SEALS & OGHILVIE,

PROPRIETORS.

Entered at the Postoffice at Homer Louisiana, as Second-Class Matter.

Official Journal of Claiborne Parish.

Office Up-Stairs in the Clingman Gladney Brick Building.

Friday, Jan. 17, 1890.

John M. Stone was inaugurated governor of Mississippi last Monday.

Henry Grady was the most popular man of the South, if not of the whole country, at his death.

The Courier Journal says: "There are a number of men in Congress who are blinder than Dr. Millburn."

The practice of pooling together and standing in with each other seems to be the greatest evil of the age.

Regulatorism seems to be at an end in South and West Louisiana. Enforcing the law in those parts had a wholesome effect.

Congressman Blanchard has been selected by the Louisiana delegation to represent this state on the next campaign committee.

The United States Congress is still wrestling with the question of rules. About one week's time has been consumed in the fight about the rules.

Baton Rouge is making preparations in time to receive and care for the legislature which convenes in May. She is badly in need of a few more hotels for the occasion.

A destructive and terrible storm passed through several of the Northern States last Monday. Millions of property was destroyed and a large number of lives lost.

There appears to be considerable dissatisfaction at the manner of administering justice in East Baton Rouge. The complaints seem to be leveled at both judge and district attorney.

From the present outlook we are inclined to the opinion that Warmoth will not be confirmed as collector of the New Orleans port. Coleman, Kellog, and their crowd having been unusually vigilant in their opposition to the Ex-Governor.

The people of Baton Rouge are determined to prohibit the sale of the Mascot from the news-stands in that city. The chief of police and a representative of that sheet had a rough and tumble fight a few days since, growing out of a letter contained in the Mascot, which slandered most foully some of the citizens of that place.

Mrs. W. P. Fortson, whose husband was robbed and murdered near Jefferson, Texas, last summer, has filed suit against the Knights of Honor to recover the amount of insurance on her husband's life. There has been some trouble about collecting the amount on account of the identity of the remains which were supposed to be those of the missing man.

PERTINENT.

The Orange Journal rises to remark: "Patronize home institutions," preaches the country editor from week to week. "That's right," says the merchant, "link it to those who go to some other town to purchase goods." Then, his heart filled with kindness toward the loyal editor, he sends an order for job work to Kalamazoo, or utilizes a piece of wrapping paper to write an order for goods or send a bill to a customer. Funny, isn't it?

The Critic says: "Men's fashions for the coming spring have some minor changes. The pants will be made a little wider in the hips so as to give the wearer more scope to run if necessary. The pockets, coat and vest as well, will be shams as there will be no occasion to carry any money, the holidays having off-set bank accounts. If any watch guards are worn they will be very minute, and instead of the tucker that will be in vogue, the charm will be held in position by a double self-acting safety pin."

THE WRONG ONE GORED.

The following Atlanta Georgia special of the 10 inst., to the Times Democrat, illustrates how men of extreme and pronounced views are sometimes made to see the error of their ways and converted to the true faith. The four negroes referred to were Demas Sims, Cage and Bourgeois, all members of the present Legislature of this state and with whom we are well acquainted. They were on their way to Washington to assist congressman Coleman in his fight upon Warmoth. Hear what the new convert to Democracy has to say:

"The color line has been drawn by Messrs. A. W. Boggs of Chicago, P. E. Brady of Tiffin, O., and E. D. Gilmore of Pittsburg. There Republicans for the first time in their lives, in traveling from Mobile to Atlanta, were put in a sleeper with 'four big buck niggers,' and arrived in Atlanta disgusted with their experience yesterday morning. 'I was a Union soldier,' said Mr. Boggs last night, 'and slept on every hill around Atlanta during the fight here. I am proud of it. I have voted the Republican ticket ever since I was old enough to vote, but I'm a Democrat now and forever. You see,' he explained, 'I've traveled a good deal, especially in the North, but I never before had to travel in a sleeping car with four big buck niggers. It wouldn't be tolerated North. I never heard of such a thing up there. Not only that, we had to take upper berths, while those big niggers were snoring on the lower ones.'

"We got on at Mobile at 7:15 o'clock last evening. I suppose the niggers had come on through, for they were in the car when we got on at Mobile. I understood that they were members of the Louisiana State Legislature. They were talking about names being sent in and being confirmed, and I have no doubt that is just what they were. They seemed perfectly at home, and seemed to be very much pleased with their seats and played poker or euchre until their berths were ready.

"The worst of all, though, was in the morning. I got up and went back to the lavatory, and there was the gang. One of them was stripped naked to the waist, taking a towel bath and blowing his nose in the basin, and bathing his kinky head. They were taking their time about it, too. Well, sir, we did without bathing until we struck the Kimball House here. That was at 6:15. The nigger buck went on to Washington.

"It's the first time in my life I ever had an experience of that sort, and I hope it's the last. I don't know so much about the South, but such things are not tolerated in the North. There are not so many of them, and they are not much trouble anyhow."

"The other two corroborated the story. They are both Republicans, and both are quite as indignant as the one quoted, at the experience they had in common.

The Legislature of this state will convene in May. There is promise of its being a strong and exciting session. Several measures of considerable importance will be brought before that body. Among them will be the Lottery question and the amendments to the constitution. There is some talk among the members of an attempt to reorganize the House and elect a new speaker.

It now turns out that pious John Wannamaker has paid about $1,000,000 more duty on ribbons within the last few years than the tariff laws authorized. The excess will be refunded to the merchant prince by the United States Treasury, but he declines to give his customers the rebate arising from his overcharges.

The police jury of Lincoln parish has passed an ordinance to prohibit the jug trade in the town of Ruston. They make it a misdemeanor punishable with fine or imprisonment for any one to take orders for whiskey or other spirituous liquors for the purpose of delivering it to persons in the parish of Lincoln.

Hon. Calvin L. Brice has been chosen United States Senator by the Democratic caucus of Ohio. And thus another wealthy man is promoted by his fellow citizens, although Brice has a good record both as Democrat and statesman.

LOUISIANA LEGISLATOR.

Below we reproduce a New Orleans special of the 12th inst., to the Shreveport Caucasian. This man Phillips was a candidate for speaker of the House in 1888, but it begins to look as if his seat will be vacant in May unless some one is elected in his stead:

A few months ago all New Orleans was startled by the news that Alphonse Phillips had absconded. He was a notary public whom everybody esteemed, a man of supposed wealth and fine social position; a reform member of the State Legislature, having a magnificent home, lovely wife and children, yet he became enamored with a French harlot, supported her with magnificence and at length, between cards, horse racing and this woman, he lost not only his own money but much that had been confided to his care. But this was not discovered until two months after he had departed on a pleasure trip. It is supposed he is now living with his paramour in Paris. Public indignation was excited because those most affected by the defalcation were widows and orphans, a score of whom lost their entire wealth, while a prominent capitalist lost $18,000 on a forged title.

Interest is once more excited in Phillips' case by the discovery of a $15,000 forgery by him by which Bayne & Denegre, a celebrated local law firm, is the loser. It was made in January, 1883, presumably to Mrs. Eloise Rand, and was secured by mortgage upon centrally located property, belonging to Mrs. Rand. Phillips, after executing all the documents, sold life notes to Bayne & Denegre, saying that Mrs. Rand wanted the money to build a chapel in Germany to her son's memory. To insure no discovery for at least two years, interest on the note was paid for that time in advance. The forgery was found through an attempt to collect interest for the third year.

Shreveport has a prospect for a North and South railroad running from Kansas City to the Gulf. There are at least one-half dozen towns all east of Shreveport expecting this same road. Surely some of them will be disappointed.

From the present outlook some of the railroads of the state will have to be placed under the control of more stringent laws. They being common carriers, the people should have something to say when an effort is made to extort or charge exorbitant rates.

Mrs. E. T. Page, of Bowie county, Texas, recently presented her husband with four girls all at one time. The four are all living and aggregate nineteen pounds. From newspaper accounts the mother and father are doing well.

ATHENS DOTS.

Ward Six has lost one of her best and most prominent citizens, Mr. B. F. Marsalis, who had as few enemies, if any, as any man in the ward. His remains were entered in the Tulip cemetery on the evening of the 5th, inst., in the presence of a large intelligent and sad audience. Peace to his ashes.

A heavy rain and thunder storm has just passed. The meat that was killed in our community on the 31st has been spoiled and a great deal of it has been thrown to the hogs.

The Rev. F. A. Clappitt and family have vacated the Salem parsonage. He has moved on a place three miles south-west of Homer, which he has bought.

Mr. C. W. Liles is moving from the Volentine place to Gibsland, where he expects to keep a boarding house. We wish him success.

Mr. W. C. Chandler did his first days grinding last Saturday with his new steam mill. We guess he means business from the tone of his whistle.

The Athens brass band is certainly improving, as we heard it perfectly plain last night two miles.

We would be glad to hear from every ward in the parish by some correspondent.

The people want to get the news, and want it crisp and neat. The Guardian fully meets their views. They say it can't be beat.

A fine copy. Given under my hand and seal of office this Jan. 6, 1890. DREW FERGUSON, Clerk D. C.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

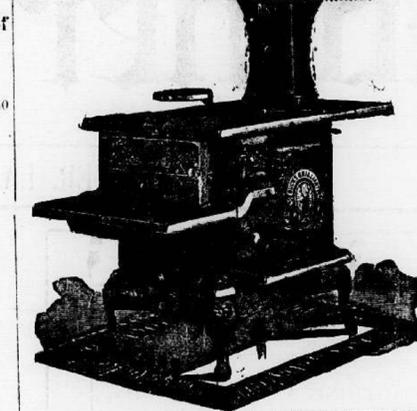

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J. N. B. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

IF YOUR BACK ACHES Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try HOOB'S TONIC BITTERS. It will cure you, and give a good appetite. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

TO WHOM IT CONCERNS.

SHREVEPORT, LA., November 1, 1889.

Owing to the change of the firm of A. Sour, and in order to wind up the old business, I have been appointed administrator of the succession, and have to tender my report to the attorneys representing the succession of A. Sour by the first of December, and wishing to withhold all accounts from public investigation and the law, I herein request all due the firm of A. Sour, to be kind enough and remit same to me, with as little delay as possible; 'twill save both bother and expense. With many thanks for the patronage given the old firm, I truly solicit a continuance of same to the new firm of H. Sour & Co. Trusting you will see the necessity of this notice, and take no offence at same, I am, with many thanks for past favors. Yours, very truly, HENRY SOUR.
