Ku Klux Resolution Take Parker To Task

Hon. Dr. C. V. Kraft, Editor, Algiers Herald, Algiers, Louisiana. Honorable Sir:—Permit us to hand you below an exact copy of "Resolutions" as adopted at our regular meeting held April 29th, 1922.

Algiers, La., April 29th, 1922. Whereas, His Excellency, John M. Parker, Governor of Louisiana, has charged that this Organization was an outlaw band; and,

Whereas, He has charged all law enforcing officers in this State to exert unusual effort to suppress it wherever it shows its head; and,

Whereas, District Judge, P. E. Edgington, has ordered the Grand Jury of Jefferson Parish to investigate our activities in said Parish, therefore,

Resolved, That Al-Gre-Har Klan No. 6, Realm of Louisiana Knights of the Ku-Klux-Klan, in regular and official session convened, hereby requests the Governor, the Judge, any other law enforcement officer, man or person to produce one single bit of reliable evidence to substantiate the charge made by the Governor as printed in the press; and,

Resolved, That as Klansmen in the investigation of any and all of our activities, and as American citizens we demand a most thorough investigation by the Grand Jury of Jefferson Parish as to the vast number of law violations occurring there; and,

Resolved, That it is a nationally known fact that the Hoodlumism, Book Legging, Blind Tigers, Honky Tonks, Race Track Gambling, Prostitution, and Murder are rampant in the Parish of Jefferson, and we know positively that men charged with Order are acting as Trustees at the Gretna Jail; and,

Resolved, That conditions such as exist in the Parish of Jefferson are disgraceful and most humiliating to all of the many respectable people living there who have prayed and voted for relief without apparent results; and,

Resolved, That the Governor and Parish authorities take active steps and use strenuous measures to correct the outrageous conditions of our Parish due to the utter disregard of any law by some of our law enforcement officers; and,

Resolved, That should the Governor refuse to forward him names and addresses and detailed accounts of many cases where the law is openly and flagrantly violated and prove to his satisfaction our charges; and,

Resolved, That all Klansmen pledge unconditionally their whole support to all law officers in order that they may do their whole duty without fear or favor, and that we ask all respectable citizens to join us in our efforts to have all laws obeyed, that we may have decent surroundings in which to raise our children; and,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Governor John M. Parker, District Judge P. E. Edgington, District Judge H. N. Gaudier, District Attorney C. A. Buchler, Grand Jury Foreman L. J. Keeping His Eye on Things

GOOD BOOZE FINDS TROUBLE

Algiers Also Has Its Rum-Gun Bums.

Through all of Friday night a cordon of police maintained its vigil about a house in Newton Street, waiting for a search warrant which would give them the right to enter and seize. Saturday morning the search was made.

Thirty sacks of bottled Cedar Brook whisky which never will quaken human pulse were confiscated and turned over to the prohibition officers. But the two men who, according to the story told to the police by Joseph Littlefield, 33, 3225 Gravier Street, had taken the whisky by force and violence, had escaped, and now are themselves objects of search and possible seizure.

Littlefield, who admitted, according to the police, he is both bootlegger and victim, told his story to the police about as follows:

Friday afternoon he met two men, whose names he said he did not know, in Royal street between Iberville and Canal Streets. With the men, Littlefield said, he negotiated for the sale of thirty sacks of Cedar Brook whisky, six bottles to the sack, for $1275.

According to Littlefield, the price was agreed upon and he was told to deliver the "goods" at 7 p. m., Friday, to 339 Newton Street.

At 7 o'clock he drove up to the house, Littlefield said, and knocked at the door. To the man who answered he reported the arrival of the consignment.

Events happened quickly after that, according to the story he told police. Littlefield said he was pulled inside and a gun was shoved against his ribs. The whisky which he had brought was unloaded and taken into the house and he then was told to "beat it," Littlefield asserted.

Littlefield said he "guessed" the men at the house "figured he'd keep his mouth shut" because of the illegality of the transaction, as many others are said to have done under similar circumstances.

Patrolmen from the Eighth Precinct police station were dispatched to the address given by Littlefield. Then prohibition officials were notified.

Four men were stationed in front of the house to prevent the whisky being smuggled out of the place. The two policemen and the two federal agents believed they had the men trapped in the place. They would keep the place under surveillance until morning, when a search warrant could be secured.

In peering over the fence, one of the federal agents noticed a pile of sacks in a rear shed. He calculated it was the bootleg whisky. Such a death-like silence pervaded the place that the agent was prompted to enter the alley and peered through the blinds of one of the windows. He saw that the room was empty. Could the house be vacant? Police and agents held a brief conference with the result that they decided then to confiscate the whisky. A patrol wagon from the fifth precinct station was secured and the liquor carted off to the police station.

When daylight came and the landlord of the house was found, the men learned that the place was not inhabited. The three men had evidently become frightened after Littlefield left and quitted the place, thinking perhaps, to return the next day and get the whisky, provided, of course, Littlefield had held his tongue.

The landlord of the house told the police that he rented the place to the youngest of these men, whose name, however he did not get, about three weeks ago. Police have received a good description of the trio and are making a city wide search for them.

ANTHOCHARIS LOTTA.

This new step will be introduced at a dance given by the Boys of Loyalty and Truth, at the Pythian Hall, May 31, 1922.

Walter Dilzell Runs Over Corporal Baul

After being struck and knocked down by an automobile at Canal and Roman streets Thursday night, Corporal George Baul, of the motorcycle squad gave chase to the operator of the car that caused his injury and apprehended him after a chase of several blocks.

The driver of the automobile Walter Dilzell, 232 Vallette street, was arrested and charged with driving an automobile in a careless and reckless manner causing injury.

Baul had stopped to issue a traffic summons to a traffic violator when he was struck by the car operated by Mr. Dilzell, being injured about the hands and legs. The policemen said that Mr. Dilzell failed to stop the automobile driving off after causing his injuries. Baul had his injuries attended at his residence.—Daily States.

Mr. Dilzell however tells a different story of the accident which according to eye witnesses corroborates Mr. Dilzell's statement that the accident was entirely unavoidable and that his machine was stopped within a very short distance of the scene of the accident.

AVENUE ACADEMY INDORSES CLEAN DANCE MOVEMENT.

The Avenue Academy has indorsed the "Clean Dance Movement" that has been started by the Boys and Girls Morality League.

When a representative of the Boys and Girls Morality League called upon the Manager, Mr. Harry Deonzo, he found that he was speaking to a man who believed in protecting the morals of the people especially the little boys and girls who are the future men and women of our great America.

Mr. Deonzo said that he was opposed to the indecent dance and that the most modest person could come to dances at the Avenue Academy, as he was going to see to it that nothing but clean, modest dancing took place.

Mothers, Fathers, Girls and Boys, lets put this clean dance movement over. Let's take the stand Mr. Deonzo, the manager of the Avenue Academy takes.

Remember Mothers, the future of every Nation depends upon the proper training and development of its youth. If you allow your boys and girls to "Pick Cherries" that new vulgar, indecent dance they are not going to become men and women of character.

In the name of humanity we must do as Mr. Deonzo has done if America is to live as a Nation.

WHEN "Just David" was published readers thought it the most adorable story of a child ever written; then appeared "Pollyanna" by the same authoress and it took the country by storm; now she has given us "Mary Marie," which is better than either. This wonderful child was Mary to her staid, bookish, serious-minded father. To her vivacious, laughter-loving mother she was Marie; so they named her Mary Marie, and to keep peace in the family she had to develop a dual nature in keeping with the two names.

She is one of the great number of appellants led by Eugene Debs, who went to Washington to plead for the release of their relatives from the Federal prison.'
