

TAKE OVER FERRIES

Algiers Public Service Company, Inc., Organized. Agreement Reached For Purchase of Property of Ferry Company—Commission Council To Be Asked For Indeterminate Permit To Operate Ferries.

The long fight for the control and operation of our public ferries for the benefit of the public has come to a close with the organization of the Algiers Public Service Company, Inc.

The Algiers Ferry Committee of twenty-one who have worked for more than a year on the ferry question find themselves at last successful in the arrangement whereby the city will be completed shortly whereby the city of New Orleans, which has always been opposed to municipal ownership, will grant to the new Algiers Company, and indeterminate permit to operate the ferries.

It is the purpose of the new company to purchase new boats and new equipment, to improve the landing, approaches and ferry houses, to provide more accommodations and conveniences for the passengers and employees. All of these things will be the goal of the company, to be put into effect just as soon as the finances will allow. It is understood that the Commission Council is favorable to the Algiers Company taking over these ferries, by which the large profits that have heretofore gone to a corporation, will be diverted into the betterment and improvement of the service.

The Algiers Public Service Company, Inc. has been capitalized at $500,000. Arrangements have been completed with the Southern Improvement and Ferry Company for the purchase of their boats and equipment, and it remains now merely for the sanction of the Commission Council to grant the necessary permit which we understand is agreeable to all concerned.

SUFFICIENT MONEY AT HAND. The new company has sufficient money at hand to make the required purchase of the physical property of the ferries, and at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the new company, it was decided to offer the stock at $100.00 per share to any of our Algiers who desire to become part owners of our ferry system. Provisions have been made between the company and the larger stockholders to accommodate as many small stockholders as want shares by reducing the number of shares of the larger stockholders.

It is expected that the new company will be able to begin operation of the ferries about the first of January, depending altogether on the legal requirements necessary to bring about the transfer.

It is understood that some important improvements will be begun almost at once. Strengthening the vehicle approaches in Algiers is imperative and new ferry houses on both sides of the river stand out as a necessary early addition.

The Algiers Public Service Co., Inc., invites the participation of the Algiers public in this corporation. The shares of stock will be $100.00 par value upon which no doubt, the city will allow a reasonable return on the money invested. Subscription blanks may be had from any of the board of directors or from the Algiers Trust and Savings Bank, or from the principal business houses in Algiers.

OFFICERS. The officers of the new company are as follows: August Schabel, proprietor of Schabel's Grocery, is president; Julius Bodenger, president of J. Bodenger, Inc., vice-president; Dr. A. C. King, one of our leading physicians, vice-president; and Adolph Spitzfaden, Jr., vice-president and cashier of the Algiers Trust and Savings Bank, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors, including the four above mentioned, are as follows: E. W. Burgis, president of the South New Orleans Light and Traction Company; Frank C. Duvic president Duvic Hardware Co., Inc.; Herbert L. Harding, proprietor of Harding's Auto and Electrical Supplies; Wm. J. Hennessey, lawyer; Geo. HOME SWEET HOME

In what are you more interested than anything else in the world? Now if you have time,—and we hope you have, because this is very important,—you'll stop and go over all the things in which you think you ought to be interested. Your work, your church, your school, your card club, your church club, servants, clothes—even international problems,—all these things you'll think. You'll also probably decide on one of them.

But if you're normal and truthful, the real answer—the thing in the world you're most interested in—is YOURSELF. Mind you,—we're not saying that you're selfish or self-centered or anything of the kind. It just happens that we are most interested in ourselves. Because we are, we like to watch the little things around us,—the little happenings that are our making. It's true, isn't it? We'd love (in theory at least,) to be rescuing some little eastern person from starvation, but if you were all dressed and packed ready to perform that noble task, you'd pause a moment at the kitchen door to give your own kitten a saucer of milk, wouldn't you? Of course! And why? It's because it's the little things near you, round about home, that hold your interest.

And, speaking of these home touches, there's an incident worth hearing that might happen any time at even your home. We've printed it under "Home Sweet Home" further on in the Herald. There'll be another one each week, too.

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

Little Alma Wiegman entertained a large number of her little friends on Friday, Nov. 17, the occasion being the seventh anniversary of her birth. A large crowd of children responded to her call for fun. Refreshments were served in abundance and a good time was had by all. Little Alma received many beautiful presents. The house was decorated with lanterns. About nine o'clock the children were gathered together and the lights were put out, and the candles of the big birthday cake were lighted. The little guests were: Alma Wiegman, Velma Wilson, Inez Zatarain, Carmen Savoy, Irene Boyer, Althea Gorman, Edwina Tillie and Floris Burmaster, Lawrence and St. Clair Sleighter, Irving Zatarain, Edwold, Edgar and Evelyn Messner, Katherine and Antoinette Thorning, Adele, Celia and Tommy Stenger, Alice and Edwin Kissinger, Bella Boyer, Mildred Bergeron, Nelida Gorman, Marlan Dennis, Helen O'Keefe, John Morton, Mildred Kitcher, Misses Marguerite Sansovich, Ellen Cotton, Anita Serpas, Ruth Lorio, Julia Troclair, Mary Wiegman, Messrs. BELLEVILLE NOTES.

Book week was observed in Belleville School from the thirteenth to the seventeenth. On Thursday the departmental classes under the supervision of Miss Crane, visited the Library. The ladies in charge entertained the pupils of the primary department by telling stories. They also visited the library with their teachers during the reading period.

The morning classes represented the different books they liked best. The amount turned in from Belleville for Red Cross which includes partial payments and some paid up membership amounted to $36. Some pupils pay three cents a month until the quota is paid.

We are glad to have Miss Harte back again after being absent for two days through illness.

McDONOUGH NO. 4.

Book Week was observed by all grades in the school. Special stress being placed on the use of good literature and its beneficial effect on character.

Misses O'Donnell, Scannell and Saizan accompanied several grades on Thursday afternoon, to the Algiers Branch of the Public Library for the "Story Hour."

Miss Irma Joulhan, our music supervisor, spent two days with us and was well pleased with the work of that department. During her visit on Wednesday at the close of the noon recess, the talented members of our faculty, Miss L. Averill, pianist, Mr. Harrison clarinetist, Mr. Mahoney and Miss Voegtlin, violinists, gave a musical treat which was enjoyed by pupils and teachers.

An air of subdued excitement was noticeable from First Grade through Eighth during the week. The cause was explained in elaborately colored posters around halls and basement, which heralded the coming of a circus to our school. Tents were pitched in the basement on Friday and the performance began at 3:30 p. m., with a parade of animals and performers.

What thrills were experienced by watching tight rope walkers, whose feats at dizzy heights made one's head whirl, beautiful snake charmers and bareback riders whose management of their steeds won the admiration of the onlookers; fancy dancers who rivaled Pavalora by their charm and grace, while the ridiculous antics of the clowns and the elephant stunts delighted young and old.

The strong man amazed the audience not only by lifting a 2000 pound weight, but also by eating iron. The ringmaster showed he was no novice in the business by his skillful management of animals and actors.

Music was furnished by the Junior Jazz Band which made a hit with the little folks.

The following were the circus stars: Tight Rope Walkers—Geo. Zatarain, Marcel Roth and Edward Schroder.

Dancers—Oliver Sutherland and Louis Hubener.

Clowns—Chas Ruckett and Ernest Andry.

Strong Man—Bernard Covell.

Elephants—Jas. Higgins—Eugene Abadie.

Ringmaster—George Rihner.

The Civic League of the Eighth A worked hard to make the circus a financial success and succeeded far beyond their expectations.

Leagues in other grades are now anxious to display their talent, so another performance can be looked for in the near future.

ADOLPH MEYER SCHOOL

Miss Solomon, Red Cross nurse, visited the school on last Thursday and Friday, measuring and weighing all new pupils.

Mr. I. Davis has organized a basketball team in the school, and from the enthusiasm shown by the pupils this game seems to be a popular one, and excellent players are expected.

Competition or rivalry is a wonderful incentive and several of our classes are striving to exceed all previous records.

The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades have been allotted special plots of ground for garden work. Some of the boys are first-class farmers and large crops of radishes, mustard, lettuce and turnips will be the reward.

Some of our boys are making a container for the garden tools and others are preparing molds for garden boxes.

Miss Janfried, supervisor of drawing, visited the school last Monday and seemed satisfied with the work accomplished. Her aim this term is to have the pupils appreciate art and beauty, so the problem for the Eighth Grade is "My Dream House." This will be a great task, as it includes planning and construction of a house and interior decoration, but the pleasure drawn from a problem of this sort will fully repay them for the labor.

Miss Janfried also suggested a beauty corner, so the Eighth Grade is striving to have at least one artistic spot in the room. This week the decoration is a beautiful rose with just the correct flowers and correct arrangements to make it really beautiful.

The following children have received perfect in spelling and rapid arithmetic:

Arithmetic
Eighth Grade A—Arthur Hotard, William Zeringue, Joseph Costello, Leola Umbach.
