Local and Parish News.

There is no business to tell about.

Democrats of East Carroll do your duty.

The public schools are progressing finely.

The freezing factory has not had steam up this week.

The Dunn new dwelling is nearing completion rapidly.

Boatmen and levee protection, is our battle cry in the valley.

There are quite a number of unemployed people around town.

Very shallow water in front of Providence at the landings.

Capt. R. N. Rea visited Providence on Monday and spent a few days.

Make all necessary preparations for winter weather as soon as possible.

White and black pull together in the matter of protection from overflow.

There is scarcely a ripple visible on the political surface in East Carroll.

The town gaining is too spasmodic to be profitable. Not enough of cotton is the cry.

Fousse has been hammering his way through the world again this week. Nick is a rattler.

Mr. Geo. Johnson from Washington county, Miss., was in town the beginning of the week.

The colored people of East Carroll want protection from overflow, first, last and all the time.

Several of our local Nimrods with guns and dogs, took to the woods on Wednesday morning.

Every locality has its special needs. We need protection, and must have it, in preference to politics.

Mrs. G. M. Franklin's little Minor is recovering from her recent illness, we are much pleased to learn.

The water was too low to permit the T. P. Leathers to take cotton at any of the town landings this week.

The Confederate Veterans gathered in town considerably on Wednesday last. Their proceedings were not sent in.

Our friend handsome George was in town from his Tensas ranch on Wednesday. He speaks well of his crop.

The signal service promised us a cold wave near the close of last week, but it didn't reach Providence, that we know of.

Our friend Scott, "Handsome Ed." is about to become a Benedict. Good luck and lots of blessings surround him and her.

Mr. John Rodge, the levee builder, was in town on Wednesday. Old time is beginning to tax our handsome friend a little.

If you want your cisterns put in good condition to receive the coming winter rains, call upon J. A. Gla. He will fix them right.

Our lively and stirring friend C. N. Hall, (the oldest silent man in town), has been unwell this week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The local rain signal flag was hoisted early Wednesday morning, which means some wet and cooler weather within twenty-four hours.

Mr. E. McBain, Attorney at Law, from Floyd, has been in town this week on business intent. He is a mover when it comes to business.

Robert Wheatstone, Esq., Attorney at Law from Rayville, came up on the Ruth Tuesday to attend court. We were pleased to meet him on his arrival.

The latest news with regard to the Providence postoffice is no change will be made.

Notice.

On October 31st, 1892, I will reduce my prices on all goods to ROCK BOTTOM figures and sell for the SPOT CASH. Every account on my books will be stopped. I will sell to NO ONE except for the SPOT CASH on the counters. In NO case will I make exceptions. I am after the customer who has the ready cash to plunk down and NO OTHER. My prices will be such as will convince and please all CASH buyers.

I thank all of my old thirty day friends for their kind patronage and prompt pay, and I solicit a continuance of their business for SPOT CASH. Goods taken on trial will have to be paid for before leaving the store. When returned money will be refunded.

W. N. WHITE, AGT. Oct. 15, 1892.

There has been no buck horns brought in to town thus far by the numerous Nimrods who have been waking up the echoes in the woods the past few days. Nor even a solitary venison steak that we have heard of.

George Manlove the popular comical traveler, has been here again this week. He is as regular as an old fashioned time keeper, but there is nothing old fashioned about George himself, when away from home. He is a beau of the first water.

Mr. W. S. Brown, assistant U. S. Engineer, seems to have deserted us in this immediate section. All his time is being engrossed with the new line of levee from Milliken's Bend to Cabin Teal which will be pushed to completion as speedily as the eight hour system will permit.

The Misses Fannie and Ada Denison from Galveston, Texas, came up on the Ruth Tuesday noon, and will spend some time with their relatives in our parish. We wish them such a delightful time at Shelburn and Bellemeade that their visit will become a long and pleasantly protracted one.

Mr. Doran returned from New Orleans in the early part of the week. He left his little son in the hospital there under the care of the sisters. He seems quite sanguine that his boy will soon recover, though a little disfigured. We are much pleased to make this mention after the distressing accident that took place.

Chris McGinnis (everybody knows Chris) has opened a fruit and can goods store on Lake street next door to J. W. Pittman & Co. His shop is laden with tropical fruits and nuts of all kinds. Everything is fresh. He will have oysters on the shell and in any and every style desired. Watch for his ad next week.

Mrs. Zettle daughter of Mr. P. D. Quays, President of the Police Jury, is staying in town at the residence of Mr. J. S. Milliken with a sick child for the purpose of being near Dr. F. R. Bernard, and getting his watchful medical attention for her little one. We sincerely hope the babe will soon be restored to good health.

George Stewart, colored, one of the employes at the Custom House in New Orleans, has been spending several days here visiting his family. George used to be an industrious, faithful planter to our knowledge. We are waiting to see how he will pan out as a politician. He was present at Donnelly's Delta demonstration on the 12th.

We are truly pleased to learn that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam on Way-a-Way is now on the high road to permanent recovery. The child was very near the portals of death, and lingered there for several days, but the medical skill of Dr. F. R. Bernard combined with careful and tender nursing brought him back to life and light.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanchfield who live in Bunch's Bend on the Kerr place, lost a little four year old daughter on Monday last. Her remains were brought to the Providence Cemetery on Tuesday and carefully laid away. She had been sick for several days. The disease that took away her young life was diphtheria. We tender our earnest sympathies to the bereaved family in their irreparable loss.

Mr. Charles O'Donnell the levee contractor, who has resided here all the summer keeping the Lake View Hotel, left with his outfit on Thursday for Milliken's Bend where he has secured a sub-contract on the government levee from the Bend to Cabin Teal. The hotel will continue to prosper under the management of his good lady, and we hope Charley will do well and have a good time on the levee.

Elsewhere we give the names of the members of the new Levee Board for this district. It is rarely that new appointments are made without some one or other becoming disgruntled, but we can safely say for East Carroll, better and more efficient commissioners could not possibly have been selected by Governor Foster, and we find in our exchanges from the other parishes equally as cordial approvals of the appointments severally made as we have here given.

The latest news with regard to the Providence postoffice is no change will be made.

On Saturday of last week one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens passed suddenly into the next state of existence, and his remains were reverently laid away on Sunday, Oct. 16, 1892, in the Providence Cemetery. Mr. William Alling had been ailing fore sometime past, and being in the 84th year of his existence, it was but natural he should drop off and pass away at any moment, and so it was as we have above stated.

Mr. Alling was no ordinary man. He had figured with success in many prominent positions, commercially, socially and officially during his long career. He had lived in this parish as proprietor of Black Bayou plantation for a number of years, quietly and unobtrusively pursuing the even tenor of his way. A good citizen, a kind friend and reliable member of the human family. We make this brief mention as introductory to a fitting tribute of respect to his memory which will appear next week.

Mr. Clifton F. Davis left Shreveport on Wednesday morning on the train and came from Tallulah by land, reaching home at 8 p. m., o'clock the same day. A quick trip. We are proud to announce that our young friend passed his examination before the Supreme Court triumphantly, and is now a duly recognized Attorney at Law. We have known Clifton from his infancy and take much pride and pleasure in introducing him professionally to our people. He is beyond doubt a model representative of the coming generation, intellectually morally and socially. One that we old stagers, who are getting ready to step down and out, can heartily welcome to the front with the assurance that the country will certainly do well under their conscientious care and guidance.

The Banner-Democrat with its entire outfit heartily congratulates Clifton, wishing him a prosperous professional career.

The local rains foreshadowed by the signal service with colder temperature for Thursday, must have gone into liquidation in some other direction. We have up to this writing had a week of dry, warm, summer weather. Summer in September and October instead of July and August, but the favorable weather is entirely too late to benefit the cotton crop to any material extent further than harvesting it in the best condition possible. Long unobtainable land can be safely claimed for all the "benders" this year, and the all don't amount to enough by a long way to enable the planters to pay out. Decreased acreage in cotton, with a greater and more practical variety of crops has become an actual necessity in this section, and the sooner cotton growers, and all, realize this fact, the better it will be for them and the country generally.

We do not hear any improved reports from the cotton crop with regard to the yield as the season advances and the stalks are denuded of leaves. Several of our friends tell us "there is much less fruit on the stalks than we calculated on." This is, we believe the case all over the parish, and the final footing up of the cotton bales in East Carroll will doubtless show it. Economy of the most rigid kind will have to be practiced from now on until another season makes a showing, which we sincerely hope will be a vast improvement on the disastrous one now passing away.

There has been some sickness during the past week, especially among the little ones; an occasional death occurs, but not more than usual at this season of the year. Business is at a stolid standstill.

It is but rarely these days we hear any one say he has a good crop, but such was the case on Monday last when we met Eli Legrand, a young, active, industrious negro, living on the Waterloo plantation near the banks of Bayou Tensas, about three miles from town. Eli rented 75 acres of land, 25 acres of which was entirely under water during the overflow. He put 55 acres in cotton and the balance in corn, peas and potatoes. He told us that from the 55 he would gather at the lowest estimate 65 bales of cotton, having already shipped 16 ties. His corn crop will yield about 500 bushels, with a fair quantity of provender and other things. Legrand's crop all around is an exceptional one for this year, the greater number throughout the parish being barely a half average yield.

There is another of our colored friends named King Atlas, an industrious, clever, responsible citizen, who tells us he has an excellent crop this year, he is not only King by name but he is King among cotton growers. We know nothing about his peculiar methods of cultivating the tender plant, but he rarely fails to realize a full and satisfactory harvest, not only of cotton and corn, but many other things produced from the soil, such as potatoes, peas, melons, cantelopes and turnips. Atlas is one of quite a large hard working family of negroes born and raised in old Carroll, who enjoy the full confidence of the white people who know them, and it affords us much pleasure to make mention of such thrifty well behaved citizens; and what is better we can safely say, that we have lots of the same kind in this our parish of East Carroll.

AUXILIARY COMMITTEE.

The Auxiliary World's Fair Committee met on Tuesday the 18th inst. at the residence of Mrs. Judge Kennedy, Mrs. V. M. Purdy, Vice Chairman presiding. Dr. J. L. Davis was appointed secretary pro tem.

The attendance was larger than at any previous meeting, and much interest was manifested in the development of the parish interests involved. In accordance with the resolutions adopted at the previous meeting the Chairman appointed the following committee, with the request that they proceed to formulate the various plans to carry out the objects of their appointment. The first committee organized was denominated the Cotton Committee, the duties of which is to solicit from a half dozen planters or men sufficient long staple seed cotton to make a bale weighing six hundred pounds, the cotton to be delivered at such place as the ladies of the committee may designate. It was proposed that the name of each donor of cotton should be placed on the bale when prepared for exhibition, and it was thought many of our cotton growers' ambitions to excel would aspire to that honor by responding to the call that will be made by the committee.

The ladies composing that committee are Mrs. Goldenburg, Mrs. E. B. Buckner, Mrs. Constant, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Moberly.

The committee on parish statistics, are Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Isabel, Mrs. Geo. Blackburn and Mrs. Ransdell. The committee on finance, are Mrs. Bernard, Miss Eugenia Wyly, Mrs. T. J. Powell, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. Benjamin and Mrs. White.

The committee on scenic display, is composed of Mrs. Dr. W. E. Long, Miss Kate Davis, Miss Lucile McCulloch, Miss Fannie Keene, Miss Nannie Davis and Mrs. W. S. Brown.

The committee on needle work consists of Misses Mary W. Montgomery, Maud Taylor, Mary Howard Brock, Dolly Kennedy, Nellie Montgomery, Kitty McCulloch, Mamie Lanier, Pally Belden, Maggie Schneider, Dessie Bell, Pauline Ammons, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, and Mrs. D. H. Parker.

The committee was then permanently organized by the election of Mrs. R. J. Walker corresponding secretary, J. L. Davis secretary and Mrs. J. M. Kennedy treasurer.

The committee was highly gratified to be informed that Mrs. McCulloch had already arranged to have carefully picked of the long staple cotton, enough to make one sixth of the bale to be exhibited; and with such an auspicious beginning, it was thought that in a few days there would be sufficient offering to constitute a six hundred pounder. At their next meeting they expect to be able to announce to the young people the evening when the hand-ginning will commence.

Committee adjourned to meet on Tuesday the 25th inst., at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Dr. W. D. Bell. Mrs. V. M. PURDY, Vice Chairman. J. L. DAVIS, Secretary.

The Lake Hotel.

This popular and centrally located house is now open under the management of Mrs. Jennie O'Sullivan, a caterer of considerable experience, who will conduct it upon the "European" plan. She has ample, nice, comfortable bed-rooms. In the "cafes" she has everything pleasant and neat, where meals are served at all hours, night and day. The cuisine will consist of the best the market affords. Terms and prices very reasonable. Particular attention paid to the entertainment of commercial travelers.

Vicksburg—Recollections of its Siege and of the Battles.

Judge A. L. Slack is engaged in writing his recollections of the siege and surrender of Vicksburg in 1863. He has extended his Ms. so as to include the battles which preceded the siege. The Judge says he designs to make his account as interesting as possible, and after its completion to deliver lectures on the subject.

His main efforts have been extended to showing the disparity between the forces engaged, and correcting erroneous ideas in this particular, and to demonstrate that the Confederates were outnumbered by overwhelming odds. Luckily for the author, he has a diary commencing with Monday, 17th May, and ending Friday, 4th July, 1863, in which he had during the siege recorded every event that came under his observation.

The Judge's design is to honor the Confederates who, with four depleted divisions, held Grant's five corps at bay for forty-seven days, during the most noted-siege and under the most adverse circumstances history has ever recorded—Madison Journal.

Jack McGuinty's levee outfit passed through town Wednesday forenoon on its way to go right to work near Ashton. Messrs. Doran and Rodge were in charge. This will be the first levee work of the season in East Carroll, and with regard to all the other much needed repairing and building in the parish, it will be a "better late than never" business, because the season is far advanced, days are getting short with lots of fine weather frittered away.

Manhattan 2 per cent. Loan Company furnish money on 10 years time at 2 per cent. per year, or 3 per cent. for 5 years. See advertisement elsewhere.

For the Banner-Democrat.] GOOD-BYE.

The sun sinks weary in the west, The dew falls gently on each leaf, While I with sadness sore oppress, From thee must take my final leave. My heart with anguish sighs for thee, The tear is trembling in my eye; And oh! how sad these words to me, Good-bye sweetheart, good-bye.

Night's mantle darkens o'er the earth, The stars are hid from human view, And darkness in my soul has birth, Since I must sadly part from you. The morning sun will shine again, Altho' the earth and sea and sky; But gloom will wrap this heart of mine, Good-bye sweetheart, good-bye.

Wild winter's storms will soon be here, With tempest clouds o'erpress the sky, While I away from all that's dear, Must sadly breathe the word, good-bye. With fates foul law, my heart is dead, For joy no more does my heart bring, Since that dread night we parting said, Good-bye sweetheart, good-bye.

More years may come, and years may go, And life drag on its weary length, But love again can never fold, For me, with its fresh vital strength. And when the withering noise of death, My ears assail with palying cry, I'll whisper with my latest breath, Good-bye sweetheart, good-bye.

GOMER Lake Providence, La., Oct. 17, 1892.

MONEY TO LOAN.

The Manhattan 2 per cent. Loan Company of Chicago are making loans on easy terms on plantation property. They authorize the statement that they have unlimited facilities for supplying money to investors. On a loan of ten years they demand only 2 per cent. per annum, and on a loan for five years, 3 per cent. Money furnished as soon as the security is made satisfactory.

The undersigned is their agent for East Carroll parish, and he will take pleasure in aiding the people in obtaining loans on conditions so easy as this Company affords. J. L. DAVIS, Lake Providence, La., Oct. 4, 1892.

Ah Sam Lee's store is on Lake street, next door to Harrang's Tonsorial establishment. Lee Appo, the reliable and trustworthy Celestial, is his duly authorized agent. They keep fancy groceries, pecans and hazle nuts, fruit of all kinds, fresh bread and cakes from their own bakery, cabbage, potatoes and vegetable of all kinds—prizes cheepee, cheepee.

Messrs. John Scott & Sons, the extensive and enterprising contractors who have well nigh monopolized the levee work so far adjudicated in the portion of this parish located in the Lafourche Basin District, are making good progress with their contracts. These gentlemen have obtained every piece of work in the district upon which they have yet submitted a bid, their figures ranging from fifty to over one hundred per cent. below those of their competitors, hence it is to the public interest as well as their own that they should succeed.—Donaldsonville Chief.

A fourteen year old colored prisoner managed to escape from the jail on Tuesday last. He was captured by Mr. Spurlock on Thursday morning.

As a candidate for congress Judge Gouby cuts a sorry figure. He is one of those "seperate political actionists," that somebody will beat the political stuffing out of.
