A CARD OF THANKS.
In deep appreciation of his untiring and devoted attention and the employment of splendid professional skill in the treatment of Mrs. Charles F. Doyle through the long period of time when she hovered all the time and death during an attack of pneumonia, Mrs. Doyle takes this opportunity of publicly expressing her unbounded gratitude and thanks to Dr. A. C. King, of Algiers, to whose medical skill and constant attention, Mrs. Doyle feels that she owes her recovery and restoration to that state of all blessings, good health.
MRS. CHARLES F. DOYLE.

To Protect Birds From Cats.
The pole supporting a martin-house, or any other birdhouse, and also the trunk of a tree in which a house is placed, should be protected by a cat guard, writes George Gladden in an article on birdhouse construction in the People's Home Journal. Barbed wire wound around the trunk of the tree, but held away from it by tying around the support or tree trunks, a number of stalks of rose bushes or any other branches with natural thorns.
