JUNIOR RED CROSS WORKING AT HOME

Production of Sound American Citizenship the First Aim, Says Dr. Farrand.

On the badge of every member of the Junior Red Cross are the words "I Serve." That tells the story of the school children's branch of the American Red Cross and its efforts to bring happiness to children throughout the world.

Realizing that the time never was so propitious as right now for teaching the highest ideals of citizenship, the entire present program of the Junior Red Cross has been framed under the very inclusive phrase, "Training for Citizenship Through Service" for others. Since the Junior Red Cross is the agency through which the American Red Cross reaches the schoolboys and the schoolgirls, all its activities are designed to come within the regular school program, and without creating new courses or increasing the number of studies to lend its aid in vitalizing the work of the schools.

"The thing that is needed," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee, "is not a perpetuation of the Junior Red Cross, but the training and breeding of sound American citizenship inspired by the true, fundamental ideals of sound democracy. One of the great conceptions in making the Red Cross a contributor to better citizenship in our American democracy is the realization that after all the sole hope of any nation is with the children of the country."

The plan of organization of the Junior Red Cross makes the school—public, parochial and private—the unit, not the individual pupils. Mutual service, helpful community work such as clean-up campaigns, care of the sick, promotion of health regulations, participation in civic and patriotic movements—all these creative agencies designed to translate into life and action the regular school program are parts of the machinery which the Junior Red Cross places at the disposal of the school authorities.

Graded study courses giving practical methods of civic training, supplemented by pamphlets and helpful suggestions, are supplied to the local schools by the Junior Red Cross. An elaborate plan for promoting an interchange of correspondence between children in different sections of the United States as well as with children in foreign lands is being devised and will take a prominent place in the established classroom program.

In promoting the general cause of child welfare, Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick, first aid, and dieting may be established in all Junior Red Cross Auxiliaries.

The ideals and the objective of the Junior Red Cross are embodied in the pledge of service which the pupil takes when he signs the membership roll and pins on his coat the Junior's badge. The pledge which binds together service and citizenship reads:

"We will seek in all ways to live up to the ideals of the Junior Red Cross and devote ourselves to its service.
 "We will strive never to bring discredit to this, our country, by any unworthy act.
 "We will reverse and obey our country's laws and do our best to inspire a like reverence and obedience in those about us.
 "We will endeavor in all these ways, as good citizens, to transmit America greater, better and more beautiful than she was transmitted to us."

At the foundation of this school program of the Junior Red Cross is a great love for America's children.

RUGS MADE TO APPEAR OLD

Ingenious Method by Which "Genuine Antiques" Are Furnished to Supply the Demand.

How "genuine antique rugs" are manufactured and prepared for European and American markets is told by an American who visited Bagdad.

The shopping streets seem like tunnels. They are arched overhead with brick to keep out the heat; thus they run, like subways, up and down the bazaar quarter. Through those long, stifling, faintly lighted tunnels throngs the eternal crowd of men, mules and camels.

Often one will see a fine rug lying flat in the fifth of a narrow street, ground beneath the tramp of men and beasts, but there is method in this. Foreigners make oriental rugs, bright and new, in Persia, and sell them through Bagdad. Since an "old rug" is worth more, wily brokers have hit on this way to make a new rug look old.

BORNE-WALDRON.

A quiet but none the less beautiful wedding was solemnized on Monday, Aug. 23, at 5:30 p. m., at the Presbytery of the Church of the Holy Name of Mary, by Rev. A. J. Petit, the contracting parties being James Edgar Waldron and Cecilia Louise Borne. The bride, a sweet, lovable girl, is the daughter of the late Paul Borne and a resident of Algiers for the past fourteen years. The groom is from Williston, Fla. He is employed by the U. S. Shipping Board, on one of their steamers plying between Galveston and European ports.

Mr. Waldron had as his best man Mr. Geo. Hanna, while the bride was attended by Miss Billie Waldron, a sister of the groom, who came from Williston, Fla., to attend the wedding.

The bride wore a flesh colored georgette over silk, with hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in white georgette with a white taffeta hat. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

SCHRODER-McINTOSH.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Mae Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schroder, and Mr. James McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McIntosh, was celebrated on Wednesday, August the eighteenth at 6:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers for the occasion and during the impressive ceremony the bridal couple stood under an arch, composed of ferns, ribbon, etc.

To the strains of the wedding march, the bride entered, accompanied by her father, who gave her away at the arch. She was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Robt. Isbell, of McDonoghville. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gladys Schroder. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Clifford of Mt. Olivet Church.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe, trimmed with Irish point lace. Her veil of illusion was draped in Russian effect and caught with a diadem of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Robt. Talbot, a sister of the bride.

During the signing of the register, Mr. Emmet Brown, a cousin of the bride, sang very sweetly, Ave Maria.

After the ceremony, a reception was held, limited to the relatives and intimate friends of the family. The young couple left the same night for the Gulf Coast to spend their honeymoon. They were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh will reside at the home of the groom's parents, 506 Franklin St., McDonoghville.

BALDWIN-BORNE.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Borne, the charming young daughter of Mrs. B. W. Borne to Mr. George "Dick" Baldwin of New York, was celebrated Tuesday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the presbytery of the Holy Name of Mary, Rev. H. Hayes officiating.

The bride was prettily gowned in white crepe de chine, trimmed in beads. She wore a white hat and carried bride's roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Oro Boyle, a cousin of the bride was dressed in blue georgette, heavily beaded. She wore a hat to match and carried pink roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. C. A. White.

After the ceremony, a reception for the family and the bridal party was held at the home of the bride's mother in Opelousas Ave. The young couple who were the recipients of many handsome presents, left the same evening for New York, where they will spend three months.

Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh and little daughter, Lillian Mae, of Boyce, La., were their nuptials and will remain a month.

POLITICS

Governor Parker announced at a small but noisy O. D. A. meeting in Algiers that he is preparing another statement about his record on labor matters. He promises to make this new matter public in the near future.

This announcement is a confession that his weak evasion and side-stepping when he spoke in the Third Ward is as unsatisfactory to him as a political speech as it was to the laboring men as an explanation of his denunciations and his plans to enact legislation or adopt constitutional amendments that the workers do not like.

It is to be hoped that the Governor will now come across with something detailed, specific and definite so that we all may know where he thinks he stands on labor questions. We know all he has done so far has displeased organized labor.

FIRST AID TRAINING TO MEN AND WOMEN

American Red Cross Is Teaching Hundreds of Thousands Life-Saving Methods.

The purpose of instruction in First Aid to the injured offered by the American Red Cross is to train men and women to administer First Aid treatment promptly and intelligently when emergencies demand it. First Aid treatment is not intended to take the place of a physician's service. A surgeon should always be summoned as a precautionary measure where there is an injury of any consequence, but when one cannot be secured a few minutes' delay may mean a fatality. In such a case a person trained in First Aid is invaluable not only to the individual, but through him to the community in which he lives.

There is perhaps no way of ascertaining the number of deaths or serious disabilities which result from lack of proper safeguards or prompt emergency treatment. It is safe to assert they number thousands daily. There can be no doubt that the application of First Aid methods to each case would immeasurably lighten the country's toll of suffering and death.

The dissemination of First Aid training and information has already produced a far-reaching and beneficial influence in the prevention of accidents on railroads, in mines and in great industrial concerns.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

Red Cross First Aid work includes (1) the formation and conduct, through Red Cross chapters, of classes for instruction in accident prevention and First Aid to the injured among men and women in all communities and in every industry; (2) the introduction of courses of instruction in high schools and colleges.

The Red Cross is prepared to supply First Aid books and equipment at reasonable prices.

Every person in this country able to do so should, in his own interest, receive Red Cross First Aid instruction. Information about the course and instruction classes may be had at the nearest chapter headquarters.

American Red Cross Roll Call.

The Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held this year on Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 25, inclusive. During this period the men and women of the United States will pay their annual dues and renew their membership.

EXPERT DYER IS HERE.

O. Dorsey Secures Expert in This Line—Will Dye Clothes and Other Fabrics in as Many as 15 to 20 Shades.

O. Dorsey, the pioneer cleaner and dyer of Ladies' and Men's Clothing in Algiers, is now prepared to dye fabrics and clothing of all kinds in any shade or color desired. Dorsey is able to do these big things by having lately secured the services of the expert, Richards, who has been in charge of one of the best cleaning and dyeing establishments in this city where he has held a continuous position for over fifteen years.

The expert, Richards, knows his business of handling the very fine hingeries of ladies' and children's dresses. He is a finished expert and by his employment Dorsey has elevated his business to a standard, the equal of any in the city of New Orleans. Mr. Dorsey states that all cleaning and dyeing going out from his place will positively be guaranteed as to color and quality of work.

The well known place of O. Dorsey is located at 711 Tchou street, where prompt attention is paid to personal calls and if you will phone the establishment, Algiers 9127 prompt response will come from such calls.

Don't send your work to the city when it may be done on this side of the river equally well if not better in some instances. You not only save your car fare and ferriage, but the great amount of time consumed in going to the city. O. Dorsey's prices are not any higher than the prices asked for good work done by the best establishments in the city of New Orleans.

India Rubber Strangely Named.

Few articles seem more strangely named than India rubber. It gets its name from the first use to which it was put—that of erasing pencil marks by rubbing. Nor should it be associated with India. The tree was first mentioned by an explorer among the Mexican Indians three centuries ago.

Curious Sea Charts.

A sea chart made of sticks and shells forms one of the curious exhibits to be seen in the South Sea Island hall of the American Museum of Natural History, New York. They were formerly used as guides by the skillful and daring navigators of the Marshall Islands.
