

HOUSTING A SAFE.
 A remarkable Report of a Dialogue in Chestnut Street.
 He was an elderly gentleman, with a venerable appearance. He stood looking at a number of men engaged in looking at a large building on Chestnut Street the other afternoon.
 After gazing for some time at the building that was being arranged, he accosted the man who was directing the work and said:
 "Will you let me speak to you a minute, young man?"
 "In a few minutes, I'm busy now," replied the rigger.
 "But it is important that I should speak to you at once," persisted the old fellow.
 "Very well," exclaimed the other, impatiently. "Hold on, Dan. Now, then, what is it?"
 "Do you think it is safe to attempt to lower that safe up your way?" inquired the "crank," hesitatingly.
 "Certainly! I know my business."
 "That's all very well, young man; but I'm a little bit older'n you, and know more about this world'n you do."
 "Yes, all right!" shouted the rigger. "Go ahead, Dan."
 "But hold on, young man. I have a better way. If you will let me show you—"
 "Stand back there, please."
 "Yes, but I'm afraid you will let that thing drop an' hurt somebody."
 "No danger."
 "Now just wait. I will just throw that rope over your what-do-you-call-it an' then bring it through the thing—um-bob, I think—"
 "I think you are a blasted old crank!"
 "What! Young man—"
 "Stand back, old fossil!" shouted the rigger, "or we'll drop the axamarvelous, as you would call it, on your head."
 "You impudent young rascal! You should know better than to address a man old enough to be your father in that manner. Will you try my way?"
 "No! That settles it, old stick-in-the-mud. Get out of the way."
 "Hum! Fiddlesticks! Young men these days know too much for their breeches anyhow. All right! All right! You folks had better git far back. That wild, impudent boy will let that thing drop as sure as guns are made of iron. If he would only try my way he might save life and labor. But I've warned him."
 "And he retired to the rear to await developments.—Philadelphia Press.

German Syrup

Asthma. "I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try this valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I myself rapidly gaining in Jno. R. SATURDAY, JAN. 9, 1891.

The State of New York is now safely Democratic and will remain so during the next fifty years. What have the Republicans to say about it, now.

The Republican State Convention will meet in New Orleans on Monday, the 18th, of Jan. 1892, for the purpose of nominating a State ticket.

The oysters dealers and shippers of Morgan City have been rushed in the past ten days, to the utmost limits of their capacity, being compelled to work night and day to fill orders.—Review.

Yes, and all that business should be handled by the merchants of town. Why not put the factory in H.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.
 —There are students from fifteen foreign countries at Yale.
 —In Strasburg girls are taught at the public expense to mend the clothes of the families.
 —It was through the assistance of Bishop Phillips that the Salvation Army was allowed to parade the streets of Boston with music.
 —Ten of the fourteen members of the faculty of the State Industrial and Normal School for Girls, just opened at Millidgeville, Ga., are women.
 —Smith college started sixteen years ago with twelve pupils. It has graduated eight hundred young women and has five hundred and seventy on its rolls.
 —Boston university has received from the late Lorley D. Faddock a bequest of $30,000, which will be devoted to several scholarships open alike to young men and young women.
 —The missionary work of the Greek church is very successful in Japan. According to the latest reports of the St. Petersburg synod there are at present 10,000 converts to the faith of that church in Japan.
 —Dr. Paget, the new dean of Christ Church college at Oxford, is only forty, a very young man to hold such a position in England. He is a churchman of long and excellent standing, a favorite of both Salisbury and Gladstone.
 —The Evangelical society for both America is a new society just formed in connection with the Y. M. C. A. missionary bureau in London. The occasion of its formation is a large gift to the bureau for the evangelization of Indian tribes in Brazil, Peru and Bolivia.—Illustrated Christian Weekly.

—Rev. J. J. Taylor mentions several encouraging features about missionary work in Brazil. 1. Religious toleration is guaranteed all over the land. 2. The people are growing more willing to hear the Gospel. 3. There is a forward movement to accept the truths of the Bible. 4. His own mission in Rio Janeiro has a membership of fifty-one, with recent additions by baptism. A church home is very much needed.
 —The red hat was first bestowed upon the cardinals by Leo IV. at the council of Lyons, in 1245. It is probable that as red was in the middle ages a royal color, worn by kings and members of royal families, hats and gowns of this color were bestowed on cardinals to indicate that henceforth they would rank with kings and princes. A cardinal is popularly styled a prince of the church, and in medieval times the pope's legate often took precedence even of royalty.
 —At the landing place in New York over 6,000,000 of foreigners have entered during the past nine years. These are met, so far as Baptists are concerned, by one minister and two lady missionaries, who are able to work in six different languages. There have given a Christian greeting to 12,000 persons of their own faith, and with kind advice sent them to the churches where they enjoy the blessings of Christian fellowship and of a spiritual home.

SOME ONE FROM HOME.
 An Occasion Where Genuine Sentiment Left Price Far Behind.
 I had been away from home a long time with the seat of my pants and during this attempt to divide them and to steal from them their suffrages under the pretense that the ticket thus nominated in any sense represents the Democratic party.
 The Democracy of Louisiana regard fealty to the party and faithful adherence to its organization as above all considerations, and prepotent with expediency and good sense.

 Facts Worth Knowing.
 In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, sprays, nebulizers or any similar application, because they are all irritating do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Price 50 cents at Druggists.
