VOL XXVIII JANUARY 13, 1921 No. 36

THE CITY HALL SQUABBLE.

About this time, immediately following a city election, we find politicians discussing peace within the ranks of the successful party.

Parties are made up of individuals, and the leadership of parties is necessarily in the hands of men of strong personality—otherwise they would not be leaders.

Mayor McShane will not allow those small differences to interfere with an economic government which we believe he is competent to give our people.

All newspaper men know that political gossip, political quarrels and misunderstanding make the best kind of reading, and they "spread it on" when the opportunity presents itself.

GETTING THE BOOTLEGGERS.

Beating the bootleggers seems to have developed into one of the ways some men take of getting something for nothing.

There will not be a great deal of sympathy for any misfortunes that befall these lawbreakers, and the general public will smile and give a chuckle when they hear that they are getting theirs.

Possibly there will always be bootlegging, but those who have observed matters closely say that the wave of law violation has passed the crest and is receding.

SMALL TOWN NEIGHBORS.

When most of the people lived in the small towns, neighbors meant our near friends—those with whom we came in contact day by day and the friendships built in that way lasted throughout the years, no matter how we have been scattered.

We move into a "neighborhood," which still retains the title borrowed from the country habit, but we may live in the same apartment house, the same flat or the same "hotel," for years and never know the name of the person occupying the apartment next to us.

The city has many advantages. The conveniences of living are vastly improved over the country as many of us knew it when in childhood, but the loss of the friendly feeling for our fellow man is a loss that is hard to repair.

This Season's Tasteful Coats

TAKING the coats of this season altogether, they are tastefully designed and it is not a hard matter to make a good selection among them.

Another elegant model relies on fine tailoring and embroidery to give it tone; for good material is taken for granted in coats.

Either of these coats is as handsome a garment as any one could wish and they are altogether different. In making a selection the thing is to suit the coat to the wearer.

GILKY'S DIARY. Friday—enjoyed myself while in school today. Listening to a class witch was reciting algebra to are teacher. It is a funny thing to study.

Monday—pa & ma including me went to a indoor fare witch they had raffelling & wheels of forchun and etc. Mr. Gillem had a hole otomobel load of stuff he had win to take home.

If they continue to rise in price potatoes soon may appear in tissue paper kimonos.

And then, along came the price of potatoes to add to the consumer's peck of trouble.

Overalls have just reached Paris. Yet that's supposed to be the town that sets the fashions.

It is remarkable how "prominent" a person has been the moment he or she gets into trouble.

It costs a lot to live in America, but not so much as merely to exist in less favored regions.

In attempting to lift the cup this time, Mr. Lipton will notice that it is a spoonful or two lighter.

It should be possible to make taxes just, but it is not likely that they will ever be made popular.

One thing which appears clearly in the dispatches from Russia is that somebody is an awful liar.

This is good weather in which to cultivate mental coolness and keep down the bodily temperature.

Sir Thomas Lipton must have written the original of "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

In these days of high wages the warning against accepting suspicious $20 notes nearly affects the working-man.

Vassar conferred degrees on 256 young women. Many of them, no doubt, will also achieve the degree of MA.

A Danish exile kept out of sight in the United States for 47 years, and sugar seems to be going after his record.

Bolshevism has been given a fair trial, but from all accounts it is not making good even in the house of its friends.

The weather bureau persists in predicting "squalls," probably as a result of too much reading of the political news.

Don't let the price lead you to believe that the motor-car and dog in the clothing advertisement go with the suit.

As a substitute for an ablebodied back to the farm movement the window box garden leaves much to be desired.

Farmers' wealth is computed like that of the dentists. The money they make depends on the number of achers they work on.

Agitation is rife in the West for a six-hour day—which would hardly give sufficient leisure to denounce resulting advance in prices.

The lord know what he was doing when he fashioned woman's elbows so they couldn't be seen by the men she walked with or met.

What's become of the good old word "earnings"? Men are "getting" or "making" so much a day, but no one speaks of "earning" anything.

Married men who are kicking on what is required to run a house ought to take the contract and see if they could reduce the expense.

The sugar board's statistician figures that war control saved the American people $1,500,000,000. They have since been handing it back.

Some 100,000 parcel post packages from America are lying around France undelivered. One of the things they don't do any better in France?

For an example of the true spirit of American independence, our choice is the schoolboy who meets his teacher on the street during vacation.

In spite of all the reports of inflation, at times we wonder if the paper shortage isn't having a tendency to make federal reserve notes scarce.

The unearthing of laws believed to have been in existence before 2100 B. C. aids greatly one's research into how long there have been lobbyists.

In Hungary the minister of justice suggests that profiteers should be lashed across their bare feet. This ought to throw terror into their soles.

Don't forget this: The government can not do for you those things that can be accomplished only through hard work. Work is your part of it.

We read that "the lettuce should not be eaten when served with salad, as it is intended only as a garnish." What's the matter? Does the salad poison the lettuce?

Cheap Printing

When a printer starts to selling printing CHEAP some one is going to lose. You will be the loser, because you are going to get CHEAP printing.

Good printing executed by good printers is priced according to cost. A good printer when he sells you good printing, is not going to make you a so-called CHEAP price.

We cater to buyers of good printing.
