According to an article in the Times-Picayune this week, regarding the statement of Mr. Frank A. Godchaux, one would think that the rice blown down in this section by the wind could be picked up by the farmers like the birds pick it. Our people are pretty good pickers, but picking rice by grain—Ouch!

Marguerite Clark in "The Goose Girl"

By the special permission of the Famous Players, dainty, inimitable Marguerite Clark is the star in Jesse L. Lasky's production of "The Goose Girl", the photodramatization of Harold McGrath's famous novel of the same name, which is to be the offering on Thursday October 14th at Victor Theatre. Miss Clark is a vision of loveliness just suited to be the heroine of such a romantic tale in kingdoms unknown and to inspire the hero with that great love which conquers all obstacles and breaks down all barriers. Miss Clark plays the role of a Princess who has been kidnapped in youth and brought up by her peasant foster-parents to guard their geese. Hence the name of the production.
