BEHRMAN AVENUE TO BE IMPROVED.

Work on improving Behrman Avenue from General Meyer Avenue back to the Outfall Drainage Canal will be begun in a short time. Arrangements have been made by the Olivier Land and Improvement Company to surface this dirt road with gravel or some other material of like nature that will give a good drive way all the way back from General Meyer Avenue. It is understood that a Shillinger Walk three foot wide would also be put down on one side of this street.

This section of Algiers is developing very rapidly and on account of the great number of new places being erected the necessity for improved roads become apparent.

The Algiers Land Company, is also shortly to make some improvements in this section. Petitions will shortly be circulated among the property owners on Nelson and Farragut Streets for the paving of these two streets from General Meyer Avenue back to the Outfall Canal with gravel to be rolled and oiled and put in first class condition. These improvements will make the Naval Station section an ideal residential place.

PLAN BIG CELEBRATION IN CITY ON LABOR DAY.

Labor is planning a big celebration here Monday, Sept. 1.

John T. Banville, who will be grand marshal of the great parade in which every craft of unionism will march, announced Saturday that a request had been sent to the Secretary of War asking that airplanes be sent here for the event.

The picnic which will follow the parade will be one of the big features of the day. There will be a game of baseball, tug of war, swimming matches in Bayou St. John, races of all kinds and other amusements.

All of the local unions will take part in the parade and picnic.

REMARKABLE COTTON CROP.

Judge Sam Levy can claim the distinction of being the only man in the South to raise a crop of cotton along the sidewalk. He has about a hundred bolls and has suffered no annoyance from weevil. This is but another demonstration of the fertility of our soil and of the well-known resourcefulness of the Judge.

PROMINENT CITIZEN DIES SUDDENLY

L. J. Peterson, Well Known Algiers Succumbs to Heart Trouble, Vestryman of Episcopal Church for Thirty Years.

Mr. Peterson was stricken by heart failure Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, falling upon the sidewalk before his home, and passing away without regaining consciousness. While not in good health for several weeks, he had appeared much better recently and his death was a severe shock to his family and his many friends.

Mr. Peterson was closely identified with many benevolent organizations and all local movements for civic betterment. A lifelong member of Mt. Olivet church, he served as vestryman for thirty years and treasurer for twenty. He was Master of Exchequer of Crescent Lodge No. 3, K. of P. for thirty years; Secretary of Sts. John Lodge No. 153, F. and A. M. for fifteen years, and a member of Orange Camp No. 8, Woodmen of the World.

From 1882 to 1888 Mr. Peterson was chief clerk of the Fourth Recorder's Court and later was deputy chief clerk of the Third City Court. In 1895 he entered the fire insurance business, representing the Liverpool & family vault at St. Bartholomew cemetery.

Mr. Peterson is survived by his wife and four children. Luella, wife of A. J. Hauser, Louis W. Peterson, Estella, wife of E. J. LeBoeuf and Gertrude, wife of Pastor Olroyd; and five grandchildren.

Many of Mr. Peterson's old Pythian friends who were also loyal to Crescent Lodge No. 3, will greatly miss from the records of the lodge, the oft-repeated sentence "Brother Peterson entered during the session." As Exchequer of Crescent Lodge, he knew the importance of his attendance and although very important business often detained him, the members of the Lodge could always feel assured that through he could not always be present at the opening of the lodge they felt content that "Brother Peterson entered during the session."

ALGIER GIRL STRUCK BY SPEEDING AUTO.

Catherine Douroux, 15, 829 Newton Street, Algiers, was struck by an automobile driven by James G. Reynolds, 23, 247 Pacific avenue, at 7:45 p. m., Saturday, while the car, so the police allege, was being driven at the rate of between 40 and 50 miles an hour. She was knocked down and dragged 150 feet and suffered a laceration of the head and shoulder and bruises about the body.

Reynolds was arrested by Captain Wheatley of the Eighth precinct police station and charged with reckless driving and running into and wounding.

Cieutat, 518 Seguin Street was awarded the first prize in the contest last week. The photograph which was taken by her father, is very attractive and is deserving of first place.

WEEDS MUST GO

Mayor Signs Proclamation as Warning.

Fines and Imprisonment.

If you have weeds prepare to cut them now. From the fatness of city hall the word has gone forth, and all who don't comply within 24 hours will be haled before the judgment bar and fined from $1 to $25, or in the case of chronic offenders, sentenced to 10 to 30 days in jail.

A weed, according to the city ordinance in question, is a rank and offensive growth two feet or more high found in vacant lots or on sidewalks.

The city has the right to cut all such growth and charge it to the owners of the property, holding a lien on the same until the obligation is met; but the weed growth has been so tremendous because of the rains that the city hasn't the manpower to tackle the job. Wherefore Joseph A. Gleason, head of the department of public works, sent 24-hour notices Saturday to hundreds of property owners, telling them it was up to them and they'd better get busy within 24 hours, or else.

"Weeds not only look unsightly," said Mayor Behrman, "but they play the deuce with hay fever."

So this time next week New Orleans will be a weedless city. It will be harvesting a crop of fines that will help plug the hole left by the cancellation of liquor licenses.

Mayor's Proclamation follows: Scientific investigation having demonstrated that hay fever is due to pollen of plants, the majority of which are worthless weeds, the cutting of these weeds at this time, will greatly reduce the amount of pollen in the air, and prevent, or, at least, relieve the suffering of hundreds of persons in New Orleans subject to hay fever. New Orleans is already prominent for its activities and achievements in matters pertaining to health and sanitation, and our citizens, I am sure, will cheerfully and promptly cooperate with local authorities—the Department of Public Properties and the City Board of Health—as well as the American Hay Fever Association, in a proper enforcement of the ordinances providing for the extermination of weeds which cause hay fever.

Now, in order to be of material assistance in the proposed weed-cutting campaign, and as an endorsement of the admirable efforts being made by the American Hay Fever Association, in this direction, I, Martin Behrman, Mayor of New Orleans, do hereby urge all citizens to assist in the weed-cutting campaign, the results of which must obviously prove so beneficial to a large percentage of our population.

Given under my hand and the seal of the city of New Orleans this 16th day of August, 1919.

Martin Behrman, Mayor.

LAUNCHING AND PICNIC AT ALGIER NAVAL STATION.

The Naval Station Was a Playground Instead of a Workshop Saturday From 1 to 11 p. m.

Employees and their families and guests to the number of 4,000 were present; the crowds coming early and staying late. Decidedly it was a full day, with something doing from the time of the launching of the tug No. 50, the twentieth vessel built at the station since the declaration of war.

Before the tug slipped into the water, brief addresses were made by commodore V. S. Nelson, retiring commandant of the station, and Mayor Behrman. Miss Valentine Nelson, daughter of Commodore Nelson broke a bottle containing Mississippi river water on the bow as the tug glided down the ways and into the water.

Praised Mayor's Co-Operation. In his address to the large crowds, Commodore Nelson paid a tribute to Mayor Behrman, declaring the mayor's co-operation with the naval authorities here was splendid, and the yard owed much of its success to him.

The commodore also dwelt upon the high patriotism of the officers and men, enlisted and civilians alike, who worked at the station. "As good ships were built at this station as anywhere in the country," said Commodore Nelson.

After being introduced by Commodore Nelson, and greeted with glowing terms of the exceptional executive ability shown by Commodore Nelson, and his skillful management of the station.

"Commodore Nelson," said Mayor Behrman, "spoke of my co-operation with the naval authorities. Co-operation, of course, works both ways. Never did Commodore Nelson or his assistants hesitate to co-operate with the city government, and I am sure neither of us regret it. Our relations always were most cordial."

Following the launching the crowd adjourned for the flag-hung picnic grounds for a basket supper and athletic games. A baseball game at 3 p. m., between the clerks and draftsman of shop four and building eleven under the direction of A. Max, and W. Wattigny umpired by N. Nolan preceded the later athletic program.

Concert music by the Shriners' band alternated with old fashioned races for children, boys and girls, fat men, and the amusing three-leg race with cash prizes to stir the contestants on.

A tug-of-war between teams composed of ten men from each of the various shops was a highly popular feature, with $10 prizes for the winning teams, which provided funds for the refreshment demanded by the dancing later on.

Masculine taste for sports was satisfied with a 4-round bout between J. Stall of Shop 6 and W. Imbaut of Shop 4; a second 4-round bout was fought out by W. Stevens of Shop 4, and Young Cheney of the U. S. Navy. Adam Smith was referee.

Dancing began at 8 p. m., on an outside platform on the picnic grounds and in the K. C. Hut with two jazz bands to dispense dancing strains until "Home Sweet Home" at 11 p. m.

Lieut. W. A. Nightingale, chairman of the executive committee was tireless in his efforts to make the affair such a success.

Other members who worked hard on the executive committee were: R. Frenzel, John Lusk, R. Brydon, Jr., J. E. Dickey, F. Jurgens, A. Max, B. W. Dupuy, W. Wallace J. M. Parbold Wm. Scully, N. M. Tate, A. Sutphen, D. M. Gibbs, P. Morel.

Comander Walsh, R. Frenzel, and A. J. Sanarans formed a general committee and Lieut. J. R. Cruthriss and O. J. Bowen the financial committee.

DARING ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.

Last Thursday night, while Mrs. Marcus Fagean was absent from her home, 534 Olivier St., the house was entered by an unidentified man, but owing to the prompt action of Mr. Hildebrand, Mr. Spahr and other neighbors he secured nothing.

Mrs. Fagean, whose husband is in service in France, lives alone with her baby, and was seen leaving in the early evening by Mrs. Hildebrand and her daughter, who were upon the porch of their home across the street. Between 8:30 and 9 o'clock Miss Hildebrand's attention was attracted by a light showing from the dining room windows of Mrs. Fagean's home, and Mr. Hildebrand and Mr. Spahr went across to investigate.

Mr. Spahr, who occupies the other half of the house, was able to enter by using his own key. They discovered no one until they reached the bathroom where the door was held against them.

Mr. Spahr was unarmed and turned the key to hold the intruder prisoner until he could secure his revolver, but, owing to the pressure from within, the door was not securely fastened and the man escaped through the back door, while Mr. Hildebrand was on guard at the front.

There was no evidence of the house being broken into from the outside and it is supposed the man was concealed in the house before Mrs. Fagean left.

This is the second time Mrs. Fagean has been disturbed, a negro being discovered on the back porch about a month ago.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD FOR A NAME.

J. Henry Vezien and Raymond S. Nelson Our Latest New Business Firm Will Be Located at No. 539 Patterson Street.

Raymond S. Nelson and J. Henry Vezien are both too well known in our town to require much of an introduction. Mr. Vezien has been in business for a good many years and he has hundred of friends who are anxious to welcome him in his new enterprise. Raymond S. Nelson, while having never been in business in Algiers was associated for several years with one of the big motion picture corporations having been manager of several large houses in the western cities. He was obliged to give up his position to enlist in the navy, and now that he has served Uncle Sam he is ready to embark in the commercial life here in this district.

Raymond Nelson is also well known here and has hundred of friends who will welcome him also in the new enterprise.

The new firm wants a name for its establishment and in order to get a suitable name they are going to give away twenty-five dollars in gold to the person who sends in a suggestion for a suitable name for their establishment and their suggestion is selected.

The new firm is going to open in September in fact they are already installing the machinery for one of the largest French dry cleaning, renovating, dyeing and pressing establishments in the city of New Orleans. They have installed five or six of the very latest machines that are obtainable and others are on their way.

The business place at No. 539 Patterson Street is now being remodeled for the purpose of taking care of the large business which the boys expect to do. They have already ordered a truck and they are going after your business to give you a kind of service that will bring you back to them.

The new firm has brought from New York an expert cleaning, dyeing manager who will also look after the more important details connected with the business.

If you think you can give this new firm a name? Send in your name and address together with your suggestion on the coupon found on the advertisement in this issue of the paper.
