THEODORE ROOSEVELT DIED MONDAY AT HIS HOME

Death Came to Former U. S. President While He Slept — Pulmonary Embolism Is Cause Given.

Oyster Bay N. Y., Jan. 6.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt died in his sleep early today at his home on Sagamore Hill. Death is believed to have been due to rheumatism, which affected his heart.

An Associated Press report, dated New York, says Colonel Roosevelt died from pulmonary embolism, or lodgement in the lung of a clot from a broken vein.

The Colonel suffered a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica on New Year's Day, but none believed his illness would prove fatal. The former president sat up most of Sunday and retired at 11 o'clock last night. About 4 a. m. Mrs. Roosevelt, who as the only other member of the family at Oyster Bay, went to her husband's room and found that he had died during the night.

Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned Colonel Emma Roosevelt, cousin of the former president, and he came to the Roosevelt home immediately. Telegrams were sent to the president's children, who were in other parts of the country. Two of the Colonel's sons, Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Captain Therman Roosevelt, are in service abroad.

Captain Archie Roosevelt and his wife left New York last night for Boston, where the captain's wife's father is ill. Mrs. Ethel Derby and her two children are in Alton, S. C. Details for the funeral have not been arranged, but an announcement is expected later today. Telegrams of condolence and sympathy began to pour in from all parts of the country to day as soon as the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death became known.

The former president came to his home on Sagamore Hill from the Roosevelt Hospital on Christmas Day, but a week later was stricken with a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica, from which he had been suffering for some time. The rheumatism affected the right hand and it became much swollen. He remained in his room and efforts were made to check the trouble. Last Saturday the Colonel's secretary, Miss Josephine Stricker, called to see him, but the Colonel was again asleep in his room.

Miss Stricker said today no one had any idea that death was so near at hand. Flags were placed at half mast in Oyster Bay today.

Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, whose popularity and feats of courage made him the foremost American citizen of the day, was born in New York October 27, 1858.

Mr. Roosevelt was of Holland stock, the earliest member of his family being Claes Maartenzoon von Roosevelt, settling in New York nearly 300 years ago. From Claes von Roosevelt the clan grew and prospered. They were farmers, shipbuilders and owners, and merchants of note.

Mr. Roosevelt's father, himself another Theodore, was a retired merchant, wealthy and able to bring his son up in surroundings not often accorded future great men. His mother was Martha Hulloch, a Georgian, of whom it is said that she was surpassingly fit to shape the early destinies of her children.

Undersized Child
The early years of Roosevelt's life were those of a weak, sickly child. He was undersized and white and at one time his family traveled with him as far as Egypt in search of health. Because of his physical condition his parents sought to inculcate in him a love of outdoor life, and they succeeded so well that young Theodore, at the age of 12, set his heart upon being a naturalist. This ambition led him to the fields and woods and regenerated his physical being to such an extent that when he entered Harvard in 1876 he was a robust young man.

By reason of his father's wealth every advantage was accorded Roosevelt during his college career. He was welcomed by the most select clubs, moved in the best society, maintained his own riding horse and lived in comfortable, almost luxurious quarters.

He favored the idea of woman suffrage and in 1886 he was the first to favorably on suffrage when it comes before the Senate early in the year has been started. Petitions, signed by men and women, are being circulated in every congressional district in the state.

In explaining the purpose of the new campaign, Mrs. Fankston said: "Suffrage in the state failed by a small majority. It proved that the people of Louisiana want woman suffrage." We are now trying to get the suffrage bill passed by Congress, enfranchising not only Louisiana women, but all the women of this nation. The men who fear that suffrage may be 'forced' on this state need not worry. Our Legislature will have a chance to vote on it, for it must be ratified by thirty-six states before it can become a law. We need to win both Southern and Northern states.

"A short time ago the President did not believe in national woman suffrage. He is now working hard for it. So is the Democratic National Committee. We have already won in the House of Representatives. All we now need to win in the Senate is one vote. We are therefore asking all Louisiana men and women, who believe in democracy, at home and abroad, for men and women, for this country and for the world, to write Senator Gay and tell him to vote for the national suffrage amendment. Remember that not only all of the English-speaking nations of the world have enfranchised women, but also Russia, Austria and Germany, those old autocracies. Ask Senator Gay not to keep American women from the privileges German women now enjoy."

The petition to Senator Gay is given below. Cut it out, sign it and send it to Senator Gay, addressed to Washington, D. C. Get other signers and help win suffrage from Louisiana.

Resolution Addressed to Senator Edward J. Gay
Whereas, President Wilson has urged the passage of the Federal Suffrage Amendment before the Senate of the United States, and again before the whole Congress of the United States, as a necessary war and reconstruction measure, and as a measure of justice to the women who have suffered equally with men in the great world war; and

Whereas, the Democratic leaders, including Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of Labor Wilson, William Gibbs McAdoo and Colonel House; and also the Democratic National Committee, are also supporting the Federal Suffrage Amendment; and

Whereas, all of the English-speaking nations of the world, save America, including Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, have passed measures enfranchising their women, together with even the old autocracies of Europe, such as Russia, Austria and Germany; therefore be it

Resolved, that we, men and women citizens of the state of Louisiana, call upon Senator Gay to work and to vote for the passage of the Federal Suffrage Amendment this session of Congress, thus supporting the President of the United States, and carrying out the wishes of his constituents, and be it further

Resolved, that this resolution, with the names of the petitioners attached, be sent to Senator Gay in Washington, with a request that it be read into the Congressional Record.
