The policy of the Magic City theater in getting the best and the latest pictures and showing them at the lowest of prices has built up a patronage not enjoyed by many motion picture houses in cities the size of Bogalusa. And this story is going to appear in the Enterprise in serial form, the story being told the week before the pictures are shown. #### MISS WILSON SAID NOW TO BE ENGAGED

A Little Gossip Concerning Last Daughter Of The White House

Chicago, August 12—Frank E. Compton, a Chicago bachelor of forty, arrived yesterday in Cornish N. H., for a short visit with the family of President Wilson. He is described as "a friend of Miss Margaret Wilson," in the Associated Press dispatches. Miss Margaret is the last of the three daughters of the President remaining unmarried. More than a vague hint has been made by friends of Mr. Compton, who is a publisher, that he is either betrothed to Miss Margaret or burningly desirous to be.

In the event that an engagement is announced it will mean that the President soon will be left alone in the White House.

PLANS BIG DAY FOR THE FARMERS HERE SEP. 4TH

It is proposed by the Bogalusa Association of Commerce, the Bogalusa Truckgrower's Association and those in charge of the Public Market that the merchants and business men of Bogalusa hold on September 4th what is known as a "Frades Day." This to be held at the most likely place, the Public Market.

In order to bring closer together the farmers in the surrounding country and the merchants and residents of Bogalusa, it is suggested that farm products be brought in and sold to the highest bidder. Further, that there be an interchange, or trade, among the farmers themselves; that is, should one wish to exchange a hore or cow for other stock, it can be done.

The farmers in this Parish and in the counties adjacent to Bogalusa are not only being asked but urged to bring in anything they may have to exchange. On this occasion, Mr. Harry D. Wilson, the Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture of Louisiana, and now a very good candidate for Commissioner, will give an interesting talk on Agriculture, and there is no doubt that the event will be a great success in every way. In order to entertain the visitors, the local Y M C A Band will perform, and there will also be other attractions.
