VOL. XXX AUGUST 31, 1922 No. 17

Editorial

THE HEN CALLS FOR HELP

Finally the food profiteers have locked horns with a real opposition. They face the inexorable persistency of the great American hen and panic reigns.

Some years ago the American hen gave warning that she might prove a dangerous enemy and bring about fair prices, but the shrewd profiteers countered, and when the hen laid in sufficient volume to feed the people the cold storage warehouse was conceived.

Instead of being distributed at prices governed by the law of supply and demand, eggs were stored, kept from the people, and doled out at uniformly high prices.

It appears, however, that the great American hen has been thinking. The result is she has again come to the front with a production so bewildering that the cold storage plants cannot take care of it.

True, in spite of this, eggs in New York are selling from 60 to 75 cents a dozen.

But the bump is at hand.

If the hen gets a little support from the public and a little tiny egg strike be started, the backbone of the price extortion will be broken.

It is all very well to store eggs, but when it comes to erecting more and more great steel and concrete structures equipped with the expensive freezing plants to take care of them, then it may be thought better to sell the present stock at a fair price.

There are now 303,000,000 dozen eggs in storage—more than three dozen for every person in the United States.

And the great American hen is still on the job.

WORLD CRYING FOR A LABOR MOSES.

The withdrawal of 600,000 workers from the coal mines of America even for a week means that the public must pay the bill. The operators, of course, profess great concern, but as a fact they are flipping a coin in the game of "Heads I Win, Tails You Lose." The public may suffer from cold if the shortage be excessive, but operators will have coal to heat their sumptuous offices and their luxurious homes. If the shortage be less acute, then the people will pay in tilted prices, and the operators will reap the reward that way. As for the men, they will continue to suffer from lack of work and it will take time for them to get back to their established status even though they do win some things in their favor. The issues of the strike do not appear to be clearly defined. There are always two sides to a story. The pitiable condition is the purility of the government in its confessed failure to cope with the situation. The railroad strike is in the same muddle.

Eventually the strikes must be settled and the men go back to work, and the trouble must be settled by agreement reached between the contending forces. It is a sad reflection on the intelligence of the American people that it is always necessary to go through the fire and beat the public into suffering before understanding can be established. The condition is deplorable. What is the matter when this nation leads the world in discovery and invention yet lags so far behind it in an effort to solve the problem of capital and labor. Perhaps the secret lies in the fact that the intellectual giants for the most part lie on the side of the capitalists. If they are not capitalists themselves, then they are controlled by the capitalists. This problem and the problem of food distribution are the two great difficulties that seem to confound humanity. The people are crying aloud for a Moses to lead them to the promised land of common sense.

Gleanings From Algiers News And Happings During The Fourth Week In August 1904, When This Paper Was A Husky Infant

Believing that Herald readers, new ones as well as the faithful old-timers, will be interested in a glimpse of Algiers events as recorded in this newspaper exactly eighteen years ago, when The Herald was then only ten years old. Even at that early age it was bristling with fresh news chosen by the same editor and publisher that is serving you today. We trust our selections will prove interesting to all.

Mr. Clem A. Borden was given a surprise party by the Belleville Club and a few friends in honor of his return from Charleston, S. C. Mr. Andrew Wright in behalf of those present, presented Mr. Borden with a handsome gold handle umbrella.

Mr. Louis Munsterman ran a nail through his foot, which laid him up for over a week.

A penny party was given at the residence of Mrs. J. McGivney for the benefit of Mr. Gus Wilson. The following were in charge: Misses Mary and Theodora Dubret, Alma Rupp, Sadie Vezien, Lillian Donnelly and Mary Traub.

A lawn party was given by Wanda Short and Hattie and Florence Talbot at the home of Capt. W. F. Short, for the benefit of the altar fund of the Church of the Holy Name of Mary.

Mr. Wm. A. Scholl opened the Union Label Cafe and Saloon on Patterson Street, near St. John's Market. He advertised a business men's lunch including a drink for 15 cents.

Miss A. Goff entertained a number of her little friends at a party at the home of her grandfather, Mr. J. B. Hildebrand, the occasion being the fourteenth anniversary of her birth.

Mr. N. W. Fellers and Miss V. Cognevich of Nairn, were married. The attendants were Misses Lillian Fellers and Marie Cognevich. Lillian Curran was ring bearer.

The home of Hon. and Mrs. H. D. French, was brightened by the arrival of a little son.

Mr. Wm. Hildebrand of Olivier Street met with a painful accident while working on the steamer Louisiana. He fell through the hold of the vessel, sustaining severe burns about the back.

Mrs. S. R. Dunning returned from Buras, where she went to attend the wedding of Miss Lillian DeArmas to Mr. Edwin Bauman of New York.

Great Variety of Bananas. There are over 60 varieties of the banana, with as great, or greater, variations in character as to the different kinds of apples. Hawaii is said to have something over 40 distinct varieties of the fruit, most of which have been introduced by the whites. Some of these are extremely delicious in flavor, while other kinds are used, if at all, only when cooked in various ways. There is scarcely a city house lot or country homestead which does not have a clump or two of bananas, which grow with practically no care, new plants or suckers shooting up to replace the ones which have fruited and been removed.

Death and Birth. What a ridiculous thing it is to trouble and affect ourselves about taking the only step that is to deliver us from all misery and trouble. As our birth brought us the birth of all things, so in our death is the death of all things included. And, therefore, to lament and take on that we shall not be alive a hundred years hence is the same folly as to be sorry we were not alive a hundred years ago. Death is the beginning of another life.—Montaigne.

Knows Not Happiness. Some persons I know estimate happiness by fine houses, gardens and parlors—others by pictures, horses, money and various things wholly remote from their own species; but when I wish to ascertain the real felicity of any rational man, I always inquire whom he has to love. If I find he has nobody, or does not love those he has, even in the midst of all his profession of finery and grandeur, I pronounce him a being in deep adversity.—Mrs. Inchbald.

Founder of Yale College Held Auction. One of the oldest methods of transacting business is the auction sale which, according to the early writers, was known among the Romans, and is specifically mentioned by Petronius Arbiter in 66 A. D. The first auction sale in England took place about 1700 and was conducted by Ell Yale, the founder of Yale college, who thus disposed of goods he had brought home from the East Indies. Such sales were first taxed in England in 1779.

TEST OF AN INTERVIEW. "Did I report your remarks correctly?" asked the interviewer. "Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "I expect to read them with pleasure when I get time." "You indorse the interview without having read it?" "Fully. The comment on it by my constituents has been so favorable that I'm sure that it's entirely satisfactory."

A CASH CUSTOMER "Either he's very rich or very poor." "What makes you say that?" "He's boasting that he paid his income tax in full."

Northern Lights. The fact has long been recognized that the splendid phenomena of the Northern lights, or aurora borealis, are due to electric action producing luminosity in the upper regions of the atmosphere, perhaps 75 miles or more above the earth, where the density of the air is exceedingly slight. But the precise manner in which the electric energy acts in such a case remains to be explained.

"Poor Richard," or "Richard Saunders" was the pen name assumed by Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790), in a series of almanacs published from 1732 to 1757. These almanacs contained wise maxims and precepts on temperance, economy, cleanliness, perseverance and other homely virtues, and to several of the maxims were added the words: "As Poor Richard says."
