They Are Uncle Sam's.
Our two young townsmen, Gar-rigues Lacombe and Alha McKinney, whose departure for New Orleans to enlist in the United States Navy was chronicled in last week's Clarion, were promptly accepted by the recruiting officer, Lieuten-enant Commander Hawley. Their fine physique and healthy condition caused them to be accepted over a score of other applicants for the same class—apprentices. Only twelve boys were enlisted.

The apprentices will be sent to Newport, where they will get their first taste of naval life in a training ship. When qualified they will probably be assigned to duty on the new cruiser "New Orleans." Paul Garigues Lacombe is the son of our townsman, Mr. Austin Lacombe, a gallant old Confederate soldier. He is seventeen years old.
Alba C. McKinney is the youngest son of the late Albert McKinney, and is about eighteen years old.

Both young men are strong and vigorous, and we doubt not will make good soldiers.

They were both enthusiastically bent on going to sea. It is told of Alba that during his examination when he thought he saw Commodore Hawley hesitate about accepting him, he told that official:
"Captain, you had better accept us.
We can't go back to Opelousas.
They say we are no good over there, and they don't want us. We want to show them that we are of some account, and can make good men."

The Commodore smiled and told him he could go and join his chum Garigues, who had already been accepted. They then made a joint request to be assigned to the same ship, which was granted.

The young boys had had an understanding that unless both were accepted, neither would go.

The "New Orleans," upon which the young boys will probably be assigned, is the cruiser recently bought from Brazil by the United States. Though about the size of the cruiser Charleston, a type of vessels not thought much of in the navy, the New Orleans will be not only speedier, but will be decidedly more formidable. The battery is made up of six 6-inch guns, as well as four 7-inch guns, of 50-calibre length, which gives them an unusual range and power, though for local manœuvres slightly deficient in calibre to that of the Charleston and vessels of that type. The New Orleans is also supplied with ten 6-pounder quick-firing guns, four 1-pounders, four Maxim machine guns and two boat or field guns.
She is equipped with three torpedo tubes. The cruiser is calculated to make twenty knots an hour under a natural draft of 7500-horse power, and with a coal capacity of 850 tons will be able to steam 8000 knots before requiring to replenish her coal bunkers. Though unarmed, the vessel's machinery is protected by an arched steel deck just below the water line, varying in thickness from one and two-tenths to three and five-tenths inches.
The vessel is 3600 tons displacement.

The Clarion wishes Alba and Garigues Godspeed.

Since the above was written our bright young friend, Jas. I. Shute, successfully passed the examination as a second-class machinist, and he too has gone to sea to serve his country.

The fact that all three of the Ope-lousas boys who applied for enlistment were accepted speaks volu-mously for the manhood of our town.

Over two thousand applicants stood examination, and out of this number only fifty-four were excepted.

Reading Circle.

The most enjoyable meeting of the C. L. & S. C. was held at Mr. J.
M. Redmond's on last Friday night.

Thirty-two persons were present, twenty-six of whom were members.

An entertaining programme added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Miss Gussie Faunt LeRoy's recitation was received with anticipated pleasure, all having heard that Miss Gussie was an elocution-ist. Little Rosalie Corona and her "Wicked Dollie," who wouldn't say her prayers, won loud applause, and Bee Crawford as a little negro boy in the song, "De Watermillion," baffled the recognition of more than one of her High School playmates.

Miss Josie Mann and Miss May-sie Creswell appeared in a short dialogue entitled "Billy Grimes," which was indeed very laughable.

Miss Mann also recited.

Mrs. R. R. Settoon gave us a treat in the form of a short history of Miss Willard's early life, etc., and last, though not least, came "The Literary Detective Bureau," prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Redmond, in which two prizes, first and "booby," were awarded. Mrs. A.
H. Read winning the former and Messrs. Gussie Kennedy and Walter Smith the latter.

Mr. Robert Firnberg was appointed to fill Miss Lizzie Blacksher's place on the Press Committee for this week, Miss Blacksher being absent.

Hereafter each member is to answer to the roll-call with a quotation from some author chosen at a previous meeting. Byron is the author selected for this week.

Mr. Bodemuller presented the Circle with Elliott's works, for which a vote of thanks was tendered him.

Eleven new members were enrolled.

The Circle doors are open and a hearty welcome extended to all visitors.

The next meeting will be held at Mr. H. Crawford's, on Friday, April 1st.

The Circle extends a most cordial invitation to the editors of the town papers to meet with us whenever they can.

Don't forget that the Reading Circle will meet at Mr. H. Craw-ford's at 7:30 p. m., Friday, April 1.

The inmates of the Methodist Parsonage were well "pounded" on last Tuesday afternoon. May they have many similar "poundings" during the year.

The Bubble Burst.

The bubble is bursted. The little bower that the Independents thought they had up their sleeve is not trumps, and the procession will now proceed on its merits.
We know it's exasperating to have neat little schemes sent a-glimmering to the clouds when it promised so abundantly, but it is but the natural result a castle built on a mush foundation.

As the Clarion mentioned last week, the opponents of the Democratic ticket were industriously circulating that Mayor Thompson had been so grossly negligent in his dealings with Contractor Sanders that the town was now without waterworks, about $27000 had been paid the contractor, and that gentleman had skipped the country.

Of course few, if any, believed this wild talk; but nevertheless the Clarion thought that it would investigate the rumors in order to effectually close the tattlers with cold facts. We were proceeding swimmingly with the investigation, and just figuring where we would bury the corpse, when lo! there suddenly loomed up before our amazed vision the athletic shape of Contractor Sanders leisurely making his way towards the postoffice! Was it a vision, we thought, or was it our vamoosed contractor? We walked up to it and gently touched it. It moved!
It was alive! "It is thou, O great sir, who art the contractor that fleweth the pit?" asked we. "Aye," said he. It was he!

The bubble was bursted into smithereens, and with a horse tear for our friends on the other side, we put away our note-book and abandoned the chase after that which was not.

Mr. Sanders arrived here Wednesday, and immediately put a force of men at work on the foundation for the tank. He will push the work to a rapid completion.

Wm. Beckman Captured.

Sheriff Frazee is in receipt of the following letter:

PINE BLUFF, ARK, Mar. 16.
Hon. W. S. Frazee.

Dear Sir.—Yours of the 14th in regard to one Wm. Beckman to hand and noted.

We have this man in our jail on two charges of grand larceny and a minor offense. We will try him sometime in April. Send me your warrant and I will hold him for you. He is a tough fellow, and I am sure he is your man. Your description fits him to a T. He got away from our constable, and we went after him with the dogs.
He went in a lake that was from three to ten feet deep and nearly a mile wide. The dogs run him up a tree, and when we got to him the dogs were swimming around the tree. We had great fun with him.
C. H. TRIPLETT,

Sheriff Jefferson County.

Wm. Beckman is wanted in this parish for larceny. He is located here about five years ago, pursuing the business of stonecutter. He was in the habit of loafing around the law office of Mr. Kenneth Bal-lio, and in that way found out that the lawyer had for collection various notes for the People's State Bank against Germans in this parish.
Beckman stole these notes, discounted them to the parties, and left the State.

Sheriff Frazee traced him to Anderson, Tex., then to Cypress, Tex., and finally to Pine Bluff, Ark. At the latter place he married a wealthy widow, but that fact does not seem to have reformed him of his crooked ways.

Chicken Thieves.

On Tuesday night, the 15th, on his way to his work at Lawler's stable Olin Durousseau met a negro with a sack of chickens. He reported the matter to Mr. J. K. San-doz, expressing the opinion that they had been stolen.

Last Monday Mr. M. Vilaseca inquired of Mr. Sandoz if he had purchased some fine-breed chickens, saying that ten of his had been stolen a week previous. Mr.
Sandoz related to him the above incident, and Mr. Vilaseca went to see Olin. As Olin knew the negro, he soon had him apprehended, and made him confess. He had sold the chickens to Mr. Oscar Dardeau, but said that he had not stolen them; that "Red," a notorious negro thief of this town, had given them to him to sell.

Mr. Vilaseca identified his chickens.

The old negro's name is Andy Holmes, and he lives at Beggs station.

"Red" furnished bond, but the old man is still in jail.

Church Point Letter.

March 23.—Mr. Damon Durio, of Plaisance, was here last Friday, talking lightning rods.

A crew of men passed through here yesterday with a lot of scrapers and other tools enroute to Crowley to work on the Duson canals.
They camped near Church Point that night.

Messrs. Armas Durio and Jack Deville were in town Saturday.
Mr. Durio was here in the interest of his ax-handle factory, delivering and taking orders.

Mr. L. S. Scott, editor of the Crowley Signal, was in town last week, soliciting advertisements for a trade review of the parish of Acadia. Mr. Scott was well patronized.

Last Friday the town was kept lively with runaway horses. No injury done except in the case of Mr. J. D. Murrel, who is nursing two fingers cut nearly in two with rope lines.

Mr. Thelesmar Guidry went to Crowley last Monday to take his son, Pierre, to college.

Miss Ida Durio, of Plaisance, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives. Come again, Miss Ida. SAM.

Regarding Sentences.

Mr. John N. Ogden, of the Ope-lousas bar, has expressed the opinion that Act No. 112 of 1890 is so mandatory that a failure to obey its provisions invalidates some sentences that have been rendered.
The concluding part of Section 2 of said Act reads thus: "And the Judges throughout the State, shall at the time of rendering sentences, declare the sentence so pronounced shall be subject to the commutation and diminution, under the rules and conditions provided for mandatory provisions leaves no discretion in the presiding judge to leave these provisions out of the sentences rendered. The tenth section provides as follows: "That all the constituted authorities, mentioned in this act must put this law into immediate operation."

If Mr. Ogden's opinion is correct, there may be some cases tried over again.

St. Joseph Festivities.

St. Joseph's Night was celebrated here by several social functions, and so recherche were some of the affairs that Opelousas society must have received an impetus in the right direction.

The masquerade ball at Sandoz's Opera House was well attended, and the crowd whiled away the evening hours in jest and dancing.

After the ball a party of invited guests assembled at the pretty little home of Dr. J. P. Salzaan, where a sumptuous banquet was spread.
There the popping of choice vintage and merry laughter rent the air until the crowing of the roosters heralded the near approach of morning.

The hospitable home of Mr. J. R.
Norman was thrown open to the maskers, who were entertained with music and delightful refreshments.

the local freight Mr. Cass dropped a $5 bill from the train. He got off to get it and waited until the next freight train came by. In undertaking to mount the moving visited Lafayette to witness the race Opelousas. The race was a novel one, Bald was to run carrying 135 pounds against Wm. B. pacing in harness, two best heats in three.

Owing to the rain of the night previous the track was muddy, and poor time was made, but Bald won by seventy-five feet.—Abbeville
