A Double Birthday Anniversary.

On the morning of Nov. 10, 1912, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley D. Johnson, at Selma, La., began to take on gala attire, suggestive to the observer of some form of celebration. Soon groups of merry children began to make their contribution of joyous shouts; then we hear the hearty peals of laughter which can spring only from hearts running over with joy, evidently of boys and girls just budding into a prospective young manhood and womanhood, and finally we observe in this merry group some who have passed the meridian of life, and whose silvery locks make known to the world the fact that their contribution of labor has been made, and time remains now only for the duty of love and example.

This assembly was in honor of the twenty-sixth birthday of Mr. Wiley D. Johnson, and the fifty-sixth of his father, Mr. W. L. Johnson. When the guests had all arrived there was held in Mrs. Johnson's parlor, which was beautifully and appropriately decorated with evergreens, palms and numerous paintings, a family reunion, with the pleasant addition of a splendid musical program, rendered by Mrs. Johnson ably assisted by Miss Eula Nugent and Miss Mag Johnson. At this reunion the following were present: Father and mother, four brothers, eight sisters, three brothers-in-law, two sisters-in-law, six nieces and nephews. Absent—one brother, Ben H. Johnson. The most interesting fact was that to this large family death was a stranger, having never visited the home.

Exactly at twelve o'clock the summons was issued by Mrs. Johnson to repair to the dining room and as we entered its door we were made to exclaim, "Life is not an empty dream." The sight of the long dining table with its lavish display of china, silver, and cut-glass, produced an aching void which nothing short of the magnificent dinner consisting of seven courses could fill.

The afternoon was devoted to an automobile tour of the town and surrounding community, which is especially adapted to such an occasion by the fact that the excellent model road so generously contributed by the parish of Grant to its citizens passes through the town.

The only shadow that came to mar our pleasures, but which luckily soon passed away, was just as the good-byes were said and the journey homeward began, a tire on the car in which were Mr. James E. Beal and family was punctured, but was soon replaced by another, and the journey homeward was resumed. Fond remembrances of the day will linger for many years in the minds of the participants of this event.

We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. What a howl would go up if newspapers would criticize individuals as freely as many people criticize the newspapers. Every issue of a live and reputable newspaper is a mantle of charity, and the matter left out, truth, not gossip, would more than equal in volume that published. If an editor could get out a cold fact edition of his paper some day and then get up a tree and watch the result—wow! What a picture 't would be. As a rule, however, those persons who subscribe and pay for their paper always have a good word for it. It's the man who never pays who does the kicking.—West Carroll Gazette.

Constipation and Catarrh

Believe me? Well, whether you would believe me or not it is the truth.

For many years I have been wrestling with the problem of furnishing the public an internal catarrh remedy. Peruna has been the remedy that I have devised and it has certainly relieved many thousand people, yes hundreds of thousands of people, of chronic catarrh.

Constipation was my chief difficulty in treating these cases. I often felt that it would be better if a laxative element were added to Peruna. I feared to do so, however, first because of the number of catarrh patients who needed no laxative, and second I was afraid of making such a radical change in a remedy that was already doing so well. Thus it was that I continued to prescribe with the Peruna a bottle of Manalin to those who needed a laxative. At last, under circumstances explained in my booklet, I was constrained to add the laxative element to Peruna. This constitutes what is now known as the revised Peruna.

Now those who take Peruna will first find themselves promptly relieved of their constipation. Second, the catarrh will gradually disappear. And once the catarrh is cured the constipation leaves permanently. Then if you follow the advice given in my book, you will never have to take pills any more. Cathartics and laxatives you can ignore. You will be permanently relieved of both your catarrh and the constipation. PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

B. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

You are constipated. You have taken laxatives a great many years. You have tried to select a diet that would keep your bowels regular. In this you have failed and were obliged to go back to your laxatives again. This, I say, has been going on many years.

You also have a slight catarrh in the head and throat. You never imagined that the catarrh had anything to do with the constipation. Suppose I were to tell you that as long as you have that catarrh you will never get better of your constipation. Would you be-
