VOL XXVIII MAY 5, 1921 No. 52

TWENTY-EIGHTH YEAR.

With next issue, The Herald begins its twenty-ninth year of continuous publication weekly without missing a single issue. During this period of over a quarter of a century, we have grown from a small two page sheet, to a sixteen and twenty page paper, and in the very near future we will be giving the Algiers people a new feature which will not only be useful to them but interesting as well.

Our success has been due to the loyal support of our many subscribers, and it will be our effort to live up to the full expectations of our readers.

We thank you for your hearty support in the past.

HIS MIDDLE INITIAL IS W.

You don't often see it in full, but the right name of the elderly gentleman we all know so well is Uncle W. Sam.

What does the initial letter stand for?

Oh, that's because his full name is Uncle Waste Sam. His middle name is Waste.

There is no doubt about it. You see it everywhere. Most countries would pretty nearly live on the things we waste.

We waste more than $25,000,000 a year in trees that we allow to burn up. The other day we heard of fifty-one forest fires going on in the same State at the same time.

We find duplications in government, two and three and even four bureaus having jurisdiction over the same thing. Waste of labor, time and money.

Thousands of hotels and tens of thousands of restaurants in America charge high prices because their patrons demand quantities of food, much of which is left on the tables. Most of the costly food that is thus left behind, goes into the garbage can. Which means that the diners wasted huge sums of money in the aggregate, and caused great waste of precious food.

It is a rare thing not to find waste in American industry. Go to almost any oil well and note how much oil flows away. Visit almost any factory and mill and about the first thing your eye falls upon is some wasted thing.

It is so in most homes and in many barns and fields. Waste in greater or lesser degree.

Yes, his middle initial is W.

Judge Franklin Chase Hoyt, Presiding Justice of the New York City Children's Court, the largest children's court in the world, said to Judge Neil, father of Mothers' Pensions, on the eve of Mothers' Day:

"There has been a tremendous falling off in the commitments made by the New York Juvenile Court since 1911, when over 3600 children were sent to institutions. In 1920 the number was but 1900, a reduction of about 40 per cent. The saving to the taxpayers as a result amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

"In 1911 we had no Mothers' Pensions nor any probation officers attached to the Court.

"I have no doubt that the Mothers' Pensions system has more than paid for itself by saving the community the cost of a large number of commitments in cases of delinquency, neglect and dependency.

"Of the 10,000 or more children coming into the Children's Court of New York every year, probably 75 per cent are brought in because of improper surroundings or environment."

Judges of the Children's Courts nearly everywhere are in favor of adequate Mothers' Pensions because they see the tremendous reduction in juvenile crime and the CONSEQUENT REDUCTION TO THE TAX-PAYER of the expense of reformatories and dependent institutions.

Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Children's Court of Chicago says that Mothers' Pensions is a great reducer of crime among future citizens, and for this reason he is in favor of more adequate pensions.

Forty States are giving Mothers' Pensions to the extent of over fifteen million dollars this year. Judge Neil's slogan is:

"A Hundred Million for Mothers' Pensions by 1925."

SOB STUFF AND STONE HEART

GET ABOARD.

School was out and the street was full of children, laughing and shouting; little girls with their arms around each other's necks; little boys with their hands in each other's hair; tens, hundreds, thousands of them—or, at least, it seemed so, as they darted here and there like a school of minnows in a pond.

A big furniture van was moving up the street and the driver sat holding the reins with a long whip in his hand.

Suddenly a cry arose, "Whip behind! whip behind! Mister, whip behind!"

We followed the direction in which the warning fingers were pointed and saw snugly ensconced in the open spaces between the chairs and tables at the rear of the load three little grinning urchins.

The driver stood up and looked over the top of the load, but could see nothing. He leaned around the side of the wagon and gazed. It was in vain. Then he sat down, observing, no doubt, that the wagon stood the extra load well, and that the horses did not feel the extra weight.

But the cry resounded again in the street, "Whip behind! Whip behind, Mister, whip behind!"

As we went on about our business we fell to analyzing this trait of human nature which inspired the lads in the street to seek to rout their playmates who had secured the comfortable place on the wagon and were stealing a ride. Was it only envy after all?

And then we thought how this spirit of pulling the other fellow down followed us through life. If someone has an easy berth we cry "the monopolists are stealing a ride."

After all, isn't it laziness and envy that prompt the cry? Why do not more of us ride? There seems to be plenty of room in the great van of the government that Uncle Sam is driving. Why not jump aboard, instead of pulling down the men who catch the rides. If you believe in our natural resources, our democratic institutions and the integrity of the people, climb aboard. What we need is not to prevent a few bright fellows from riding, but to jump aboard ourselves and pull up the weak and the poor and the unfortunate.

The great van of Opportunity is coming down the road. Stop shouting "Whip behind!" GET ABOARD.

MAJOR STEARNS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Major Robley S. Stearns, an ex-Algerine, and proprietor of the Standard Electric Construction Company, was elected president of the Contractors and Dealers' Exchange on Friday last.

The ex-kaiser is reported to have 50 servants still. And everybody was hoping he would be reduced to doing his own washing and cooking.

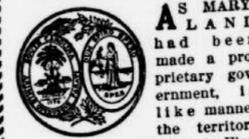

Prohibition agents found a man had converted his bedroom into a distillery. There probably were no curtains to keep out the moonshine.

Housing has become such a problem that we are listening for the general inquiry: "What has become of the caves the cave men inhabited?"

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

VIII. SOUTH CAROLINA

AS MARYLAND had been made a proprietary government, in like manner the territory extending from Virginia to Florida was granted by Charles II in 1683 to eight gentlemen as a reward for their efforts in his behalf. The name Carolina comes from the Latin, Carolus, meaning Charles. It was not really named after Charles II, but originally in honor of Charles IX, king of France, by Huguenots who built a fort near Beaufort in 1562.

The fact that the Carolinas became later two distinct colonies was due to chance. It happened that the earliest settlements located at points far removed from each other. The first permanent settlements in South Carolina were about Charleston, while those in North Carolina were around Albemarle sound. The life in the two sections also was quite different. South Carolina was largely devoted to the cultivation of rice and indigo and the planters soon grew very rich with their large estates on which the labor was performed by slaves. In fact, just before the Revolution the population showed twice as many blacks as whites.

In 1729 the government of the Carolinas was turned back by the lord proprietors to the king and there was then formed the two separate provinces.

South Carolina was the eighth state to adopt the Constitution, the vote of ratification being passed in May, 1788. The Palmetto state, as South Carolina is sometimes called, extends over 30,989 square miles, and it participates in the presidential election to the extent of nine electors.

THOUGHTS ON MASONRY.

NEW MASONIC LODGE IN ALGIERS.

By Joseph Hughes.

Why is it that men are flocking into our fraternal orders in such large numbers within the past year or two? Is it because the caliber of the men who are already members, are of a higher order of intelligence, and conform in every respect to the established rules of society, that appeals to them, or is it inquisitiveness on the part of the applicant? No one knows this better than themselves. In our Masonic fraternity the applicant says that he formed a favorable opinion of the institution, a desire for knowledge, and that he might be of service to his fellowmen. Once in, they stay in, because they learn that Freemasonry is far removed from all that is trivial, selfish and ungodly. They soon learn that its structure is built upon the everlasting foundation of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man. A short while ago I said that Sts. John Lodge No. 153 was adding to its roster new members night after night, and it was more than likely a new lodge would be formed some time in the near future. This has been verified in the instituting of "Indivisible Friends," U. D. of Algiers, La., on Wednesday evening, April 27, by the grand officers of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Joseph Sinai, John A. Davilla, Ira Weingrum, H. Grimm and E. E. Sykes. After the institution they installed the following officers: Frank Weber, W. M.; Frank Dietrich, S. W.; Sam McGary, J. W.; Henry Acker, Treas.; C. E. Dunbar, Sec'y; L. L. Maus, S. D.; E. G. Davidson, J. D.; O. C. Hupperich, Chaplain; R. Peterson, Master of Ceremonies; F. C. Anderson, Tyler; Bros. Fink and Green, Stewards.

Bro. E. E. Sykes, of Indivisible Friends Commandery, Knights Templars, presented to the new lodge a beautiful and appropriate gift, which was fittingly responded to by Bro. Manson.

The address of the evening was delivered by Bro. Jos. Sinai, who thrilled his audience as to what Masonry stood for and its mission. As this government was founded by Masons, its safety and stability rested on the three million Masons of this country, who will see to it that no Bolshevik or Soviets or other un-American agencies will be permitted to disturb the principals upon which this government was founded, which was freedom of religious opinion, free speech and free press, this together with free schools for the education of the masses, is what we as Masons stand for. In addition to remarks made by all the grand officers able and interesting addresses were given by Bros. L. Acker, Steeg, Hughes, Doshier, Hotard, Herbert, Dr. Gelpi, Cowan, Black, Henning, Kohn, Cunningham Crawford and many others, who wished the new lodge God's blessing and success. The large number present taxed the holding capacity of the Masonic hall, and after the interesting ceremonies were over adjourned downstairs, where an elaborate banquet had been prepared by Bros. Fink and Green, to which every one did ample justice, interspersed with instructive and pleasing remarks until the midnight bell tolled the passing of the day.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Virginia Lodge, No. 136, K. of P., had a large and enthusiastic audience on Monday night, April 25. The rank of esquire was conferred on three candidates, and we have no doubt made a deep and lasting impression on them, one in fact which will be of use to them in their intercourse with their fellow men.

Crescent No. 3 met on Friday night, April 29th, and notwithstanding quite a number of the boys went over the river to attend the ceremonial of the D. O. K. K.'s, had a pretty fair attendance. Four applications were received and referred to appropriate committees. The photos of the Senate team was received, and all were pleased with the group. The third rank will be conferred on three candidates next Friday night, May 6. It would afford the members much pleasure to see a large attendance on this occasion, and some of the old timers would have their memory refreshed and get in harness again.

Now, there is one thing that every Pythian should remember, that our order is a strictly "American institution," founded by Justus Rathbone, in the City of Washington, D. C., February 19, 1864, and now numbers more than 700,000 members; an institution that not only teaches loyalty, to flag and country. Reverence to the Supreme Being, care and protection to home and loved ones, and by impressive lessons exemplifies the principles of friendship, charity and benevolence.
