

PRESIDENT COOKE MAKES ADDRESS TO DEPARTMENT HEADS OF G. S. L.

Meeting Held Sunday Afternoon And Co-operation Was The Subject Discussed.

Walter P. Cooke, president of the Great Southern Lumber Co., attended a meeting of the heads of all departments foremen and office employees of the company, Sunday afternoon. He was introduced to the organization by Mayor Sullivan and Mr. Cooke gave an interesting talk on Co-operation. Following is his address.

I am grateful to Mr. Sullivan for the opportunity of meeting you this afternoon. I thank him for the kind words, which I find I have to do all the time, because, as you know Mr. Sullivan, out of the goodness of his heart, feels that someone has to tell you about it, whereas in his case every man, woman and child in this city knows of his ability, knows what he has accomplished here, and we don't have to say it.

We are working for an interesting company, and, as Mr. Sullivan intimated to you, it took a good deal of courage on the part of Frank Goodyear and his associates to invest their money and to invest so much money so far away from home in building the largest mill in the world and against the judgement of most lumbermen at the time. It all had to be planned out, it all had to be thought over before a tree was cut down here; and when you think of how much has been accomplished, how well it was planned now you can realize the stupendousness of the task when started in the mind of Mr. Goodyear up north.

I want to call your attention to what the Company has done for its employees, which we are all proud of, and that is the broadgauged way in which they were treated by the Company. I think very few of the large manufacturing concerns in the United States have done so much for comfort, health and welfare of their employees as has been done right here in Bogalusa. You have good water, you have sewers, you have electric lights, schools, a hospital and a number of other things that make your work pleasant and safe and make Bogalusa a fine place in which to live and where any man would like to bring up his family.

I want to mention one thing you gentlemen have done for the Company. You have rendered good loyal service and, better than that co-operation, to my certain knowledge for the past four or five years;

JNO. L. DAVIS WILL LEAVE NEXT SUNDAY

Severs Connection With N. O. G. N. And Will Go East To Regret Of All

It is with keen regret that the Enterprise announces that on next Sunday Jno. L. Davis, who for the past three years has been Supt. of Transportation of the N. O. G. N. offices, will leave Bogalusa. Mr. Davis tendered his resignation with the N. O. G. N. some time ago to take effect May 1. Mr. Davis' successor has not been announced.

Mr. Davis has the reputation of being one of the most popular transportation men in the country and the unusual part of his popularity is the fact that all men under him were his warmest friends. Mr. Davis is the first man of his position in the railroad business that I never heard the boys say anything against. On the contrary they were all his friends. The statement made to an Enterprise representative.

Mr. Davis has business interests which will require several days in New Orleans. He was undecided last night as to whether he would locate in New York or Chicago, having propositions from each of those cities for special railroad work.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis have made many staunch friends during their three years in the South who will regret to know of their departure but wish them success and happiness in their new home.

Blanchard Le Blanc returned this week from St. Gabriel, where he attended the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Louise Blanchard.

NEW "CHIEF" OF N. O. G. N.

Above is a likeness of William E. Farris, who has charge of the operations of the N. O. G. N., the finest short line railroad in America.

Mr. Farris has been in Bogalusa for several days and has already made friends with a large number of people. Mr. Farris is going to conduct a policy of running the railroad for the convenience of the patrons, as near as he possibly can, and incidentally try to make it pay larger dividends than ever before.

"I believe the railroads and the peoples' interests are mutual, which is good for one is good for the other. It will be our purpose to please all of the people. I am going to try and meet every man that ships over the N. O. G. N. and co-operate with all shippers in every way I can," said Mr. Farris to an Enterprise representative just before leaving Bogalusa yesterday.

tives of Bogalusa Cheer, at the 18th Annual Convention of Kings' Daughters and Sons, held at Covington La., Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week.

Both delegates report a most enjoyable time. The Convention was very fortunate this year in having with them Mrs. Anthony H. Evans, of New York, who is President of International Order of Kings' Daughters and Sons. She addressed an interesting audience at each session. The report read by Mrs. Mims proved very interesting, because of the fact that Bogalusa Cheer excels in number all circles, not only of Louisiana Branch, but of the International Order.

BOGALUSA TO CELEBRATE FOURTH; ECLIPSE LAST YEAR IF POSSIBLE

NEGRO KILLED TWO AND MAKES ESCAPE

Report That One Negro Was So Frightened That He Dropped Dead

Henry Moore committed murder upon two members of his race at ten o'clock Monday night when he emptied the contents of a shot gun into Leb Applewhite and later killed Annie Powell, a negress who befriended him. It was also stated that Otis Thompson witnessed the killing of Anna Powell, and became so frightened that he ran home and expired a few minutes afterwards. It was also reported that Thompson died from heart failure just after taking a bath and trimming a corn. All of the deaths came within a few minutes of each other and in the same vicinity.

According to the most reliable information that could be secured it appears that the killing was premeditated. Moore was recently arrested charged with assaulting Anna Powell. He was fined in the city court, the Powell woman securing his release. Since that time Moore is said to have tried to patch up the difference with her but with no success. He appeared at her home Monday night. As he entered the front door he fired a shot gun at Leb Applewhite which resulted in instant death. The negress then ran from the house but later was overtaken by Moore on the street, who fired at close range, the full load taking effect in the back inflicting a ghastly wound which caused instantaneous death. After Moore had finished his fiendish work he threw the gun at her body and then proceeded to make his escape which was successful, at the time of going to press. Bloodhounds arrived Tuesday afternoon and were out on the trail. His capture is expected at any hour.

BUSINESS OF G. S. L. BEST OF THE YEAR

Indications Point To Big Demand And Good Price For All Lumber

The number of orders received for Yellow Pine, during the past week, by the mills in this territory, is indicative of the fact that the demand is greatly increasing with the advance of spring. With this increase in demand also comes an increase in price on nearly all items. The timber market is especially active and business is being secured in good volume at the higher level of prices.

The Great Southern Lumber Company, of this place, reports an exceptionally good month, referring both to the volume of business, which they are securing, and the amount of stock which will move during the current month. They state that the amount of business, on which they are quoting, and which is being offered to them, is greater than at any time since the first of the year.

Painfully Burned.

Miss Philo Levert, sister to Levert Bros. of the Bogalusa Laundry was painfully burned Wednesday morning. She was making jelly and while removing a boiling pan full of jelly, the handle broke and the contents fell upon her right foot.

Meeting Held Wednesday Afternoon When Committee Was Appointed To Make Plans.

Bogalusa is going to celebrate the Fourth of July this year and try to eclipse if possible the event last year which went down as one of the most successful of any similar celebration in the history of the State.

A meeting was held at the City Hall Wednesday afternoon when a large number of business and professional men were present. Each expressed his opinion of being heartily in favor of the celebration.

A motion by Gov Sanders to have mayor Sullivan appoint a committee, who in turn will appoint the sub-committees, was carried. The committee selected by his honor was M. Marx, Andrew Dobbs, Z. A. Davis, M. K. Pearce and J. A. Spekenhier. This committee with the various subcommittees will make the plans and arrangements which will be made public at an early date.
