When too late the people of this town will probably awake to the realization of the fact that a well organized fire department is a crying need.

If you wish to enjoy good and interesting reading matter send for a copy of Kate Field's Washington, or you can secure it through his office.

The crops between Lafayette and Calo along the line of the Southern Pacific railroad are in splendid condition and are growing finely.

Broussardville and vicinity must indeed be a great egg and poultry region. No less than 75 empty egg boxes were put out by the express company at that place last Sunday.

When you need any kind of printing The Gazette would be pleased to have you look over the samples in the office. We are confident we can suit you in price and workmanship.

Probably the only growing camphor tree in the State except the one in Horticultural Hall at Audubon Park, New Orleans, is to be found on Father Forge's premises in this town.

The Gazette was pained to learn Monday of the illness of Mr. A. C. Ordway, the editor of the Advertiser. He left Wednesday for New Orleans, and we hope he will soon return in good health.

The altar in the Catholic church of Lafayette is one of the handsomest in the State. It's striking simplicity—a pure white, with a running streak of gold together with a few dazzling religious statues, form the sole ornamentation, constituting a magnificent ensemble, beautiful to behold and reverent to contemplate.

If anything the Southern Cultivator for May is the most interesting number yet issued. This splendid publication, replete with matter that forms a complete text book on farming should be in the hands of every farmer in the parish. The Gazette will get it for you a whole year for 90 cents.

One of the prettiest laid out flower gardens around is the one at the railroad station house near Broussardville. The pretty flowers in bloom and the bed of young growing china trees are especially attractive. We compliment the owner on his admirable taste.

We received agreeable visits this week from our friends, R. E. Cunningham, the handsome young editor of the Rayne Ranger, and jovial Welman Bradford, a prominent and hustling business man from the same burg. They are at home in The Gazette office.

A certain young lady not a hundred miles away having no further use for them, for obvious reasons, is now stuffing her pillow with her old love letters. More than likely the pillow will be soft.

Last week pork was selling for $30 a barrel and cotton for about 6 cents a pound. It is not about time for our farmers to understand that this is an object lesson which they should heed, especially since they could raise their own pork with so little trouble and expense?

Rev. Father Healy is in Houston.

Never let the opportunity to put in a good word for your town escape.

Affidavits were sworn out against J. Danos and L. Stoltz, for false registering and illegal voting. Both parties have been arrested and released on a $100 bond each.

Cash Item, is a handsome horse, a brother to Maud S, and has a record, as a trotter, of 2:12, although he has covered a mile in 2:25. This beautiful horse can be seen at the stable of Mr. E. Constantia.

Our friend, Mr. Albert Delahoussaye, is having a neat fence erected on his premises, which, when finished, will greatly embellish the already pretty surroundings.

Dr. A. Mayer, assistant quarantine physician was in Lafayette this week shaking hands with his numerous friends. The Doctor is looking in fine health.

To the farmers of Lafayette: Have you ever thought over the fact that should you put in just about half the labor that your Western neighbor does, that you would be well off in this world's goods in a few years?

Civic pride, unity of action, intelligent discussion, are elements essential to the progress of any community. With these and keeping everlastingly at it must bring results, which will be fruitful of prosperity.

The Gazette senior made flying a trip to St. Martinville Sunday, and was pleased to note the many evidences of prosperity in the old town, particularly noticeable is the striking Fourmet brick building whereon the furnishing touches are being put.

The Gazette was glad to meet its young friend P. E. Broussard Tuesday. Paul has resigned a very lucrative position in New Iberia to try his chances in New Orleans, wisely thinking that a city offers better opportunities for him to ascend the ladder of position and wealth.

Felix E. Voorhies, after some weeks employment in the wild and woolly Brazos bottoms of Texas, at Sugarland plantation, returned home Monday. Felix gives a vivid description of the toughness of the place, and we don't blame him for wishing to leave a country with such surroundings. After all, no place like Louisiana.

It must have been the tail end of the devastating cyclone sweeping the Southwestern part of the country that struck Lafayette Monday night. The wind blew furiously, the flashing and blinding lightning followed by roaring peals of thunder and a heavy downpour of rain, kept up with pitiless monotony during the greater part of the night.

Thursday evening young Alfred Voorhies with the two little girls of Mr. Labe, were out buggy riding and met with an accident; they met a runaway team, which frightened their horse, and he made a dash. In making a sharp turn around a corner, the buggy tilted low, and the girls either fell or jumped out, fortunately without receiving a scratch. The horse was finally subdued, and no damage done.

Drs. J. D. Trahan, F. R. Tolson and F. J. Mouton attended the meeting of the Attakapas Medical Association at New Iberia Tuesday. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term: president, Dr. J. D. Trahan; vice-president, Dr. F. King; secretary and treasurer, Dr. M. Tarlton; annual orator, Dr. F. J. Mouton. The next meeting of the Association will be held in Lake Charles.

Falk, Leon Plosky, Manuel Pellerin, Albert Theall and Edward Pellerin. Fishing, sailing, and sailing were some of the sports indulged in, and the party returned in the evening delighted with the day's outing.

It having reached our ears that a project was on foot looking toward the building of a branch railroad from Lafayette to Breaux Bridge, by the Southern Pacific company providing certain inducements were granted by the people along the proposed route, The Gazette started out on an investigating tour. A call was made on Judge Parkinson, and inquiry made as to the truth of the rumor, and the judge answered that he knew nothing of the matter, and as he is the representative of the company, we were satisfied that we had run down an idle rumor.

It is not often that a corporation is so fortunate as to possess in office a set of gentlemen so well equipped for the duties to which they have been called, as were recently elected by the people of the town of Carencro. The chief executive officer Mr. D. A. Dimitry, is a gentleman of intelligence, fine discernment and possesses a real regard for his town. Associated with him are as intelligent a body of men as can be found anywhere and it goes without saying that Carencro's interests are placed in hands that will leave nothing undone to advance her prosperity. We compliment the people on their wise selection.

Last Saturday fire destroyed the residence of Mr. John Bowen. Hardly anything was saved. The fire originated in the kitchen and when discovered had gained such headway that it could not be put out with the means at hand. So, all the large crowd present could do was to look on and see the devouring flames sweeping everything away. Will the people of the town heed the lesson taught by this fire, and get together and organize a fire department? Now is the time to act.

The fig crop is very promising.

In passing sentence upon the several parties convicted at the last term of court, the judge used a word in a sense that appears rather singular to us: "$10 inclusive of cost, in default to be 15 days in jail." Italics are ours. Instead of making the word inclusive the very reverse of the word exclusive it is in this case synonymous. We do not question its meaning in law as employed in the illustration above, but simply ask if it is any wonder that the ordinary lay mind gets badly confused when confronted with the application of ordinary words after being engrained in the law books?

Something Should Be Done.

A gentleman who served on the jury in the Kerlogan case, which was locked up three days and two nights, stated to The Gazette that while the food was all that could be desired, those living outside of the town endured much inconvenience from the want of bedding, although when allowed the privilege of the court-room it was not near as bad as when locked up in one of the lower rooms, and that the parish should, in cases like this, furnish cots to the jury-men; that, as it is at present, being kept in duration vile to decide matters of momentous issue, they are forced to sit up without proper rest through the long and tedious nights, or snatch whatever sleep they can in cat-naps on hard benches, tables or floor, without pillows, mattresses or blankets, and it is decidedly uncomfortable. The Gazette believes there is room for improvement in this direction.

The Municipal Election.

Bonnet, being five from what is commonly known as the Vigneaux ticket, including the mayor; and two from the ticket commonly known as the Bradley ticket, and one tie. We heard that a contest has been filed on the grounds of illegal voting.

Sentences Pronounced.

Judge Allen passed sentences on the following parties convicted at the recent session of court:

Erate Domond, larceny, 2 years in the penitentiary.

Constant Trez, discharging pistol on public highway, $10 fine and costs or 15 days in parish jail.

Thomas Doyle, violation of labor contract, 30 days in jail from March 30.

Louis Judice, carrying concealed weapons, $15 fine and costs or 15 days in jail.

Frank Riddle, conspiracy to murder, bond fixed at $50.

Irwin Meaux, murder, qualified verdict, life sentence in the State penitentiary.

Willie Foreman, manslaughter, sentenced to penitentiary for 19 years and to pay a fine of $20.

In passing sentence upon the two latter Judge Allen spoke in feeling terms, portraying vividly the enormity of their crimes, of the sympathy entertained for their immediate families, and plainly showed that he was performing an obligatory, but painful duty.

Meaux has been married just about one month, and Willie Foreman has a young wife and baby. Both are young men under the ages of thirty.

Carencro News.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Mr. A. C. Guilbeau went to New Orleans a few days since to purchase a large stock of goods. He now occupies the large store building recently vacated by G. H. Guilbeau.

Dr. W. W. Leasly and family returned home last Wednesday week, from Lecoboro, where they had been a couple of weeks.

Mr. Ludovic Guilbeau, Carencro's "champion fisherman" while fishing at Bayou St. Claire a few days ago, landed 180 perch in 180 minutes. His companion Mr. Odon Guidry caught 132 in the same length of time. This is a record hard to beat.

"Bourbon Jr." the fine horse purchased by Mr. A. C. Guilbeau from Dr. A. C. Dario, is a handsome blood bay, with black points. He is fully 16 hands high, lengthy, but very symmetrically formed, fine head and ear, large bone and heavy muscle. Mr. Guilbeau is very proud of his purchase, and has good reasons for being so.

A number of our people went to Opelousas last Sunday with the excursion party.

Messrs. Raoul Jeanmar, of Houma, and Louis Veazey, of New Iberia, took advantage of the excursion to spend a few hours with relatives here.

There is considerable improvements going on in the way of whitewashing and painting fences and buildings in the south end of town. Let the good work continue.

Last Sunday's edition of the Times Democrat contained the first part of the biography of the Mouton family. It will no doubt prove very interesting and instructive to all who would like to learn the ancestry of a family that has furnished so many bright minds to the commercial and literary world, as well as the higher professions.

At the municipal election held here last Monday the following ticket was elected: mayor, D. A. Dimitry; Councilmen, Dr. T. W. Courtney, Dr. J. F. Frances, Saule Broussard, A. Cheffer, and Henry Crouchet.

Railroad men deserve the credit of being the most charitable men in the world. Whenever misfortune befalls any of their companions, they are always more than willing to contribute their mite, or do all in their power to render assistance.

Archbishop Janssens will visit Carencro on June the 1st, when a grand reception will be tendered him.—TODIEM VERBIS.
