

White Teeth

are generally perfect and sound, and at all events are a much prettier feature of the mouth than dirty, discolored teeth.

Then Again,

when kept clean and white, are less liable to decay, which is due to thoughtlessness in teeth care. All teeth preparations in a general way are good. We have them all. Some better than others.

Euthymol Tooth Paste and the S. S. White Tooth Powder are endorsed by all dentists. We know that these powders are as pure, and as beneficial to the teeth as is possible to obtain. We have them at the attention should be given in selecting a tooth brush, that you would in selecting a tooth wash. It is not all people that can use a stiff or very hard tooth brush. And yet there are some that find a hard, or stiff brush best, then others a soft brush. Our stock of tooth brushes vary in prices, from 10 to 75 cents, each.

Moss Pharmacy.

The Same

There is no question, but that we can please every body when buying tooth brushes. When you are in need of a good tooth brush remember the place.

BROUSSARD-SCRANTON MEETINGS SUNDAY.

Large Meetings at Royville and Broussard.

Democratic rallies were held Sunday at Royville and Broussardville, at which large representative audiences endorsed the candidacies of the gentlemen forming the Broussard-Scranton ticket. Those present were enthusiastic in their expressions of support to the ticket, and the remarks of the speakers were generously applauded.

About three hundred voters were in attendance at Royville. The meeting was held in the Catholic church-yard in the shade of the oak-grove. Mr. P. B. Roy was chosen president on motion of Judge Parent, and the vice-presidents chosen were Dupre Hulin, Francois LeBlanc, Andre Hebert, Theodore Morvant, Gerard Romero, A. L. Dyer, Dupre Breaux, and Harrison Theall.

Judge Julian Mouton and Dr. G. A. Martin made addresses in French and explained the issues presented to the voters in the coming primary.

Dr. Geo. W. Scranton, whose home is in Royville, also spoke. He did not attempt to deliver a set speech, but in a conversational tone, he addressed his friends of the fourth ward whose neighbors he has been for the past thirty years, and who have found in him during that time a most faithful physician and friend.

Sheriff Broussard also made a speech, and in an effective manner refuted the charges which have been current throughout the parish relative to the poll tax law.

The meeting at Broussardville was held in the afternoon, and fully one hundred and fifty voters were present.

Mr. A. A. Labbe was chosen president, and the vice-presidents were S. Greig, Jules E. Langlais, Aurélien Olivier, Duplessis Landry, M. Billeaud, Sr., and Martial Fabre.

Dr. Martin, Judge Julian Mouton, and Sheriff Broussard were the speakers.

Dead Against the Appointive System.

Though The Gazette has consented to print a laudatory biography of General Jastremski, nevertheless, some of the incidents in his life may have been omitted in it which today are quite instructive in view of the cry which the general has raised of the people versus the bosses. As the appointive system maintains the boss, The Gazette submits the following to those who consider seriously the slogan of the doughty general: He was State printer from 1880 to 1888. He was also Chairman of the State Democratic Committee. Under President Cleveland' second term, through influential friends, he secured the appointment of Consul to Peru for four years, at $3,400 per year. Governor Foster appointed him Commissioner of Agriculture in 1898, and Governor Heard, upon his becoming Governor, appointed him his Private Secretary. He has never held office except under the appointive system save when elected Mayor of Baton Rouge. Not only himself, but his family, have been beneficiaries of this same appointive system.

John Jastremski, a brother, is Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Baton Rouge, and has held it for nineteen years. Eugene Jastremski, a son, was appointed to a clerkship in the Agricultural Office in Baton Rouge in 1898, and still holds down the job. Henry Jastremski, a son of the General, is Secretary to John Jastremski at the Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

Death of Mrs. J. G. Parkerson.

Mrs. J. G. Parkerson, wife of Judge J. G. Parkerson, died last Sunday morning at her residence in Lafayette, aged seventy-four years. She was buried Monday morning in the Protestant Cemetery, the funeral services having been held in the Episcopal church, which owes its existence in a large measure to her charity and goodness of heart. Rev. C. C. Kramer, of New Iberia, conducted the burial ceremonies, at which a large number of friends were present.

Mrs. Parkerson leaves her husband, the venerable Judge J. G. Parkerson, and eight surviving children, Mrs. N. P. Moss, Mrs. C. D. Caffery, Mrs. E. P. Mills, Miss Lizzie Parkerson, and Messrs. W. S. Parkerson, of New Orleans, S. R. Parkerson, James Parkerson, and C. M. Parkerson.

For years she was resident of Lafayette, and the loving qualities of a noble womanhood that she possessed were known to many who now mourn her loss.

POLICE JURY MEETING.

The D. O. Broussard Bridge Matter Taken Up, and a Budget Adopted. Appropriation for Schools Increased.

The police jury met last Thursday with all members present except Saul Broussard of Carenero.

Attorney Mouton reported that District Attorney Campbell had refused to proceed against Ralph Foreman and Alton Foreman for collecting of peddling licenses on the ground that the jury had made no special arrangements with him for said suit. It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the parish attorney.

Sheriff Broussard appeared and asked for extension of time to settle with jury for taxes and licenses of 1901 and 1902. The jury granted time until next meeting.

Mr. Mouton reported in behalf of the committee appointed to locate site for the D. O. Broussard bridge, that the committee had held conference with committee from Vermillion and both committees had unanimously agreed to locate said bridge at Columbus Broussard's place, some nine arpents above the old site. Mr. Caffery appeared for a number of protestants from the fourth ward, objecting to the proposed location for various reasons and presenting a petition against the adoption of the committee's report. Mr. Mouton argued that the site was the proper one and was the best to be obtained in the interest of the whole parish. Mr. Whittington also favored the proposed new site and contended that the adoption of the old site had resulted in the breaking of the bridge by steam-boats several times.

Hon. Overton Cade addressed the jury, giving the history of previous negotiations with Vermillion and acknowledging the D. O. Broussard site unsuitable and favoring building the new bridge some 80 feet below the old site. Mr. Blanchet stated that he thought the building at the new site would entail more expense than at the old site. By motion of Mr. Buchanan, the report of the committee was received, action postponed, and the same committee continued and instructed to ascertain further as to costs of different roads and approaches to the various sites recommended.

The committee on a budget for 1904 submitted a report embracing a total expenditure of $30,455.00, $7,000.00 being for public schools.

Mr. Buchanan objected to the appropriation of $7,000.00 for schools, urging that the schools were not run according to law and the school authorities should be rebuked by cutting down appropriations.

Supt. Aleman was called upon to explain complaints made, which he did, maintaining that while there may have been some irregularities and defects in the administration of the schools, yet, upon the whole, everything had been done for the best by himself and those associated with him. Mr. Whittington also contended against increasing the school appropriation and favored placing the proposed increase to bridge and road funds.

By motion of Mr. Mouton the budget was adopted as reported; whereupon Mr. Buchanan had entered upon the official record the following reasons for his voting nay: "Because I believe that the appropriation is larger than is necessary with an economical administration of the school fund; and because of the gross violation of the school laws of the State by the superintendent of parish schools in allowing books to be used in the schools not authorized by the State school board."

The transfer of land for a public road by L. E. Lacour and Paul Martin was accepted and ordered recorded.

By motion of Mr. Lacy all persons obstructing the public roads running from Scott to Opelousas and from the Le-Besque place to Homer Chiasson's, were notified to remove said obstructions by Jan. 1, prox.

The treasurer reported balances as follows: general fund $38.76; special road fund, $1,934.74.

After approval of accounts the jury adjourned.
