

At The Playhouses

H. N. G. C. THEATER.

Friday night the management will offer for the approval of the public the Paramount picture, "The Squaw Man's Son," a sequel to the popular drama, "The Squaw Man," in which Wallace Reid, most popular of the younger actors, is the bright, particular star, supported by no less a favorite than Anita King. "The Squaw Man's Son" is a truly Indian story, in which little Hal (Wallace Reid), the son of Nat-u-rieh, who has ennobled the wealth of his father's estate and higher civilization, finds the call of the West too strong and therefore returns to the reservation, where he meets Wah-na-si, a young Indian Carlisle graduate, with whom he falls in love, and the end of the story is told in the picture.

Sunday the popular star, Fannie Ward, will be the attraction in "The Crystal Gazer," also a Christie comedy. Mutual Weekly and Black Diamond comedy.

TULANE.

Selwyn & Company will present their latest and greatest farce success "Fair and Warmer" at the Tulane Theatre the week commencing Sunday, October 21, in answer to a tremendous demand from all parts of the country that Broadway's favorite play should again go on tour.

Avery Hopwood, its author, added even to his own fine reputation, achieved with "Seven Days" and "No-body's Widow," when "Fair and Warmer" first appeared at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, to begin its year-long career as a money-maker and a laugh-maker; and Selwyn & Company, who made their fame at picking winners with "Within the Law," "Twin Beds," "Lilac Time," etc., put another notch on their totem pole.

"Fair and Warmer" is the merriest of tales, divulged in three acts of mounting drama and high-pitched comedy. It begins with a revelation to two highly respectable and domestic persons—a husband above reproach and below interest, and a wife, a perfect paragon of innocent domesticity, that their respective spouses have been having a time more gay than creditable. The very good pair vow a revenge, and, having no experience to guide or to warn them decide on counter-naughtiness as a suitable course.

They discover that getting into trouble is far easier than getting out of it, and that, lacking a practiced hand, the consequences of trouble are more apt to behave like a boomerang than a projectile. It is, in brief, precisely the kind of thing Avery Hopwood knows best how to handle, and to interlard with his inimitable shafts of wit, and barbs of social commentary.

In the cast of well known players to be seen here are Sager Midegley, Isabelle Mendez, C. Paul Swazer, Harriet Worthington, Frank Conway, Dorothy Fox Slaytor, Edward Doremus and S. Sydney Chon.

LOEW'S CRESCENT THEATER.

Another knock-out week for the Crescent Theater is promised by the bill which Marcus Loew has circulated to New Orleans. There are ten of the finest vaudeville numbers that local playgoers people have seen in many seasons on the bill for the week and the motion picture offerings are of the highest types, including Sessue Hayakawa, the celebrated Japanese actor in a new photoplay entitled "The Call of the East," and Dorothy Phillips in a new picture of New York life entitled "Bondage." Loew's Crescent is offering a continuous daily performance, starting every day at 1 o'clock and running through to 11 o'clock at night, thus affording the business man, the shopper and the pleasure seeker an opportunity to come and go when they please at prices which make a short trip to the theater within reach of all.

The Sunday bill will open at 1 o'clock with Mabel Harper, the prettiest and fustiest performer in all vaudeville, in a peppery song and talking revue that will thrill and excite the men and the women. The headliner will be the celebrated Milani Five, a quintette of characteristic Italian artists who are making their first appearance at popular prices. They give a wonderfully colorful presentation of song and dance given in the characteristic costume and color of the streets of Milan. "Rags" Leighton, noted minstrel star, and Kennedy, another popular song and dance artist, will give an act of their own under the title of "The Jazz Duo." Mack & Josephine are to present songs, style and sayings.

Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese star, will appear in "The Call of the East" at the Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday showings.

Booth & Leander, the "Nutt Cyclists" in eccentric acrobats on wheels; Irene and Doug Carby in an entirely novel representation of song and dance; W. T. Holmes and Eva Holliston in their clever and lovable comedy entitled "Looking for Betsy" which is said to carry us back to the days of "Shore Acres." Rose Berry is to present her new piano and song act; and the big one best bet for the children and for those of the older generation who love animals, will be Ted Osborne's twelve pets in a playlet entitled "All Their Own."

Loew's Universal Weekly will give some more fine pictures of the world's series as played at the Polo Grounds, New York, and Loew's Current Events will depict many of the recent happenings in connection with the war at home and abroad. There will also be the usual Mutt and Jeff and cartoon comics.

BELLEVILLE SCHOOL NOTES.

The 4th Illinois Infantry passed through our town last week. While the cars were waiting for a connection the soldiers were taken out for exercise.

The principal of Belleville School wished the children to see the soldiers and the soldiers to be cheered by the children, so "Rapid Dismissal Bell" was rung in time for all the girls to see them. The band stopped in front of the school, played a tune and then that rousing march "Illinois." As the men passed the children greeted them with continuous clapping and some of the men threw to the children slips bearing their name to serve as visiting cards.
