The office of superintendent of public education is just as important as that of governor. A man should be selected for that position on account of his fitness and the question of "political pull" should be left entirely out in making the nomination.

Sore Throat. Any ordinary case may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm as directed with each bottle. This medicine is also famous for its cures of rheumatism, lame back and deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by all druggists.

Waterworks and electric lights are the two things uppermost in the people's mind. All agree that we must and will have them and the only question now is how much longer are we to wait.

The Committee at Work.
The joint committee of the B. M. A. and City Council has not been inactive but quite the contrary. It has been at work quietly but effectively taking pointers and getting all the information obtainable on the subject of waterworks and electric lights. Bids for the survey of the corporation will be received until the 20th of this month.

The people of our sister town, Carencro, had a distinguished visitor during the past week. Bishop Meerschaert, of Indian Territory, who preached the French sermon at the coronation ceremonies of "Our Lady of Prompt Succor" in New Orleans last Sunday, was the guest of Father Laforest, the popular and hospitable priest of Carencro. The reverend father came to Lafayette Wednesday and joined the bishop who came from New Orleans. From here they went to Carencro.

It is with pleasure that we note the growth of Miss Maud Boas' private school. It has already an enrollment of over forty pupils and the attendance is constantly increasing. The following is the roll of honor for the last month:

Four thousand and eight hundred bales of cotton were shipped from Broussardville during the season of 1892-3. In the following season, 1893-4, 4500 bales were shipped. This year there had been only 1076 bales shipped up to Nov. 12—not half of what was shipped up to that date last year. A gentleman, who is well-posted in such matters, informed The Gazette that the number of bales shipped from that point this year would hardly amount to much over 2000. These figures give an idea of the shortage.

Messrs. C. F. Moore & Co., Newberg, Ore., say: "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than all others put together, and it always gives satisfaction." Mr. J. F. Attention is called to the note added to the advertisement of the Columbia Rice Mill in this issue, stating "good quality (Japan Rough) nets considerably more than equal grade in Carolina and Honduras." This is certainly encouraging to those of our farmers who have this year raised more or less of the above mentioned kind, and it is well worth remembering when planting time shall come around next year. Another thing, however, ought equally to be borne in mind, and that is, the necessity of keeping every different kind, whether Japan, Carolina or Honduras, distinct and separate—one from the other. Hybrids as the rule are degenerated and it certainly holds true in rice.

Ladies, get a box of Fire Kindles at DeBlanc's wood and coal yard. One little box 6x12 inches containing 300 fires. One tabesopoful to build one fire. No soiling of the hands, no vexation. Full directions on each box. Price, 25c. per box.

Constable Malagari brought a young man named George Bienvenu to town Wednesday and delivered him over to Hebert Billaud to be entered on the list of regular boarders at the Parish Hotel. Bienvenu is charged with the serious crime of burglary and should his guilt be established the future is dark indeed for him. The affidavit which was made before Judge Sidney Greig alleges that Bienvenu entered the house of Alcee Landry some days ago and carried away a gold watch and chain valued at $20, $15 in green backs, $3 in silver, 15 cents in nickles, two razors, one tin bank and a lot of papers. If these allegations be true Bienvenu meant business and was bent on making a big haul.

Death of Ernest Constantin.
Some nine months ago the writer was invited to the home of Mr. Ernest Constantin. A number of friends and relatives had gathered there to celebrate in a quiet, unostentatious way the 49th anniversary of Mr. Constantin and to wish him many more years on this earth. Little did we think then that he had reached the last mile-post of his earthly voyage and that we would be called upon to chronicle his death before another twelve-month had rolled by. Though apparently enjoying good health and giving every indication of a yet robust constitution, he was only a short distance from that awful moment when man must give up this life to go to that undiscovered country. Mr. Constantin was sick several weeks before the end came, and during his sickness he expressed the opinion that his life would soon be brought to a close. He seemed to know that death was near, but he feared it not; he saw its approach and met it bravely and courageously. He died surrounded by a loving wife and devoted relatives, who had nursed him during his illness.

Ernest Constantin was born in this parish 49 years and 9 months ago, and his life was spent here with the exception of the time he served in the Confederate army, having been a member of Company K., 18th, Louisiana Regiment. He was a good soldier and performed his duties during the war with commendable devotion. After the war he lived some years on his farm in this parish and subsequently moved to this town, where he remained in business up to the time of his death. He was a worthy member of Lodge 3294 Knights of Honor. He was one of the first to join that society in Lafayette and he stood high in the esteem of his brothers who attended his funeral in a body and performed the last sad rites of the order over his grave. He was a member of General Frank Gardner's Camp of Confederate Veterans. This association followed the remains to their last resting place. His death will be sincerely regretted by many who enjoyed friendly relations with him. He was a good soldier, an honest man, and a useful citizen.

His funeral Tuesday evening was very largely attended.

Dead Sure This Time.
We are authentically informed that Mr. J. W. Brown, Jr., of Camden, Ark., will build an ice-factory in Lafayette within the next ninety days. A letter from that gentleman to a committee of the B. M. A. brings the good news that Mr. McGill, manager of the proposed factory, would soon be here to make the necessary arrangements to begin work at once. The Gazette congratulates the gentlemen whose efforts have brought about such happy results, as success was not achieved in this matter without a considerable amount of hustling. Score "one horse" on Mossback. The next "horse" will be the waterworks.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills." It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by all druggists.

Dr. Rene Martin was in Lafayette this week on a visit to his brother, Dr. G. A. Martin. He had just returned from Crowley where he intends locating in the near future. Dr. Martin graduated from the Hiwassee College in Tennessee in 1878 and subsequently attended lectures at the Tulane University. He has practiced medicine in Breaux Bridge for the last ten years with much success, having made a large and lucrative clientele which he has reluctantly decided to abandon to open an office in Crowley which place offers a wider field for the practice of his profession. The doctor is a very enterprising and popular gentleman and skillful physician and we have no doubt that he will be as successful in the future as he has been in the past.

Women know more about clothes in general than men. We have our strongest friends among the gentle sex. They endorse the BUCKSKIN BREECHES because they know that they are the best; because the buttons stay on and the seams don't rip. Then they like to see a man's clothes fit. Our pants wear well, fit well, and look neat.

We have received this week from Mr. H. S. Kneidler, the author, a very handsome book entitled, "Through Storyland to Sunset Seas." It is an exceedingly well gotten up volume, written in an interesting style and furnishes a large amount of information concerning the country along the Southern Pacific road from New Orleans to the Pacific Coast. The illustrations are splendid, especially those representing scenes on the Teche.

In Mr. Kneidler's own words: "The description takes you where the roads lead—from the quaint historic city of New Orleans through the bayou region of Louisiana, where summer lingers and poetry is the hand-maiden of romance, across the sugar and rice and cotton country, into the cathedral aisles of the vast pine forests. Then beyond, where the great plains of Texas reach to far-off sky lines, through quaint towns and cities, where foreign speech and manners mingle with our Anglo-Saxon civilization. By the pillared Canon of the Rio Grande the way leads, and past the sepulchral cleft which the Pecos was worn in the bosom of the earth. On farther yet are the dim blue mountains and cacti-covered, tradition-fraught plains of New Mexico and Arizona; the sand-girdled Gila and the implacable, mysterious Colorado that steadfastly rolls to its union with the California Gulf. Then comes the wonderland of the Pacific Coast—the jeweled, flower-begirt valleys and snow-clad peaks of California; the glint of azure skies and sapphire seas; of vine-clad hills and rose-embowered homes encircling groves of olive and of orange. Up the great San Joaquin Valley you go, and down the coast line, with many places of interest on the way to claim attention. There is a tour of San Francisco, with pen pictures of its points of interest; a suggestion of the beauties to be seen on a run up the valley of the mad Sacramento; close skirting Shasta's rugged sides; the passage of the Siskiyou, down Rogue River Valley to Portland and the majestic Columbia. Then, too, the story takes you eastward beyond the Sierras, by Donner's Lake, the wild Truckee River, the mysterious sink of the Humboldt, and to Ogden and Salt Lake City, lying close by the Dead Sea of America."

Read This, People.
The State Agricultural Association has accepted an invitation and will hold its next meeting in Lafayette. The enterprising and progressive people of that city will side-advance and push ahead town will show the appreciation by giving the association a fine reception.—Shreveport Judge.

The Gazette has tried to impress upon the people of this town the necessity of extending a fitting reception to the State Agricultural Association which will meet in Lafayette some time in January. From the above item it may be seen what is expected of us, and it is to be hoped that the committee appointed by the Police Jury will do its duty and not let things go by default.

Resolutions of Respect.
To the Officers and Members of Lafayette Lodge No. 3294, Knights of Honor:
The undersigned, your committee appointed to draft a memorial on the death of our brother, Ernest Constantin, which sad event occurred on the 11th inst., beg leave to submit the following:
Ernest Constantin became a member of our lodge in December, 1885, and by his death a true and consistent Knight has been called to his final account. He connected himself with the order when members here were few and the lodge was struggling for existence, and we, who have come after, testify that he was one of those who proved his faith by his works and thereby materially assisted in advancing the cause in this community; therefore, be it
Resolved, That by the death of Ernest Constantin Lafayette Lodge loses a worthy member and the community a useful citizen.
Resolved, That in token of our regret for the loss of our brother, that the members of Lafayette Lodge Knights of Honor wear the usual badge of mourning for the period of thirty days and as a tribute to his memory, that this report be spread upon the minutes, and a copy duly transmitted to his family.
Resolved, further, That the Lafayette Advertiser and the Lafayette Gazette be requested to publish the foregoing.
Respectfully submitted by the committee,

A Call.
ISLE PILETTI, Nov. 14, 1895.
To the Gazette:—The Democratic State Central Executive Committee having fixed the State Convention at Shreveport, Dec. 18, 1895, and the Democratic Judicial Committee of this district which met at Abbeville having called a convention at Lafayette for Saturday, the 21st day of December, 1895, the members of the Democratic Parish Executive Committee of this parish are urgently requested to meet at the court-house in Lafayette, La., on Thursday, Nov. 21, 1895, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of taking such action as may be necessary for the selection of delegates to said conventions, and to take such other measures which may be deemed to be in the interest of the democracy of this parish. J. O. BROUSSARD, President pro tem.

LOST—From Gen. F. F. Myles' place, a mile south of Lafayette, a setter bird dog black, white and tan. Has been lost several days. Liberal reward to her recovery.

At Royville.
Mr. A. L. Dyer returned Saturday from Sunset, La., where he had purchased two fine Jersey cows.
Miss Lydia Leblanc and Zalmé Broussard, two Lake Simontet belles, spent Sunday in Royville, the guests of friends.
Misses Nita and Ruby Scranton were visiting in Lafayette Thursday.
Amongst some of the wide-awake weeklies adorning "Cherokee's" desk every Saturday, the Vermilion Star stands as a fair example of a newswy and breezy country sheet.

A flying-horse apparatus with organ attachment nightly entertains Royvilleans with sweet selections. The few picayunes in circulation will find a welcome home.
His many friends will be shocked to hear of young Flory's horrible death while at work near Loreauville in a sugar refinery. The unfortunate young gentleman was cleaning pipes when he missed a nut, falling into a tank of boiling syrup. To the bereaved parents we offer our deepest sympathy.

Joe G. Leblanc was visiting his relatives at Abbeville Sunday. Joe says "relatives," but he means his "best girl," too.
A late letter from our friend, Alcibiade Broussard, informs us that this excellent young gentleman is hard at work mastering every bit of knowledge coming in contact with him. Mr. Broussard is a State Normal student, is a self-made man, and we predict for him a very bright future.

The hot October and November weather was broken Sunday. Since then, stiff north winds are being felt, and overcast and macintoshes are the program of the hour.
Royville is thoroughly placarded with circus posters. The corporation jail presents a picturesque appearance in its new garb.
Dr. and Mrs. Duplex, with their interesting little family of four boys, returned Saturday from a pleasant fifteen days' outing in the Crescent City.

Misses Maud and Rena Young were visiting in Lafayette Tuesday.
Dr. Scranton was calling on friends at Lafayette Monday.
Mr. Domengaux attended Col. Farrar's lecture, "Johnny Reb," Wednesday evening.
Hon. O. Cade is spending some time with his family at Bellevue.

Gen. Myles, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, passed through Royville Tuesday on their way to Jefferson's lake.
Col. Gus Breaux spent Friday evening with his nephew, Dr. G. W. Scranton.
Messrs. P. B. Roy, H. Thell, N. Higginbotham and Jack Bonnemaison are having a good old time at Cheniere-a-la-Croix. CHEKOKEE.

The Stock Law.
In accordance with the mayor's proclamation an election was held to obtain the sense of the voters on the stock law question. One hundred and thirteen votes were polled for repeal, and as this number does not make a majority of the voters of the town, we understand that the law will stand as it is now.

Over in Utah the Republicans joined forces with the Mormons to defeat the Democrats. Pretty bad ideas for the party of "high, moral ideas."
