

A Judge's Sentence.

At Morris, Grundy county, Illinois, three saloon keepers, one woman and two men, were indicted and convicted of selling liquors to minors.

The jury having found you guilty of selling intoxicating liquors to a minor, it remains for the court to pronounce the sentence of the law.

Some people estimate the ability of a periodical and the talent of its editor by the quantity of its original matter. It is comparatively an easy task for a frothy writer to string out a column of words upon any and all subjects.

Mr. Stephens is now steadily engaged reading the proof sheets of his new history of the United States. No man living has the history of our last half century so vividly pictured in his brain.

Says an exchange: "There is nothing speculative about well established newspaper property. A newspaper is hard to build up, but it is proportionately difficult to pull down."

The farmer that "ran through his property" wore a red shirt and had his bridle bull behind him.

Noses are fashionable, and have always been followed.

Forming a Stock Company.

A New Jersey miller who had become old and rheumatic, one day called his sons about him and said: "Boys, I am growing stiff in the knees and faint at heart."

The three sons took the papers which the old man had made out, and instead of going a-fishing, they went down to a lawyer's office, called a meeting of the stockholders and proceeded to business.

Resolved, That we bounce the old man and run the mill after our own ideas!

One of the Verdicts.

The greatest difficulty the courts find when they have to try a case which has become celebrated on account of its atrocity, is to get hold of twelve men whose ignorance is so profound that they are considered legally eligible to the office.

One Dip Don't do Him any Good.

An elder, while baptizing converts at a rival meeting, advanced with a wiry, sharp-eyed old chap in the water. He asked the usual question whether there was any reason why the ordinance of baptism should not be administered.

The Times-Democrat.

The New Orleans Democrat and New Orleans Times Consolidated December 1, 1881.

A representative newspaper must find its way into every business establishment and to every fireside around which clusters even the most ordinary intelligence.

The enterprise, push and progress of the New Orleans DEMOCRAT during the past eighteen months have become proverbial. No journal published in the South has made such progress in the same period of time.

The consolidated issue, THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, will embody the best elements, the highest virtues of both. It will simply be, without question, the ideal paper of the business man, the mechanic, planter, farmer, the family, the people, of all classes and conditions.

The subscription rates for the Daily are as follows, payable in advance: One year (every day) $12 Six months 7 3 Three months 4 One month 1

THE SUN.

1882. NEW YORK, 1882.

The SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. The SUN's light is for mankind and womanhood of every sort; but its general warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

The SUN of 1868 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modeled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN'S example.

The SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Burkara.

In politics we have decided opinions, and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.

THE WEEKLY SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor, matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little!

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows: For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is $5.00 a month, or $60.00 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7.50 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

Address, L. W. ENGLAND, Publisher of THE SUN, New York City.
