For the latest styles of Dress Goods, go to the NEW YORK STORE, at Shreveport.

Consider how beautifully arrayed are all those ladies who purchased their dresses and trappings at A. WEIL'S.

A cheap lot of clocks, fine watches at low prices, elegant jewelry; watch, jewelry, and clock repairing, all at Dr. WEN'S Drug Store.

Messrs. Ramsey and Simmons have about completed their revision of the assessment roll of the parish. They find that over 56,000 acres of land have escaped assessment in years past. On this land taxes will be due for three years. A large amount of personal property will also have to be accounted for. After this, delinquents will have to rattle up.

There can be no doubt about the fact that all those gentlemen, youths and boys who purchase their hats, clothing, boots and shoes from A. WEIL, are gainers by their purchase.

The largest, best and cheapest stock of Clothing you can find, at the NEW YORK STORE.

The essay at the Baptist Sabbath-school, on Sunday last, was as usual, interesting and instructive. Miss Birdie Arbnuckle, to whom had been assigned the duty, seemed to have given time and thought to the subject. Her effort was creditable, and was heard with the greatest pleasure.

If our memory serves us right we have a friend at Haynesville who in October last promised us twenty-five new subscribers from his community. Has he forgotten us or has he failed to find the subscribers? A voluntary promise should not be forgotten so soon. The Moore patrons that Haynesville sends us the better will we be pleased.

Don't take our word for it but go and examine for yourselves and see if it be not true that A. WEIL at his mammoth emporium is not selling the best of everything at the lowest prices.

The cheapest plows ever offered for sale in Homer are to be found at S. Y. GLADNEY & BRO'S.

Those who failed to attend church on Thursday last were deprived of hearing one of Rev. J. A. Parker's best discourses. The inclemency of the weather, and the additional fact that the Governor's proclamation reached us so late that notice of the services could not be generally circulated, prevented the usual large attendance. The few who were present gave an appreciative attention to the very instructive and pleasing sermon.

We want our readers to continually bear in mind that FOSTER CARTER, No. 21 Milam Street, Shreveport, La., has and will sell at prices so reasonable as to satisfy the most exacting buyer, a fine lot of goods of the following description: Wall paper, window shades, chromos, brackets, wall pockets, slipper cases, etc. Also the finest line of Christmas goods ever brought to the city of Shreveport, including writing desks, work boxes, albums and other novelties. And last but by no means the least, a full stock of the never to be excelled Singer Light Running Sewing Machine. Our young friend S. P. Watts, so well known in Claiborne, is now stopping with Mr. CARTER. Be sure to give Mr. CARTER a call when needing anything in his line.

What is the meaning of this eager and impetuous throng of people who are hurrying along with such anxiety? They are all going to take advantage of the great inducements offered by A. WEIL.

The finest and cheapest Ladies' Cloaks are at the NEW YORK STORE.

A bundle of papers just received from Shreveport, La., has the card of Price's News Agency, next to the post-office, printed on them. We are under obligations to Mr. Price for the papers. Among them we notice The Norristown Herald, Toledo Blade, Daily Graphic, Chimney Corner and Galveston News.

The well-known Johnson plow, at S. Y. GLADNEY & BRO'S, cheaper than ever known before.

A good 1 ply Linen Bosom Shirt, which is worth $1, is sold for 50 cents at the NEW YORK STORE.

Tribute of Respect.

The following action was had by Athens Council, of the United Friends of Temperance, and sent to us for publication:

We your committee requested to draft resolutions expressing our sense of bereavement in the death of our dear Sister, Miss SAVANNAH E. SIMMONS, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, It hath pleased our Heavenly Father in the dispensations of His Mercies through Gracious Providences, to remove from our midst our beloved Sister, Miss Savannah E. Simmons, who departed this life on Sunday evening, Nov. 3d, 1878.

Therefore, While we would endeavor to bow submissively under this afflictive stroke, we deem it meet and right to give some testimonial expression of our sorrow and bereavement in the loss of one whom we feel so poorly able to spare, and withal too, one to whom we might have pointed as most likely to fall, if it be true, as the poets say, death loves a shining mark.

May it not have been out of special regard to her, that when the Master had determined to call our darling Sister from her post of duty here on earth, where she gave herself so unreservedly to His work in ministering to the little ones of His Kingdom, that he chose a beautiful Sabbath day in which to summon her to share, on the plains of eternal deliverance, the triumphs of that Sabbath up yonder that knows no end.

And! had he loved her thus much more than us that he should, while she was yet in the first sweet triumphs and morning of young life, and ere the burden and heat of its battles had wearied her, say to her, Soldier, 'tis enough, lay now your armor by and come up, and join that white-robed throng, who crowns of glory wear and palms of victory bear.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family of our Sister, our kindest sympathy in this sad affliction, assuring them that we share, in its fullest sense, their sorrow and bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of the deceased, and also that they be spread on the minutes.

MARY CALHOUN, M. J. PITTMAN, LIZZIE CALHOUN.

MARRIED:

On the evening of the 21st, at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. C. D. PAYNE and Mrs. M. C. McPADDIN. All of Hope.

We congratulate our newly wedded young friends, and hope their lives may never be overclouded with darkness. May they take particular pains to secure united pleasures, and as pains and pleasures are alternately mingled, may their joys be small, and followed only by the most cherished happiness.—Star of Hope.

Our old friend of course has our good wishes. He deserves that happiness which should always fall to the lot of those whose private and public life is without reproach. His old friends here will learn of his marriage with much pleasure, and will join with us in congratulating him.

Miss Lillie Ferrell, a daughter of Dr. L. C. Ferrell, deceased, is agent for The Home and Farm, a very valuable paper published in Louisville, Ky. We learn that Miss Lillie is exceedingly anxious to get the first prize given to that agent who sends in the largest list of subscribers. The price of the paper is only fifty cents a year—the cheapest paper in the world—worth three times the money. We hope that our friends here instead of sending direct to the publisher will allow Miss Lillie the use of their names. By so doing they will enable her to procure a prize, not valuable to her of itself, but because she can with the proceeds of it complete her education.

We believe that just previous to every meeting of Congress it is customary to announce that the Capital building is in complete order, that new carpets are put down, &c. We admit the necessity for new carpets. We presume, of course, that the hoggish habits of the people's representatives renders an outlay of this kind necessary every twelve months. We are only curious to know what becomes of the old carpets. This is an important economical question, and unless answered at an early date, and that too in a manner satisfactory to the people, will convulse the nation from centre to circumference.

Bruce, the colored Senator from Mississippi, has engaged a handsome residence in Washington City, which he and his wife will occupy during the winter. Bruce's wife is a quadroon, and is handsome and accomplished. It is a question as to whether she will be well received or will be ignored in the social circles of the Capital.

One of the prisoners in the Albany penitentiary is a little lad of twelve, sent from Georgia for stealing letters. He is a bright, handsome boy, and seems out of place among his surroundings. He occupies a cell with Oakley, the cashier, who is teaching the little Southerner how to read, and—actually—to say his prayers and worship his Creator.

Shawls and Blankets for the million, at astonishing low prices, are sold at the NEW YORK STORE, Shreveport, La.
