The Wonders of America
By T. T. MAXEY

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.
This gigantic shaft, unique, imposing, dignified, yet simple to the extreme, is a most fitting and suitable memorial to the Father of Our Country. It occupies a site near the River Pelican, selected by the man whom it honors, in 1783.

The cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1848, and the last stone set on December 6, 1854. It was dedicated on February 21, 1855. The proportions of this mammoth obelisk are colossal. The foundation goes down 38 feet and is 65 feet square. The walls are 15 feet thick at the base, 1 1/2 feet thick at the top and taper one-fourth of an inch to the top. The cap stone weighs 3,300 pounds. It is 55 feet high and is said to be the highest monument in the world. The white marble used in its construction came from the quarries of Marbre. It is claimed that there is room enough in the interior to house an army of 12,000 men. The elevator to the top contains approximately 100 steps. An elevator makes the top easy to reach, so that all visitors may see and enjoy the magnificent view of the national capital, its history surroundings and the romantically beautiful river the man it honors. The view is visible in the clear day, a prominent peak, Sugar Hill, in the Blue Ridge mountains, may be seen to the northwest, in the distance.

O. K. STORAGE AND TRANSFER COMPANY

When a business concern wins success in a business way it is ample evidence that its business methods are progressive, that the management is honorable and upright, and that they give all patrons the best of service. The above principles are especially true in regard to the O. K. Storage and Transfer Co., New Orleans and Memphis, and whose New Orleans place of business is located at 331 Decatur street.

The O. K. Storage and Transfer Company started actively in business in New Orleans last February 1st, 1920, and the year that has now just closed with them has been a very successful one. From the inception of their business, business men and people generally soon learned that the motto of the company—"We Know How,"—was correctly implied, and that when this firm was employed to do their work that service, carefulness and promptness were the watchwords.

Every detail of the business of storage, moving, packing and shipping is handled by the O. K. Their moving vans are quickly on the job, the workmen are painstaking and careful, and customers are assured satisfactory service. Their warehouses for the storing of furniture, etc., are modern and up-to-date and complete, and the facilities for moving, packing or shipping is also complete in every detail. Call phone Main 1521 for the "We Know How" service of the O. K. Storage and Transfer Co., 331 Decatur street.

Methodist Church Notes

Rev. C. C. Weir, Pastor, Residence 236 Oliver St. Phone Algiers 138.

Last Sunday was another day of well attended services. At the night service, some were absent who were expected and still we had one of our largest night congregations. There were only a few vacant seats. The pastor's subject was: "Is Discipleship worth the Price." The text was, Luke 18:29-30; "And He Said Unto Them, Verily I Say unto You, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the Kingdom of God's sake; Who Shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting." The question was largely discussed from the experience of men of the past.

All those who had paid the price without a single exception were satisfied with the price and those who had been unwilling to pay the price went away sorrowfully because they loved the things of this world better than God's salvation.

Miss Heloise Hebert rendered a beautiful piano solo; Dr. Fay and Julia Cayard sang a very much appreciated duet. At the morning hour, the congregation enjoyed a violin solo by Miss Orrie Summers. We missed our organist, Miss Roberta Harkesbring, who was sick, but appreciate the playing of Mrs. T. P. Bell, the assistant organist, who played at both services.

HOW WRIGLEY'S $30 NETTED MILLIONS

If you knew a way to make a dozen million out of that $30 in your pocketbook, you would be interested, wouldn't you?

William Wrigley, Jr., the multi-millionaire Chicago chewing gum man, turned the trick. He did it with newspaper advertising. He started in Chicago about 30 years ago with a capital of $30 and a bigger asset, namely, the belief that people would buy a good article if you let them know you had it for sale. He says, "There is no use having goods for sale unless you let people know about it," and that "the newspaper is the quick way to let people know."

and we trust they will again favor us with their presence. The Bible contest seemed to be as popular as ever and perhaps we will continue it again.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The service Sunday evening was led by Roland Cayard, the subject being, "Thy Kingdom Come in our Homes."

The tickets for the S. M. U. Glee Club were distributed after church, two to each leaguer. We trust by next Sunday if they are not already sold, our church friends will help us by taking one or two from us. The Glee Club is composed of twenty-four young men.

Union League Tuesday was held at the Second Methodist Church and their league received the attendance banner.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

I would not if I could repeat
A life which still is good and sweet;
I keep in age, as in my prime,
Not uncheerful step with time,
And grateful for all blessing sent,
I go the common way, content
To make no new experiment.
—J. G. Whittier.

HAVE YOU A FIRELESS COOKER?

Any housekeeper in country or city cannot afford to be without a cooker. The patented ones made to hold the heat for roasting and baking are of course the best, but one may make one from a box, a candy pall or an old trunk. The outside cover should be tight and the packing material, any packable nonconducting material, like paper, excelsior, cork, sawdust or even hay. In these days of economy a bale of hay was placed in the woodshed of one country woman, she cut out a place for a good-sized utensil with a tight cover, made a cushion of hay and used that home-made cooker all the season, then the cow ate it. Surely this is a good type of economy.

If a box or pall is to be used, pack the lining firmly around the utensil to be used. One which is tapering toward the bottom removes better from the well. Make a collar of cardboard to fit the top and leave space to slip the pall in and out easily. For a cushion use any of the above material. If the well or pocket to hold the pall is lined with asbestos paper it will save heat.

Cereal cooked in a fireless if one has soapstones to put into the cooker or if not set into a dish containing boiling water, will be cooked much better, tastes better and is much more wholesome than the twenty minutes to a half hour usually given such dishes on the stove. Get the cereal cooking at night and when boiling hot put into the cooker. In the morning just reheating is all that is needed to serve a hot well-cooked food. The soapstone dish which may be used in the fireproof cookers increases the heat as it can be heated hotter than the boiling point and when shut up in the cooker retains heat six to eight hours. Let it get very hot but not red, for fear of cracking. Place one at the bottom and one on top of a dish of meat and one may bake any roast to a turn. Breads, pies, puddings and cakes may be baked equally well.
