

Algiers Over The Top

MUST BUY THREE HUNDRED SIXTY THOUSAND OF W. S. STAMPS

Mayor Behrman Announced We Led All Other Wards in the City in Red Cross Drive in Both Industrial and Domestic Subscriptions

BIG MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Pythian Hall on Monday night was the scene of one of the largest gatherings ever held in Algiers, of representatives who came to pledge their effort in one of the most strenuous campaigns about to be inaugurated for the sale of War Saving Stamps.

There were perhaps three hundred men present from all walks of life who had come to the meeting at the invitation of the Mayor and the War Savings Committee. At the meeting arrangements were made and details laid out for the different precinct organizations, which are to be effected between now and Thursday to put on this big campaign in the interest of our Government and final victory.

Mayor Martin Behrman presided at the meeting which was called to order promptly at eight o'clock. He threw the meeting in uproar of applause when he announced that Algiers had led every other ward in the city of New Orleans in the Red Cross Drive, both in the industrial subscription as well as the domestic subscription. He also called attention to the fact that while the subscription for the fifteenth ward was very over the top and even above that of all other wards it must also be borne in mind that of this money subscribed, it was given without any thought of any return except the great amount of good it would do for suffering humanity. This would be a fore runner of what Algiers will do in the purchase of War Savings Stamps and while our quota here has been placed at three hundred and sixty thousand dollars we feel reasonably sure that Algiers will go far over the top in the purchase of these gilt edge bonds which will pass from merchant to purchaser just the same as five dollar bills are legal tenders to-day.

In starting the campaign for the War Savings Stamps in Algiers, our side of the river has been divided into precincts and each precinct will be divided into squares and some of the squares will be subdivided so that every household head will be seen, that he may pledge the amount of War Savings Stamps he will agree to help our government between now and the last day of the year.

Be Liberal With Your Purchase.

When one of the representatives of this meeting calls on you during the next eight or ten days to subscribe for War Savings Stamps, be as liberal as is consistent with your means and when you are signing the card remember that when you agree to but a certain number of War Savings Stamps you are not putting out any money that will not come back to you with interest. During the month of June each one of the War Savings Stamps that you buy will cost but four dollars and seventeen cents but the Government in return guarantees you the payment of five dollars for each one of these War Savings Stamps. They are just as good as any other five dollar bill that Uncle Sam has made and the loan of your money to the Government at this time will be a big help toward winning the war.

BIG MEETING TO-NIGHT.

At the Athenaeum to-night there will be a rousing meeting in the interest of the War Savings Stamp and every ward in the city of New Orleans is expected to be represented there by a strong delegation, so as to make the meeting one of the most enthusiastic the city has had for many days. No precinct meetings will be held on Thursday night for the purpose of giving everyone an opportunity to attend this big centralized meeting.

ENJOYABLE DAY.

On Sunday, a jolly crowd of young boys spent the day at the Owl Club House, Milneburg, where a most enjoyable time was had. Dancing was indulged in. Mr. and Mrs. F. Hoogwood and Mr. and Mrs. A. Diket were the chaperones.

With this appointment, the lieutenant is placed in full charge of the track and field meet and the baseball game which will attract many to the park on that day.

The successful work of Lieut. Manson in arousing the athletic spirit among the men at the Naval Station has made him the logical man as chairman of the committee and he promises some real lively sport for all of the program. He has set out to invite athletes from the different cantonments in the South to come here to compete.

Registration in cities will be made at precinct stations and with county by the postmasters.

A female born in the United States, is an American citizen and is not required to register unless:

(b) She has married a citizen or subject of Germany who has not acquired naturalization in the United States and the marital relation has not been terminated by death or divorce.

An American woman who marries a German, takes the nationality of her husband and is legally a German woman and will remain so until the marital relation is terminated by death or divorce or her husband becomes naturalized as an American citizen. She must register.

German alien female registrants must present themselves during the time specified for registration, at the stipulated places with four photographs of themselves; they will execute the application papers for registration which will be handed them; have prints made of their thumbs and fingers, and ten days afterwards return for the official registration card. Photographs should be taken without headress of any description, except in the case of members of any religious community or order of any denomination which requires the wearing of a headress as a part of the religious habit.

The advertisement was written and placed by George W. Bauerlein, New Orleans manager of the Ferry-Hanley Advertising Company, whose home offices are in Kansas City.

The advertisement is in the form of a striking page layout containing a panorama of the new industrial Canal and sketches of the commodity warehouses, cotton warehouses, grain elevators and the Hotel Grunwald.

A committee has been appointed to see that every delegate receives a copy of the paper containing this advertisement before breakfast on the morning of June 25.

It is expected this advertisement will receive wide-spread attention as New Orleans will probably be the only city using a full page advertisement during this convention.

ALL GROCERIES TO BE CLOSED AT 7 P. M.

Practically every grocer in Algiers has signed an agreement to close his place of business at 7 p. m., every day except Saturday.

This is a patriotic move and shows a spirit of co-operation with the government on the part of the retail grocers of this town. The Fuel Administration requests the grocers to close at 7 p. m., in order to save fuel for lighting and the grocers promptly comply.

These business people deserve the patronage of the people and they should be encouraged in this effort to render a patriotic service. We hope the purchasing public will show its appreciation of the sacrifice these grocers are making by doing their shopping before the new closing time.

Following are the names of the grocers who are observing this rule. Be a patriot and patronize them:

Rev. Jno. F. Findley Tell of Russian Revolution Sunday Night

Through the alertness and efforts of Rev. C. C. Wier, the Algiers public were afforded a big treat Sunday night in being given the opportunity to hear Rev. John F. Findley lecture on what he saw while in Russia during the Revolution.

Dr. Findley's address was indeed interesting as it shows by the following excerpts from his talk:

Russia will be back in the war again. Japan is loyal to the cause of the Allies. Kerensky "sat on the fence" when he should have been working and lost out.

This is the belief of Rev. John F. Findley, Cleveland Congregationalist pastor, who did Y. M. C. A. work in Russia, and came to New Orleans Saturday together with Sir George Adam Smith under the auspices of the national committee on the Moral Aims of the War, to lecture to the New Orleans people. Rev. Mr. Findley headed the first expedition of Y. M. C. A. workers to Russia, where he underwent many hardships in connection with his work. He was in Russia at the time of the revolution and remained until he was forced to flee the country with other Americans.

"When we left America with the John R. Mott commission," said Rev. Mr. Findley, "we went direct to Russia with instructions to see Kerensky and establish the Y. M. C. A. work. Our trip to Petrograd took twelve days from Vladivostok and we made the entire journey in box cars, the fastest and only means of conveyance at that time. After obtaining the necessary permission, we established Y. M. C. A. huts along the entire 1500-mile front."

Rev. Mr. Findley described the uprising that started November 5, 1917; spoke of how the machine guns went about the streets smashing the ancient monuments, demolishing buildings, and leaving thousands dead and wounded in their wake. He described the condition that reigned for weeks as one of absolute anarchy. All officers of the army and navy were ousted, business men were declared capitalists and sentenced to be shot, all church schools were abolished, and Sunday was declared a thing of the past. This was the result of German propaganda, he declared, and dated back thirty years, when Germany first sent paid teachers to Russia to get positions with instructions to work for half of what the native Russians would work for.

"These men were required to report to Germany monthly, quarterly, semi-annually and annually. In this way Germany gained control of the carina, Sturmer, prime minister and highest officer in Russia, and in addition had control of nine generals in the Russian army. German influence became so effective that half of the ammunition manufactured in Russia fitted German guns."

When the foreign ambassador ordered all foreigners out of Russia February 22, 1918, Rev. Mr. Findley and his co-workers were forced to leave the front in a sleigh, only half a mile ahead of the advancing German cavalry.

SHOW YOUR WAR SAVING STAMP

The following is a copy of the application—Form 5A—which you will sign in making your purchases: Study the form closely so that you may be prepared, when a solicitor calls, to purchase the greatest amount of stamps consistent with your income.

ISSUING WEDDING LICENSES. It has been called to the attention of the Herald that many of our people, entering the state of matrimony go to the city for the purpose of taking out their licenses in this important matter, and while the city and Algiers are exactly the same, we believe that the preference should always be given to this side of the river, where Captain Leonard F. Gisch is always to be found either day or night, and in a very affable manner, helps the bashful young man and young lady to secure this valuable piece of paper.

Wedding licenses may be secured at the Algiers Court House from Captain Gisch, any time during the day, when he is at the office, but should parties desire to obtain licenses at other times, when the office is closed, Mr. Gisch states that it will be a pleasure for him to secure these licenses for the parties at any time. This arrangement not only saves the applicant a good deal of trouble in going to the city, and wasting a considerable amount of time, but it gives the Algiers office an additional prestige, which it should enjoy. So, now, my young man and young lady, if you desire to be married, do not go to the city to take out your marriage license. Secure them in your home town, where the knot is going to be tied. Have the entire operation done here. We, as Algierines, are looking for everything that belongs to the Algiers people, and we also believe that an Algiers wedding should have its wedding license issued from the Algiers court house.
