

"HEALER" TOPS OPENING BILL AT ORPHEUM.

At the Orpheum theatre next week will come Thompson, "The Egyptian", with a message for the suffering and the well. He will demonstrate how all sorts of ills may be cured by nerve pressure, technically known as "zone therapy".

Thompson appears on the stage as a "healer." It is the first time that powers such as are claimed by him have been made the material of a vaudeville act. The sick are invited to go upon the stage for advice and the well are told how to keep their health.

It is blackface fun that Conroy and LeMaire get their character contrast. One portrays the highly sophisticated darkey and the other the stupid-credulous type. Their present offering is called "The Sharpshooters" and it is said to be the comedy success of the season.

George LeMaire is back in the fold again. A few years ago he left vaudeville to become one of the leading comedians with Ziegfeld Follies.

Mr. LeMaire is one of the biggest comedians on the stage—this applies to him physically and humorously. Mr. LeMaire is offering "At the Dentist".

The Wilson Brothers are working hard to keep their names in the sun. They are comedians, and there has never been any question as to their merits. They offer an act called "The Lieutenant and the Cop".

PLAYGROUNDS NOTES.

Playground Physical Director Ernest C. Hunt announces that the Annual Playground Swimming Championships will be held at the Algiers Pool, on Wednesday, September 13th, at 4:30 p. m.

Races for boys and girls both will be held and the winners in each division will become the Playground Champions.

Among the events will be 20 yards for 55-inch boys; 20 yards for 55-inch girls; 40 yards for 59 and 63-inch boys and girls; 100 yards for unlimited boys and girls; fancy diving for boys and girls and several other interesting events.

Swimmers from Annunciation, Beauregard, Galvez, Harmony, St. Roch, Sorapar, Clay, Taylor, Cleveland, Poydras and Milneburg playgrounds will enter the various events and some interesting sport can be expected.

The pool will be open to the public on this day and the parents of the playground boys are cordially invited to attend.

EXCLUSIVE CLUB

The Exclusive Club was entertained by Miss Ura Dubret at her home in Newton street last Friday night. The club is still receiving new members. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour and refreshments were served in abundance. The music for dancing, which was enjoyed by all who attended, was furnished by the Midnight Disturbers Band.

Those who spent a pleasant evening were: Misses V. Casero, M. Sarbeck, M. Ponti, S. Bauman, O. LeBlanc, M. Blakeman, H. Saleeby, A. Johnson, U. Dubret; Messrs. C. Balk, J. Johnson, S. King, M. The first practice will be held this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Purification Plant field. All candidates will report to above named place in uniform. The public is cordially invited to witness the first practice.

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Strauss in honor of their daughter, Miss Rose Strauss, on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday. Refreshments were served, and with music and other pastimes the evening was enjoyed. In the cutting of the cake Miss A. Wolverson secured the dime, Mr. A. Francisco the ring, Mrs. A. Strehle the thimble.

Others present were: Misses B. Strauss, E. Strauss, K. B. Penisson, M. Trouillet, A. Broussard, T. Chandler, M. Chandler, M. and A. Wolverson, A. Zuffe, V. and A. Heard, E. and L. Heard; Mmes. J. Wolverson, J. Strauss, A. and A. Strehle, B. Meyers, A. Bevely, B. Heard; Messrs. J. Beverly, E. Strauss, C. Brossard, W. Wolverson, L. Williams, A. Kahoe, A. Francisco, A. Wolverson, M. Graleano, H. Heard.

THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY.

A birthday party was given at the home of Percy Jones, 405 Opelousas Ave. in honor of the thirteenth anniversary of his birth. Games were played and dancing was indulged in. A most enjoyable time was had by all. The young host received many pretty presents. Refreshments were served in abundance.

Those present were: Evelyn Park, Frances Dulcich, Elba Oswald, Agnes and Lena Cherry, Camille Aubert, Margie Prados, Theresa Manalle, Carrie Marough, Lillie Burgau, Bernice Barton, Eleanor Hafkesbring, Chas. Mosholder, Chas. Soulant, Bennie Levy, Patrick Kennan, Godfrey and Staunton McNeely, Thos. Griswold, Louis Aubert, Jos. Schellec, Henry Bouras, John Bass, Ernest Richter, Reggie Smith, Riley Jones, and others.

JACKS DISBAND.

The Lamana Jacks have disbanded for the season, having had a successful season. The team was composed of the following young boys of Algiers: John and Stanley Leonard, Charles Morris, Adam Moll, Arthur King, George Brown, George Huff, George Perez, Anthony Gendusa, Alfred Chestnut, and Manager Anthony Lamana.

THOMPSON, THE EGYPTIAN, AT THE ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Under the care of Manager Earl Stewart's Masterful hand, the Orpheum theatre will open its doors tomorrow afternoon to welcome in the season of 1922-23.

Then comes Thompson, the Egyptian.

Come ye people who are afflicted with suffering from rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuritis, or pains in the back or arms, to come to the theatre and he will cure them. Is your hair falling out? Do you have insomnia?

Can you stop a headache or a toothache with the touch of finger? Or, as a matter of fact, any of the ordinary aches and pains, to say nothing of such things as near-sightedness, chronic fatigue, deafness, fainting spells, etc. If you can't and any of these things are afflicting you and you would like to be cured with a minimum of time and trouble and with absolutely no expense for advice, treatment, equipment or medicine, a great opportunity looms before you.

The recent reunion of Frank Conroy and George Le Maire, black-face comedians who are coming to the Orpheum theatre next week, was one of the sensations of the current vaudeville season. This, it is said, was because the teaming of the two funsters, assured the vaudeville world that it was again to have what generally was considered as ludicrously funny an act as ever was presented over the Orpheum circuit.

The Wilson Brothers are neither statesmen or distillers. They are comedians and there has never been any question to their merit. They offer a skit called, "The Lieutenant and the Cop."

Monsieur Adolphus arrived, danced in various organizations and then decided to present an offering of his own. For this purpose he engaged as an assistant Grace Eastman, an American danseuse. Together with the assistance of a capable company they are presenting a few moments of various dances and classic music, which is decidedly interesting and well executed series of dances and is called "Bohemian Life."

Jack La Vier talks as fluently as the proverbial mother-in-law. He talks fluently and humorously and the while he tries his hand at other things.

The El Rey Sisters present a series of dances on skates, ordinarily done without rollers, and they are assisted by Murray Mencher. News Weekly, Aesop's Fables and Emile Tosso's Orchestra.

RELICS FROM EGYPT

Interesting New Discoveries on View in London.

Graves of Courtiers and Royal Servants at Abydos Belong to Date as Unbelievably Remote as 5,000 Years B. C.

London.—Most intensely interesting are the relics brought back by Prof. Flinders Petrie, the great Egyptologist, and his colleagues from the tombs near Abydos. The precious fruits of last winter's search are on view at University college.

The graves at Abydos were those of courtiers and royal servants of the first dynasty kings, and the treasures that were buried with them belong to a date almost unbelievably remote—about 5,000 years B. C. These tombs were not known 20 years ago when Professor Petrie explored the famous tombs of the first dynasty kings. There are hundreds of them, and it is thought, from the evidence of many burials at one time, that in those times the servants of a king were sacrificed wholesale on his death.

The bodies were not mummified but lying on their sides with their belongings round them—finely-made flint knives, copper tools, and, of special interest, pieces used in games. There are some exquisitely carved figures of lions in ivory, probably part of a game in which these little figures were pushed along a board in pursuit of a hare. There are delicate copper needles, perhaps from the stock-in-trade of the court dressmaker, and a great deal of pottery and vessels in alabaster, all nearly perfect after 7,000 years.

One is struck once more by the evidence of a very finished civilization in the delicacy and refinement of these implements and decorations brought from "the dark backward and abysm of time."

The exhibition is rich in tablets of later dynasties from the same site. One of the eighteenth dynasty is memorable because the dead man does not pray for funeral offerings in the common form, but only that the gods may grant him "a heart that is sweet every day."

A great deal of important work was done also at Oxyrhynchos, notably in exploration of the great Roman theatre which held 10,000 people—one of the noblest theaters of antiquity.

After all, the greatest interest in ghosts is perhaps in whether it is going to walk.

But at least the Chinese can no longer be accused of waiting for a queue to fight.

UNEARTH COIN OF YEAR 1724

Workmen Excavating Old Headquarters of General Washington Make Interesting Find.

New York.—Workmen engaged in excavating on the site of the mansion in Montclair, N. J., that was used by General Washington as his headquarters in the revolution found several old copper coins, one bearing the inscription, "British North America, 1724." Dr. Maurice Cohen, who now owns the property, obtained some of the coins.

The workmen were moving a ten-ton boulder from one corner of the property to the site of the Washington headquarters. The boulder will bear a bronze tablet bearing a picture of the old mansion and a suitable inscription placed there by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. The old mansion was razed 15 years ago.

Indian Relics Found.

Salina, Kan.—Relics of the days when the Indians roamed the central Kansas prairies are being taken out of the sand pits east of Salina. Bones of large and unnamed animals have heretofore been found in this neighborhood, but these bones that are now being found in the sand pits are unlike anything ever seen here. The most of the specimens have large teeth, well preserved, while others are badly decayed. In addition to the bones many large bullets of lead, flattened by having come in contact with some object, are found.

Can't Take Pets to Yosemite. Yosemite National Park.—Visitors to Yosemite hereafter must leave Fido and Tabby at home, for no longer will the rangers at the gates be permitted to care for the pets, according to a recent announcement. In years past dogs have been "checked" at the entrances, but this practice became so general that the energies of the rangers were devoted almost exclusively to the pups and kitties.

Man Hangs Himself by Strength of Imagination

London.—Dr. Henry King testified at a coroner's jury that Alfred Manning, a despondent man, planned to take his own life by hanging, and tied a handkerchief around his neck, but not tight enough to cause strangulation. The physician said that death was due to the fact that Manning had convinced himself that he was hanging himself. Through an suggestion the heart stopped beating.

GIRL, MA AND GRANDMA WED

Romance Revealed When Muriel Conkling of New York Marries Baron Van Reigersberg.

New York.—With the marriage of Muriel Lorillard Ronalds Conkling to Baron Louis Van Reigersberg, an officer of the First Royal Dutch hussars, in Holy Trinity church, London, it was revealed that three generations of one family have been married in a single month.

The mother of Baron Van Reigersberg's bride became Mrs. William P. Hollen at a secret wedding July 1, while her grandmother became Mrs. Stillman F. Kneeland at a fashionable wedding in Danbury, Conn., July 29. The baroness' stepfather-in-law is a New York lawyer, interested in the stage and motion pictures. Her new step grandfather-in-law is General Kneeland, who is seventy-seven, and also a lawyer, well known in New York for nearly half a century.

Dead Beat.

Arnold W. Brunner, the New York architect who recently declined a $20,000 salary from the Pennsylvania government because he thought himself sufficiently well paid for his work already, said at a dinner in Philadelphia:

"Some people are puzzled by my action. Well, such people, when it comes to government jobs, don't know the meaning of the word 'honesty.' Speaking etymologically they are as much at sea as the club steward.

"An elderly clubman, after a long sojourn in the Orient, said on his first visit to the club:

"Where's Abraham, my old watter? Not defunct, I hope?"

"That's what he's done, sir," said the club steward furiously, "with every blessed thing he could lay his hands on!"

Valuable to Mariners.

In a recent speech in New York Signor Marconi, the man who first made wireless communication possible, announced that he has worked out a method of directing radio waves instead of permitting them to scatter broadcast. He does it by means of what he calls "reflectors," the construction of which he did not clearly explain. He believes that the invention will be valuable not only in sending messages in a single direction but in controlling messages that are now sent out to sea from stations on the shore, so that ships can determine their exact distance from land—Youth's Companion.

Grant and Taft.

With the exception of General Grant, who occupied the post only for a brief period during a cabinet reorganization, William Howard Taft is the only secretary of war who ever became President of the United States.

WOMEN THE CHIEF WORKERS

In Welsh Community That Was Founded by Flemings, Gentle Sex Shoulders Life's Responsibilities.

About twenty miles up the marvelous harbor of Milford, in Wales, is a little village tucked away in a creek. Here live and die a small settlement of people whose ancestors were Flemish.

In the reign of Henry II, a band of weavers was sent over from Flanders and installed in Haverfordwest castle. They were engaged to make cloth for the nobles of the land.

In the castle they toiled for many years until at last, either tired of work or forgotten by their employers, they left the dreary prison fortress and settled in a small tract of land about eight miles away.

Although many years have passed, the people still keep the customs of their forefathers. The women's dress is but a slight variation of the dress worn by the Welsh in the olden days.

The women do all the important work. It is no unusual thing to see the women in the courtyard of their villages preparing the culm (a mixture of clay and coal used for fuel in Pen-brookshire and the man lounging against the wall of the house.

In all things, the woman shoulders the responsibilities of life. Before the marriage, the bride-to-be prepares for the struggle of living. Her trade depends upon the possession of a small rowing boat.

To get together sufficient money to buy one, she brews many casks of beer. All her friends are invited to her home to drink the beer, for which they pay. The stauncher the friend, the larger the quantity bought! When the beer is sold the boat is bought and the wedding feast is prepared.

Then comes the hard daily round for the girl. Every morning she goes out in the boat and returns with a load of shrimps and cockles.

These are put into panniers which are strapped on the sides of a donkey. With another pannier on her back and a small basket on her arm she trudges into the nearest town, where she hawks her wares from door to door.

How the husband spends his day is secret history! It is hoped that like a dutiful man he prepares the dinner for his tired wife. Perhaps the vegetables and a piece of bacon, which complete the evening meal, are the result of his day's work.—Buffalo Express.

One Won.

A young man met his pretty girl cousin the other day for the first time, and was attracted by her.

"I bet you a dime," he said, "that I can kiss you without touching you."

"Of course you can't," replied the girl.

"Well, will you take the bet on?" asked the other.

"Y—yes," said the girl dubiously.

Her cousin thereupon kissed her.

"Oh, but you did touch me!" exclaimed the girl.

"I know I did," replied the young man, with a grin, "and here's your dime."

SWIMMING CONTEST

The city playground swimming championships will be held at the Algiers pool on Sept. 13. This meet is open to all playground swimmers and it is hoped that a large number will turn out.
