Cleanings From Algiers News And Happings During The Third Week In January 1904, When This Paper Was A Husky Infant

Believing that Herald readers, new ones as well as the faithful old-timers, will be interested in a glimpse of Algiers, events as recorded in this newspaper...

ALGIERS CAME TO THE FRONT IN GRAND SHAPE Giving Blanchard, Sanders, Foster and Behrman Overwhelming Majorities.

The primary election passed off quietly in Algiers, and its citizens turned out and polled a larger vote than was expected.

J. J. Hennessy, for the Senate received 33 1/2 per cent more votes than both of his opponents.

Jared Sanders for Lieut. Governor, developed good strength, getting 829 votes, which was second to Behrman who polled 935.

Michel, with no opposition, got 764 votes while Aswell received 862. The total vote cast is 1008 which is as large as calculated.

NEGRO, MEXICAN SEIZED AS BANDITS

A young Mexican and a negro, whom the police believe to be responsible for several hold-ups and robberies in Algiers during the last two weeks, were captured early Sunday after they are said to have tried to rob Charles Hintz, street car conductor, 718 Homer street, at Elmira and Homer streets.

As Hintz was going home, he said the two men who were standing in a dark spot leaped out and commanded him to throw up his hands.

The Mexican gave his name as Dionicio Alvares, 18 years old, living in Section House No. 2, Pelican and Atlantic avenues.

On Friday night last the Crescent and Virginia Lodges had their annual joint installation of officers, which was followed later on by a banquet in the lower hall.

SOMETHING NEW. One of the most interesting, unique affairs ever staged in Algiers will be a "block dance" given by Troop No. 32, Boy Scouts of America, on the night of Jan. 31, on Pelican avenue, between Atlantic and Pacific avenues.

CLAIM FOR $473,487 DAMAGES ON TRIAL

As it was impossible for attorneys in the damage suit of William H. Ward against the Orleans Levee Board for $473,786 to produce a section of the river bank in court, Judge Columbus Reid did a "Mahomet to the mountain" stunt Monday morning and took the court to the scene of the litigation.

Leaving the courthouse, the jury was loaded into a sightseeing bus, while court clerks, criers, attorneys, newspapermen and others trailed in various nondescript conveyances to Algiers.

The suit is for damages resulting from the Board's expropriation of land used by Ward as a sawmill and lumber mill site. The land lies along Patterson street, between Lavergne and Verret streets.

Judge and jury were shown over the sawmill, and they were taken to the immigration station to what was declared to be a standard levee.

Returning to the courthouse, the trial settled down to what promised to be a long technical fight. Mr. Ward was placed on the stand. Over a hundred photographs tending to illustrate the damage ensuing from the expropriation were introduced.

The case, was begun Friday, and owing to the importance of the case Judge Reid suggested it might be best for the jury to view the scene of the case they were to decide.

A history of the land involved was cited by attorneys for Ward at the beginning of the trial Friday, beginning with its purchase by one Louis Borepo from the king of Spain in 1770 through eighteen subsequent purchases which ended with purchase by Ward.

Santa Maria Council No. 1724, K. of C., is going to have a complimentary stag for its members on Monday, January 30th at their home, corner Olivier and Alix streets.

The committee in charge, headed by George J. Forrest, is making elaborate preparations. Quite a few vaudeville stunts have been secured and Brown's famous jazz orchestra will be in attendance.

There will be lots of good eats, drinks, smokes and everything to make up a good time.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE? Why do so many marriages go wrong? What are the underlying causes of happy marriages? Are there any happy marriages? What is the matter, if anything, with marriage, the institution?

Another news feature added this week to which we have received a news story, is the "Letter Box," which will be found in another part of the paper. You are invited to use this column freely.

Shop notes of the M. L. & T. R. R. employees will be found in this issue, and will be carried each week from now on.

Next week's issue will carry on the first page a general news summary of the city and state of the past week.

Marriage Editor, The Herald: In answer to your letter inquiring "Is Marriage a Failure?" will say, The average American man does not find fault with marriage. If his wife is reasonable he usually takes marriage and its responsibilities as he finds them and makes the best of them.

IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?

Why do so many marriages go wrong? What are the underlying causes of happy marriages? Are there any happy marriages? What is the matter, if anything, with marriage, the institution?

W. L. George, the English novelist, investigated 150 marriages. One hundred and sixteen cases he eliminated as unsuccessful; in five cases the husband was unfaithful; in ten it was the wife; the husband disliked the wife in three cases, and in seven it was the wife who did the disliking.

Look over the marriages you know yourself. How many are successes? How many are failures? And why? The Herald will pay 50 cents in cash or mail the paper to any address given for each child's saying printed. Two story told must never have been printed before. Do not expect pay for your story until it is printed in The Herald. Address Bright Sayings to The Herald, 509 Verret Street.

This is the title of one of the added news features appearing in The Herald this week. Believing that the news value of The Herald could be improved somewhat by having the subscribers themselves contribute to the news columns, the Editor of The Herald picked at random twenty-five names from the subscription list and wrote each one of them a letter, asking that they express their views on the marriage question, also asking if they could recall any childish sayings of the babies around the house that would make up a clever story when written.

The number of answers received were surprisingly large and the information asked for has proved to be very interesting; therefore, we have decided to add a department in The Herald known as "Is Marriage a Failure?" and "Bright Sayings of the Children." Each one of the parties furnishing these news stories will be paid fifty cents in cash or given a six months' subscription to The Herald to compensate them for the services rendered. No more letters will be written to our subscribers asking them to contribute to these departments. Any reader is requested to write us a short story on either one of these subjects, and the usual fifty cents will be paid or a subscription given when the story is printed. Payment will not be made until the story is used. You are to sign your name at the bottom of the story, also give your address, although your name will not be published in the paper.

Marriage Editor, The Herald: In answer to your letter inquiring "Is Marriage a Failure?" will say, The average American man does not find fault with marriage. If his wife is reasonable he usually takes marriage and its responsibilities as he finds them and makes the best of them.

There is endless advice available for young people as to whom, when, and where they shall marry, but young men and women continue to marry the one they love, or think they love, as soon as they possibly can. Schools and parents should instill into the minds and hearts of youth a reverence for marriage as a sacred institution to be entered into with at least as much serious deliberation as would be given a business contract. Marriage is a spiritual contract and a business contract also.

There is nothing the matter with marriage itself. What is wrong is our attitude towards it. Gameness, stick-to-it-iveness, a spirit of fair play is admired everywhere, except in marriage. There the disgruntled mate at once refuses to play the game when he is displeased. Nobody expects anything different. There he trouble lies.

BRIGHT SAYINGS OF THE CHILDREN

The Herald will pay 50 cents in cash or mail the paper to any address given for each child's saying printed. Two story told must never have been printed before. Do not expect pay for your story until it is printed in The Herald. Address Bright Sayings to The Herald, 509 Verret Street.

Julius was studying his prayers, and a line in the prayer he was studying read "Blessed art thou amongst women."

After repeating this line a number of times the same as he did the preceding line which he felt he had fully memorized, he shouted, "Oh, Mother, I have got amongst the women."

Albert was told by his mother to go over to his aunt's home and see his new baby cousin the stork had just left there.

When Albert arrived to see the baby she was asleep. Remembering how long it was before the kittens eyes opened after birth, he immediately inquired if the baby's eyes would be open in nine days.

I had taken my niece to the Orpheum show recently. As you enter the door leading to the orchestra there stood a man behind a small candy counter looking at us smiling.

Marie looked up in my face and said: "I suppose he is just standing there wondering if either of us has a sweet tooth."

DEATH OF DANIELS MOURNED BY MANY

The news of the death of Albert Sidney Daniels, a former resident of our town, but more recently of Biloxi was indeed a shock to his many friends. Mr. Daniels lived here, the greater part of his life and counted his friends by the hundreds. His cheery smile and kind disposition endeared him to all.

Mr. A. Sid Daniels was born in Algiers on July 8, 1862. He attended the Algiers public schools as well as the private school of Mrs. Anderson. He left school at the age of sixteen and started to work at the sheet iron works of Dave Sheen. After working here for a while, his taste wandered to the blacksmith work and quite a success he made in life through this medium. He learned his trade of a blacksmith at the foundry of Cockran and Mimms where he worked for three years. For the next four years he had charge of the shops run in connection with the Good Intent Dry Dock Co. Mr. Daniels had a keen eye as well as good business ability and it was not long before he was able to run a business of his own. He purchased the shop of Mr. Nick Glasser on Patterson, at the head of Bermuda Street, which he successfully ran for many years. A few years ago he removed with his family to the Sea Shoe Camp Grounds, where they have since resided. During the recent war he was employed by the Shipping Board.

Mr. Daniels was a devout Methodist. He took an active part in the working of his church and during his residence here served as a steward and a trustee.

Mr. Daniels is survived by his wife, who was Mrs. Daisy Nelson and by three daughters, Mrs. Daisy Bouyson, Mrs. Callie Barbour and Miss Irma Daniels, besides other relatives.

The funeral took place Sunday upon the arrival of the 12:01 Louisville and Nashville train, Sts. John Lodge of Masons attended in a body and held services at the grave. Rev. C. C. Wier also conducted services at the grave. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent by sorrowing friends and relatives. Interment took place in Greenwood Cemetery.

ALGIERS WILL HAVE SKATING RINK. Mr. Eugene B. Palanque will open a skating rink with Mr. Harry De Onzo, to be known as the Palace Roller Rink. Only the best and refined are solicited. The Algiers Herald takes pleasure in announcing this clean, pleasant pastime and sport. The Nemo moving picture house at 310 Opelousas avenue will be the place. It is now being renovated and the grand opening will be tomorrow night. So bring your friends along. The admission for the first night will be free by presenting our free coupon in The Herald. Look for same.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER. On Sunday afternoon at her home, 6209 West End Bend, a shower was tendered Miss Cambre, whose marriage to Mr. Kirk Henry Abbott will be celebrated on Wednesday, Feb. 8, at 5 o'clock. The house was charmingly decorated in pink and white tulle, and covers were set for one hundred guests. The immense dining room was turned into a shower of beauty with wonderful presents of all kinds. It was indeed a surprise, as the bride-elect had journeyed to Algiers to spend the day. The favors were small baskets filled with candy hearts.

Persons found guilty may be fined from $10 to $1,000 or three months' imprisonment. Such an act was adopted by the State Legislature at its last session.

This law, according to Chandler C. Luzenber, former district attorney, retained by the Railway and Light Company to assist in the prosecution of alleged meter cheaters, makes the presence at any time on or about the meter, wire, cable, pipe or main, of any device or wire, resulting in the diversion of electric current, water or gas, prima facie evidence of the intention on the part of such person, firm or corporation to defraud.

Among those who were charged in the Criminal District Court Monday are several from our town, whose names we withhold, as we believe they will now pay for the service in the regular way. Mr. Burgis, of our local company, states that affidavits and arrests will follow here also, if the practice is not discontinued at once. REGISTER EARLY. Mrs. J. E. Huckins, chairlady of the Fifteenth Ward requests that all voters, both men and women, register early.
