Nothing to do With It

The Gazette is requested to state that the so-called "Veterans' Ball" to take place at Fall's hall tonight has no connection with the celebration or picnic which will be held to-day at Beausejour Park under the auspices of the Frank Gardner Camp of U. C. V's.

Felix Bienvenu, the wide-awake representative of the St. Martin Oil Mills, was in Lafayette several days recently.

Many cigars that are sold for 10c do not come up to the Daily States. Try one and be convinced. Ask P. Demanade.

Geo. K. Bradford, the well-known civil engineer and real-estate agent from Rayne, was in Lafayette Tuesday.

The dictionary doesn't give any better word to apply to the BUCKSKIN BREECHES than "BEST." Best in this case means care in cutting, best thread, stay-on buttons and perfect fit. They will wear as well as the jeans will allow. We use a better grade of jeans than the other manufacturers. We use a jeans that has almost no wear out to it. You can get your money back if you find them anything other than best.

The Road to Breaux Bridge.

We learn from the Valley of the Teche that the short road between this town and Breaux Bridge is now completed, the contractor having finished work last Wednesday. This road considerably shortens the route to our sister town and it is with much pleasure that the news of its completion will be received by our people. As it seems that we cannot have railway communication with our neighbors, let us, at least, make the route overland as short as possible, and it is of mutual interest that it be always kept in good traveling condition. The people of Breaux Bridge and Lafayette have always been on friendly terms and it is to be hoped that the same brotherly feeling will continue to exist. During the last two or three years a large number of families from Breaux Bridge have moved to Lafayette, and now form part of our population. By curtailing the distance between the two towns, cultivating a spirit of goodfellowship, encouraging commercial intercourse and adding in every possible way to the already friendly relations much good will be sure to follow.

DAVIS' WILD CHERRY AND TAR will cure your Cough or Cold. 50c. and $1.00.

Mr. J. K. Flower, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effective in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

A Monkey on the Warpath.

Quite a commotion was caused in the neighborhood of the Catholic church last Wednesday by the appearance of the monkey which is kept caged up at the presbytery. It seems that this much spoken-of animal escaped from his cage and made things decidedly lively in that usually quiet section of the town. A well colored marriage was about to be solemnized and the news that the monkey was out soon spread terror among the attendants, the feminine portion of the assembly making desperate efforts to make themselves as scarce as possible. It would seem that this monkey enjoys a very unenviable reputation, if we are to judge from the warlike demonstrations that his escape appears to have occasioned. It is in the neighborhood where he is best known that this feeling seems to prevail. Whether this enmity is based merely on prejudice, or not, he is regarded with suspicion by his closest neighbors, some of whom told The Gazette man that had he given them an opportunity he would have been severely dealt with. After surveying the grounds around the church and frightening the women and children, some one sicked the dogs at him. He is very much afraid of the dogs and got out of their reach in less time than it takes to say Jack Robertson. He next gave his attention to two children of Mr. Mayfield who were playing in front of their home. We are informed that one of the children was either bitten or scratched about the back by the monkey. Needless to say that the little ones were naturally much affected, though the wound is not painful. The faithful dog was again brought into service and Mr. Monkey made a straight shoot for his cage for protection.

It is to be hoped that those in charge of this monkey will not allow him to escape in the future. He is not only a positive nuisance but he is absolutely dangerous. Just as well have any other wild beast roam at large as to let this vicious brute terrorize women and children.

The Veterans.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the veterans' picnic to-day has not been idle as is evidenced by the following program: 1st. Veterans and guests will assemble at the bridge on Bayou Vermilion, near Beausejour Park, at 11 o'clock, sharp. The command will form on the bridge with sponsor of camp, Mrs. Gen. Frank Gardner, at the head of column with banner, accompanied by Hon. A. C. Allen, speaker of the day.

2d. Widows and wives of Confederate soldiers.

3rd. Members of General Frank Gardner Camp.

4th. All members of the G. A. R.

5th. All invited guests.

The column when formed will march two by two (double file) to the grounds, where the following program will be rendered.

PROGRAM. Hon. A. C. Allen. Recitation—"Conquered Banner" Miss May Bradley. Orator (in French), Judge C. DeBaillon. "The Word of Robert E. Lee" Robert H. McFadden. Orator (in French), Hon. Julian Mouton. "The Prayer of the South" Miss Abbott. Other recitations and songs will be rendered.

Remember that you can get cane knives of all kinds at Moss Bros. & Co's. Price 40 and 50 cents each. Cheaper by half dozen or more.

Court Items.

Judge Allen adjourned court last Tuesday. The following parties were convicted to the penitentiary. State vs. Burl Lewis, tried by the jury, guilty of shooting with intent to kill; confinement in the State penitentiary for two and one-half years.

State vs. Jessie Philips, horse stealing, pleaded guilty; one year at hard labor in the State penitentiary. State vs. Tolly Jones, larceny, plea of guilty; three months at hard labor in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Wilson Joseph, embezzlement, plea of not guilty, trial by jury, guilty, confinement at hard labor for one year in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Alex Navarre, trial by jury, plea of not guilty, convicted of burglary and sentenced to ten years at hard labor in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Jas. Royer, shooting with intent to murder, trial by jury, plea of not guilty, verdict guilty; sentenced to hard labor for seven years in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Willis Simms, larceny, plea of guilty; confinement at hard labor for one year in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Joe Andrus, shooting with intent to murder, plea of not guilty, trial by jury; convicted and sentenced to confinement at hard labor for two years in the State penitentiary.

"While down in the southwestern part of the State some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of The Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale by all druggists.

Martin Bagley.

Above is presented to the readers of The Gazette the picture of Mr. Martin Bagley, who was recently tried in this town for murder and acquitted. The story of the crime is generally known and we will not repeat it. Mr. Bagley is a planter in Vermilion parish where he has a wife and children. In connection with this we will say that the statement made in The Times-Democrat that he is a Mason is erroneous.

Some Good Work.

At 11 o'clock Saturday night Mr. Alcide Begnaud called upon Sheriff Broussard and informed him that at about 8:30 o'clock the same night, while on the public road near Scott and peacefully going to his home, he was shot at by one of a gang of negroes who were coming toward Lafayette. Mr. Begnaud related that he was positive they were negroes, but he could not identify any of them. He met them near Scott, and, being in a buggy, he drove to the right, giving the negroes, who were in two gigs, ample room to pass. It seemed to Mr. Begnaud, however, that one of the horses was being driven directly toward his buggy. He cried aloud, "Hold on!" in order to avoid a collision. Thereupon, one of the negroes drew a revolver and fired at him, causing his horse to become frightened and unmanageable, making pursuit impossible.

Sheriff Broussard, Danton Veazey and Hebert Billaud, acting upon this information, started in pursuit of the culprits. When it is considered that Mr. Begnaud had failed to recognize anyone, and that the shooting occurred early in the night, the task of the sheriff to arrest the right parties was an undertaking which required no small amount of energy and considerable detective skill. But, with that usual dauntless spirit which has always characterized "Ike" and made him a terror to evil-doers throughout Southwest Louisiana, he and his deputies went to the spot where the shooting took place and waited there, in the hope that the negroes who had done the shooting would return that way to their homes during the night.

At about 3 o'clock in the morning the sheriff spied a negro coming up the road. He placed him under arrest and proceeded to question him. It was learned from him that during that day there had been a game of base ball played at Danson, and that some parties from Lafayette had gone there in gigs. Among the party he mentioned the names of Joe Andrus, Joe Chevalier and two Derousselle boys. The sheriff's long experience with the criminal classes of this parish served him well in this case. He immediately came to the conclusion that Joe Andrus was the man he wanted, but as a precautionary measure he first located the Derousselle boys.

They denied having shot any one, but told the sheriff that they knew something about the shooting. They made a statement which corroborated with that of Mr. Begnaud, and said that they rode in a gig; that immediately behind them was Joe Andrus and Joe Chevalier, driving in a gig, and that one of them did the shooting. In answer to a question from the sheriff, they said it was the one seated on the right side of the gig who had fired the shot. Andrus and Chevalier were later located, and it was ascertained that the former was the one who sat on the right side and drove. Chevalier gave the whole thing away, and said that Joe Andrus was his companion in the gig and was the one who had done the shooting. Both were charged with complicity in the crime, and the Derousselle boys were released.

We compliment Sheriff Broussard upon this fine piece of work. At 11 o'clock he heard of the shooting and started out without a single clue, and at daylight he had his game behind the bars, peacefully meditating upon a gloomy future.—Creole-American.

The grand jury having been discharged District Attorney Gorly filed a bill of information against Andrus who was tried by a jury Wednesday and convicted. Andrus is considered a bad character. Judge Allen sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary.

At Royville.

The year's cotton crop has been raised on a 4 cent basis, the farmer has been taught the lesson of his life, and he should rejoice. This section of the parish of Lafayette was sorely crippled last fall as the disastrously low prices weighed heavily on seven-eighths of our farmers who were unable to settle their debts. The spring of 1895 will also be long remembered, as fuel was added to the burning embers, by the refusal of the merchants to advance food and clothing to the farmers, after having "swiped" in all the crop of '94. Does there not exist some gratitude for an honest man who has toiled the whole year and who falls a victim to circumstances? Many a farmer was given the most unsympathetic "No" a man can tell a another. The only excuse the merchant gave was that he was in favor of killing the "credit system." None desired the abolishment of the credit system more than "Cherokee," but he believed that other than the "Crushing System" should have been adopted. It is indeed fortunate that our people are endowed with undaunted courage, as there is no telling what they would have suffered. Now, a word to the farmers. Be careful as it is easy to surmise the meaning of a closely stocked store. The book is baited. Your crops are short, but they are bringing very good prices and you will easily pay the little balance due since last year, and some hard-earned dollars will be left you. Bear in mind that those dollars were made under trying circumstances, and by remembering the stigma cast upon you at the beginning of this year, you will not be baited nor will you be lured. Farmers, it is now in your power to slaughter this credit system, but then kill it humanely, and in a manner worthy of an honest farmer.

Baxter Clegg, known far and wide as an all-round genial fellow, was in Royville last week talking cotton. Clegg buys cotton and pays highest market prices.

Misses Edna and Ada Olivier and Ada Charquois were visiting Dr. Scranton's family Sunday.

Messrs. Robt. Richard and Raoul Pellerin spent Sunday with friends.

Dominique Bonnemaison is visiting in Beaumont, Texas.

Messrs. Darnas Landry, Romain Melancon and others have returned from a pleasant trip to the Sea Shore.

Judge Meaux and brother, of the seventh ward, were in town Sunday.

With Foster and McEnery again pitched against each other, Oh, how funny will it be!

Dr. and Mrs. Duplex were in Lafayette Tuesday.

The Billaud Refinery started operation since last week.

We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to the marriage of Miss Marie Broussard, one of Mauriceville's favorite belles, to Mr. Nic Landry, a young business man of that town. The ceremony will take place at high mass on Oct. 24.

Miss Ada Bouc is visiting friends in Royville.

Mr. Polite Fabre was married Wednesday to Miss Langlais. To the young couple "Cherokee" offers his best wishes.

CHEROKEE.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound over the seat of pain, will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Gen. Harrison's Literary Work.

It is announced that ex-President Benjamin Harrison is engaged in writing a series of magazine articles for The Ladies' Home Journal, in which periodical they will begin in the December number. The series will be called "This Country of Ours," and will consist of ten articles and probably more. The papers are being written by General Harrison especially for the purpose of growing, widespread desire on their part to intelligently understand the workings of our Government and the great National questions. It will be the aim of the articles to explain in the clear and concise style for which the ex-President is famous, just what the United States Government means; the origin and meaning of the Constitution; how laws are enacted and enforced; what the powers of the President and other officials are; what the judiciary system means; how our foreign relations are brought about and their meaning; how Congress and the Senate legislate, in fact, a complete explanation of the Government told in a popular way. Gen. Harrison writes the articles from the standpoint of a citizen who makes his own laws, and he has no bearing on politics whatever. While directly intended for women, the articles will naturally have a much broader scope and likewise interest men and especially young men.
