PREPARE NOW FOR FALL PORK PRODUCTION

Most Grazing Crops For Hogs Are Planted in Spring—Hogs Make Good Gains on Fall Crops.

Indications are that hogs will sell for higher prices next winter than ever before, and farmers who are preparing to reap advantage from the high market prices should not overlook the value of fall grazing crops in pork production.

Fifty-seven hogs grazed on the Experiment Station farm at Baton Rouge last fall made a gain of 5,235 pounds, or 92.7 pounds each, in seventy-five days. Beginning September 27, when the average weight was 95.9 pounds, they were grazed for twenty days on four acres of corn and soy beans, seventeen days on four acres of corn and peanuts, twenty-seven days on four acres of sweet potatoes, and eleven days on another four acres of corn and soy beans.

Full information on crops for hogs is contained in Circular No. 3, which may be obtained free by writing to the Extension Division, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

ONLY THE CATTLE TICK TRANSMITS TEXAS FEVER

Ticks Found On Dogs, Rabbits, Etc., Are Harmless To Cattle So Far as Texas Fever Is Concerned.

Many people, it seems, still believe that the methods employed in tick eradication work cannot prove successful for the reason that small animals, such as rabbits, etc., which carry ticks, cannot be treated for these parasites.

Such reasoning would be entirely logical provided all ticks found on all animals were the same kind of ticks. True, to the casual observer, all ticks have a striking similarity in appearance; but, as a matter of fact, there are quite a number of different varieties of ticks, each one being peculiar to certain animals, but do not develop on others.

Just ask your druggist for an ounce of Cocotone Skin Whitener, and if he will not supply you send twenty-five cents to The Cocotone Co., Atlanta, Ga., and they will send you a box by return mail.

Let us get busy this spring and see how many parishes we can clean up by the end of the coming season, as delay only adds to the cost of the work.

LABOR SAVING DEVICES FOR THE FARM HOME

Inexpensive and Practical Appliances That Simplify Home Management.

"Labor may be lightened and time saved in the farm home by the use of simple labor-saving devices, which can be made with an expenditure of but little time and money," says Miss Alice S. Hickman of the Extension Division, Louisiana State University.

"Progressive farmers of today are learning how to lessen labor for themselves and decrease its cost. The women are closely following this modern idea. They cannot, however, solve the all-absorbing problem of home management unless the houses are equipped with the labor-saving conveniences. They cannot work without tools. When once they are awakened to their opportunities, however, home management will keep pace with farm management and even business management."

755,000 FIRE ON COAST.

Fire which originated from sparks from the mill power plant that fell in the skidding department all but wiped out the Wena Lumber Company plant near Bay St. Louis Sunday afternoon, the loss being placed at $75,000, with $30,000 insurance. The plant will be rebuilt.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.) (Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JULY 1

ISAIAH'S CALL TO HEROIC SERVICE.

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 6. GOLDEN TEXT—Also I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.—Isa. 6:8.

The lesson committee now turn for a third quarter's lesson to a series of studies in the Old Testament as found in II Kings, Ezra and Nehemiah. As an introduction, they have chosen this chapter in the book of Isaiah.

Isaiah prophesied in the latter half of Uzziah's reign, B. C. 739 and down to the early years of the reign of Manasseh about B. C. 694 (ch. 1:1). This event took place probably B. C. 755. The place was Jerusalem; the kingdom of Israel was still in existence (for 33 years longer) being utterly destroyed in B. C. 721. The name Isaiah means "the salvation of Jehovah;" his wife is called "the prophetess;" two of his sons are named and his social position was high, as shown by his intimacy with kings. Isaiah lived in troublous times. He was a reformer seeking to rescue his nation from the sins growing out of their disobedience to God. He was the leading statesman of his time, the greatest of the prophets, an author, a heroic, single-minded, patriotic, fearless, undaunted man of great personal power and influence.

THE BOY AND HIS MOTHER.

One of our young men asks us the following question: "What do you think of a young lady while in the company of a dude masher, remarking of an old schoolmate of hers, 'that he is a good boy but tied to his mother's apron strings, and is of no good on earth.' Will not the boy come out ahead if he supports his mother?"

What is your picture, fast young man, true to life. Look at it! How do you like it? What have these characteristics made of you? What will they do for you? What has the future in store for you? unless you change your course most radically.—Ruin.

CRUDE THOUGHTS FROM THE EDITORIAL PEN

WHAT BOYS THINK THEY SHOULD LEARN. According to the idea of many of the rising generation a young man should learn to lie, to flirt, to cheat, to swear, to drink, to play billiards, to swagger in the streets, to live without work, to ogle every pretty girl he meets, to treat his elders with disrespect, to talk loud in the presence of others, to put on style whether he can afford it or not, to boast of the feminine conquests he has made, to have every slang term on his tongue's end, to gossip with his chums about his lady acquaintances, to attract all the attention to himself that he possibly can, to talk like a loafer and a fop instead of a quiet, sensible man, to call his father "the old man" and his mother "the old lady", to think illy of her every chance he gets, to turn up his nose at those quiet, sober, industrious young men who do not train in his own way, to treat his sister with any sort of regard, to treat her like an ill-bred loafer instead of like a gentleman.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy, which can be done by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. P. H. Martin, Peru, Ind., writes, "My two daughters had whooping cough. I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it worked like a charm." Obtainable everywhere.—adv.

SOUL STOMACH.

This is a mild form of indigestion. It is usually brought on by eating too rapidly or too much, or of food not suited to your digestive organs. If you will eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat but little meat and none at all for supper, you will more than likely avoid the sour stomach without taking any medicine whatever. When you have a sour stomach take one of Chamberlain's Tablets to aid digestion. Obtainable everywhere.—adv.
