

Don't Worry About the Money

It will be only a few more days until you will have to buy a complete outfit for your family. Perhaps you are already worrying about how you are going to dress them comfortably

There will be shoes, underwear, hats, and stockings and many other things

To buy. Don't Worry. Bring the family here, get everything they need. Pay a little down and the remainder a little each pay day. Isn't that fair enough?

Be A BOOSTER--Speak Well Of Your Town.

If you'd like to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like.
You needn't put your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you left behind.
For there's nothing that's really new,
You're knocking yourself when you knock your town.
Don't blame the town--it's "YOU."

Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else get ahead.
When everyone works and nobody shirks,
You can raise a town from the dead.

And if, while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor can make one too,
Your town will be what you want it to be,
Your town is alright--it's "YOU."

To Boom Your Town--

Talk about it.
Write about it.
Elect good men to office.
Be friendly to everybody.
Keep your sidewalks in good condition.
Keep your houses well painted.
If a poor man starts a project, help him.
If a rich man starts a project, encourage him.
Buying in other towns that which you can buy as well in your own, makes your town that much poorer.
Don't talk your town down to strangers.
If you have capital, invest in home enterprise; employ somebody.
If a project to improve the town comes up, don't hoot--investigate.
Don't let your personal antipathies get the better of your business judgement.
Follow the men who have zest and energy to go ahead--and "saw wood."
Be courteous to strangers who come among you so they will go away with a good impression of your town.
If you don't like your home town well enough to speak well of it, move out and make room for better men.
Always cheer on the man who goes for improvements. Your portion of the cost will be only what is right.
Don't discourage any proposed improvement because it is not at your door, or for fear your tax will be raised fifty cents.
Don't be afraid to "dig down" for money to help a public enterprise. You owe something to the community for being so kind as to patronize you.
DON'T get it into your head that YOUR ideas are the only correct ones as to what improvements are needed, and how they should be obtained.
A town whose citizens have no public spirit or civic pride is on the way to the cemetery. The citizen who will do nothing to boost his town is helping to dig its grave.

The citizen who grows about his town being the "worst ever" is assisting in its burial.
The business man who will not advertise is driving the hearse.
The citizen who is a chronic grumbler and always pulling back in every public enterprise is throwing bouquets on the grave.
The citizen who "knocks" and howls hard times preaches the funeral sermon.
The small town business or professional man who gives his printing to the "high flier" representative of the city printing house does not deserve the patronage of his town people.
Point to a town whose citizens count every dollar gotten from their neighbor as gain, and every dollar given to a school or college or church or library or lecture course as a loss, and you point to a town on which there rests a business and social blight, which will be known throughout your state as "a good town to move FROM."
Do YOUR part, then, as citizens! Count for something in the affairs of your town. Pledge your word and honor that, so long as you reside in a community, it will be your constant aim to "boost" it in every way you can; that you will not "knock," but will do all you can for every public enterprise that has for its object the best interests of the community; that you will submit to the rule of the majority, and not grumble if things are not always as YOU think they should be; that you will keep in mind that if a town is good enough for you to make money in, it is the legitimate place for you to spend it, and will buy everything you can of your home town merchants; that you will always speak well of your town and her people and keep silent, except in case of a public nuisance; that you will not encourage or contribute to injurious reports about your neighbors or business competitors, but will be charitable in weighing the shorts-minds of your fellows.
Practice this teaching and your town will be one into which the best families will come. Be cheerfully optimistic and feel that "the best is yet to come."
