LOCAL MEN ORGANIZE BIG COMPANY

ONEIDA SALES COMPANY WILL HAVE HEADQUARTERS IN THE CITY AND FACTORY IN ALGIERS.

Local Man Will Be President of Company.

The Oneida Sales Company is now in process of organization, in fact, they have gone further than that; they have already established their plant in Algiers, formerly occupied by the Algiers Sash Factory, where they will build truck bodies for the Oneida truck, which will be handled here in large quantities.

The Oneida Sales Company has already established a salesroom in the city, where they have on display one, two and three ton trucks for immediate delivery. One of the entrances of the city headquarters is at 741 St. Charles street and the salesroom runs through the block to 740 Carondelet street, having openings on both streets.

The company has already on hand many trucks and the establishment of their factory in Algiers for the purpose of building bodies is well under way.

We understand that Mr. Mark Morse will be in charge of the Algiers factory, where seven or eight individual motors have already been installed, concrete floorings put in throughout the entire building, and they will be ready within a short time to construct the bodies for these trucks.

We have it from very reliable sources that Mr. William H. Ward, of the Algiers Saw Mill, will be president of the Oneida Sales Company, and Mr. Peter S. Lawton and Geo. Peterson will be connected with the concern.

Mr. Ward has been one of our thrifty and valuable citizens on our side of the river. He has developed a small industry which he took over after the death of Mr. Hotard to one of the largest mills in the South, including its branches, on the city side of the river.

The establishment of the factory for making truck bodies on this side of the river is quite an added industry for our town and we congratulate the Algiers incorporators for bringing this industry to our side of the river.

The "Oneida Truck" is one of the well known trucks produced in the country today. The chassis and engines are manufactured and assembled in Minnesota and are shipped here, where they are put together and given their needed bodies for the purpose for which they are sold.

Subsequently Dr. Robin made an affidavit charging B. Caruso, Crescent Dairy, 140 Delaronde street, with selling adulterated milk, two samples showing an addition of 30 per cent of water, it was alleged.

Caruso was one of the dairymen whose names were given by Manale.

this best when children attend school regularly.

Parents, take advantage of the opportunity offered you. Send your children to school and keep them there. They will be trained to think for themselves. They will develop into a people who look out upon life in a wholesome, open-minded way, and who realize that where efforts of energy and earnest endeavor prevail, assured success follows.

NEW GARAGE DOING BIG BUSINESS

R. A. HARPER, PROPRIETOR, BECOMES LOCAL AGENT OF "OVERLAND CAR."

One of the latest commercial additions to our town is the garage and machine shop lately established by Mr. R. A. Harper, in Delaronde street, between the river and Seguin street.

Mr. Harper not only has established an up-to-date machine shop, with electrical motor for power, but he has also equipped the place as a first-class garage, and has recently been appointed the local agent for the west side, including McDonoghville, Gretna, Harvey, Amesville, etc., for the Overland car.

Mr. Harper is one of our youngest business men and he is a genuine little hustler and it goes without saying that we will see many Overland cars operating on this side of the river, due to his emphatic energy.

One of the principal features in the sale of the "Overland car" that Mr. Harper is making a big talk about is the fact that they cost only a hundred dollars more than a Ford.

This is a big talking point that Mr. Harper makes a specialty of when showing his new car.

NEW TROLLEY SERVICE BECOMES EFFECTIVE

More Cars Are Operated on Peters, Clio and Louisiana Lines

Patrons of three New Orleans street car lines on Sunday were enjoying improved service, as promised by the traction company, and residents along another line were assured of better service by December 1 by the New Orleans Railway and Light Company.

The Clio, Peters avenue and Louisiana avenue lines are the routes upon which the new schedule was made effective, while the South Claiborne line, it is promised, will undergo similarly improved service on the first of the new month. No changes in service on the Carondelet line is contemplated, the traction company announced.

Under the new schedule, six double truck cars have replaced the four single truck cars which until Sunday operated on the Louisiana line, providing 5 instead of 6-minute regular service, and 3 instead of 4 1-2-minute, during rush hours. Service on the Clio line now ends at Magnolia and Napoleon avenues, with transfers from this line being issued up to the Carondelet line, good at Freret and Napoleon. The Peters avenue line change is limited to during rush hours only, where three, instead of three and a half-minute service, now prevails. A regular 10-minute schedule with 5-minute rush hour service is promised for the South Claiborne line by December 1.

It was stated Sunday that on last Friday 488 cars were in operation, an unusually large number for this time of the year.

ROSAMANO-BAGGESE VERDICT IS RETURNED.

Joseph Rosamano, teller of the Algiers branch of the Interstate Trust and Banking Company, and his brother-in-law, A. J. Baggesse, who confessed to the robbery of the bank on June 2, were found guilty in Judge Landry's section of the Criminal District Court Tuesday night.

The jury recommended leniency. Sentence will be passed next week.

The defendants made no attempt to deny their guilt, Attorney Charles Byrne fighting entirely for a suspended sentence for the pair, due to their youth and previous good reputation. District Attorney Luzenberg opposed the suspended sentence, saying it would have a bad effect for others who might contemplate committing a crime.

Mr. Luzenberg gained conviction upon the confession in which Rosamano told how he had planned the robbery with Baggesse, and how Baggesse had called at the bank in broad daylight and carried off $16,325. He also told how Baggesse shut him in the vault, and how a few minutes later he was released by Lee Hollman, runner for the bank. Neither of the defendants was placed on the stand, but a number of character witnesses were introduced in their behalf.

Attorney Byrne, in his plea for a suspended sentence, told how the two young men had made a confession of the theft, and how they returned $14,000 of the money taken.

Registration substations in every ward in the city were closed Tuesday. The main office in the City Hall will be open until December 20—thirty days before the election. The substations were for the convenience of the voters and those who have not registered now will have to go to the City Hall.

If any one has not registered before the day of the closing of the main office he will not be able to vote in the primary election in January. The law says the registration office must be closed thirty days before an election.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families only.
