock with 15 first run reels of feature photodrama, comedy, cartoons and current events. The latter includes all of the best and latest screen reproductions of happenings throughout the world. The bill this week will include Jimmy Britt, the prize fighter and actor, and many other big features.

The Loew circuit, which is booking the Crescent Theater, in connection with Klaw & Erlanger, controls more than 200 theaters on this continent, running from New York city, where Mr. Lo
