SHRINES BEYOND ALL PRICE

United States Has Many That Are Inexpressibly Dear to the Hearts of the People.

This old Plymouth church belongs to the noble dead, to the living only as trustees, but by way of pre-eminence it belongs to the generations that are as yet unborn. Civilization journeys forward partly on books, partly upon the memorial days of great men, who are builders of the state, upon organized laws and finally upon historic buildings.

No one can fully value the influence of the Temple in Jerusalem upon the Hebrew state. In like manner the Parthenon was like an invisible teacher, whose strong hands shaped the plastic soul of the Greek race. There are half a dozen buildings in Great Britain, including Westminster abbey and St. Paul's, and to take those buildings out of England's life would be like taking the intellect out of man's body.

The people of the United States have but a brief history, only three centuries, but they have Independence hall, Mount Vernon, that shaft at Gettysburg, Faneuil hall, Old South church, Lincoln's house and shrine at Springfield, and old Plymouth church, priceless shrines for the American people.—Newell Dwight Hillis.

EMBROIDERED SUITS

Although embroidered suits have many rivals with less decoration, they are well represented in spring displays. Embroideries are in the color of the suit, usually, with metal threads introduced among them.

Lovely Furbelows of Ribbon

EVERY year we are exhorted to begin our Christmas shopping early and every year we make ourselves a solemn promise to follow this nerve-sparing advice. And now along comes a flock of lovely accessories made of ribbons in anticipation of the holidays. It is evident that ribbons, which have always contributed gaiety and other delightful favors to apparel, are about to do more than ever before. The new things made of them include familiar articles in new interpretations and a few luxuries that are novelties. The accessories shown here are selected because they are practical as well as pretty and every dainty woman takes such satisfaction in their ownership that they make perfect gifts, especially as they represent the work of their donors.

Lingerie bows of narrow and of wider satin ribbon made in light tints are provided with little gilt safety pins, sewed to the back of the bow, so that it can be easily taken off and put on, or changed from one garment to another. Two of these bows appear at the top of the group pictured, one of very narrow ribbon and one of ribbon about three inches wide. Wide and narrow ribbons are used on the breakfast cap of silk lace and for making the camisoles. For these very wide and soft satin ribbons are used, with narrow widths and lace furnishing the trimming. On the lace-edged camisole three tiny sachet bows appear suspended from bows of narrow ribbons. Two rosettes and an elastic girdle finish up this small collection of furbelows. Flat elastic has satin ribbon shirred to form a frill at each side and sewed over it, with a rosette made of the ribbon, blossoming out at each side. It is a delight to work on these easily made and lovely gifts.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brooks entertained at a farewell reception on Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Brooks of Philadelphia, who have been their guests for several weeks.

The house was prettily decorated in pink and white. Pictures of the family were taken individually and in groups. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Talbot and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. De Laup and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Boylan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Talbot and family, Mrs. obt. Talbot, Jr., and son, Mrs. H. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Elster Brooks and daughter, and Messrs Seldon and Wm. Talbot.

POINTS OUT HUSBAND'S DUIT

Writer insists No Man May Stand in the Light of His Wife's Domestic Ambitions.

"Puzzled husband" writes us that he is sorely tried by his wife's ambition to bake the family bread, and to other things. His domestic affection and spirit of chivalry will not permit him to tell his wife the truth—that the bread is almost as heavy as a paving stone and quite as indigestible. So he goes to work every morning with a heavy heart and an even heavier stomach, and is bedeviled with gripes and abdominal pains all day, Greene M. Farley writes in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Not only that, but his wife is a constant reader of domestic science departments and she uses him as an experiment station. This last week, he says, he had biscuits that would do for sinkers on a fish line and an angel cake that could not be differentiated from old putty. The heartrending feature is that she asks him with a bright smile how he likes it all, and he cannot find it in his breast to tell the truth about it; so he lies frankly and wholeheartedly.

All this is getting on his nerves and on his stomach and on his conscience. In the course of a little time he feels his life insurance is going to be due.

Should he tell her the truth, or should he suffer in silence and let her go ahead and collect the life insurance?

If life is worth anything to him he might conclude to tell her the truth and let her go ahead and procure her divorce. She might find a second husband with a cast-iron digestive apparatus and the present husband ought not to stand in the way of his wife's career as a domestic scientist.

Does as He's Told.

"There's one thing I'll say for him." "What's that?" "He has the courage of his convictions once his wife has made up his mind for him."

"YOU'RE FIRED," said the editor.

"UNLESS YOU can dig up.

A LIVE story today."

SO THE cub reporter,

DISAPPEARED FOR hours.

BUT WHEN he recovered,

FROM HIS trance, he had,

A STORY—here it is.

OUR DEPUTY constable,

WAS WAKENED by the 'phone,

AND A shrill voice cried,

"FOR THE love of Mike,

BEAT IT here quick,

AND NAIL a nut.

WHO'S TALKING wild,

IN THE cigar store."

THE LONG arm of the law,

PUT ON his pants,

SPED TO the scene.

AND AFTER a brief,

BUT TERRIFIC struggle,

MADE THE pinch.

AND WHEN interviewed,

BY OUR star reporter,

GAVE OUT this statement:

"HE'S A loony, all right.

THE ASYLUM says, by Heck,

THE WORST they ever had.

WHY THE poor nut,

CLAIMS HE can oopy,

THE SECRET blend,

OF THE cigarettes,

THAT SATISFY."

NO—the blend can't be copied. It's one way of blending fine tobaccos—both Turkish and Domestic—that the other fellow can't get onto. That's why Chesterfields "satisfy," and that's why only Chesterfields can "satisfy."
