It is easy to love your neighbor pens to be a pretty girl.

namite near Binghamton, N. Y., seven men were killed.

The protected cruiser New Orleans has been sent to Corea to protect American interests.

Lord Kitchener reports that 2040 Boers were killed, captured or imprisoned in the month of May.

Frey to the Ladies' Association of the Union.

Linen goods manufacturers will

It is estimated that the average cost of crime, through taxation, in this country, is not less than $3.50 per capita of the entire city population.

The United States government will resist being held responsible for loss of life caused by the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

In a storm which swept over Oklahoma Territory three persons were killed, seven were seriously injured and property valued at $100,000 was destroyed.

Diagnosis of Mrs. McKinley's illness has brought out the fact that the President's wife is suffering blood infection resulting from a bone felon on the index finger.

Chairman Kohnke of the New Orleans City Board of Health announced that deaths since Jan. 1 show a decrease of more than 20 per centum from the record of 1900.

Nearly all the motormen employed on the new trolley lines in Buffalo are young Canadian farmers. The railway officials say they are the most satisfactory of all their employees.

The Kansas farmers will save $400,000 this year on binder twine by patronizing the penitentiary factory, which sells it for eight and a half cents a pound, while the trust asks eleven cents.

The income of a poor farmer or regular laborer's family in Italy seldom exceeds $125 a year.—Picaune.

The visible income of many small coons in town doesn't figure anything like $125—but still they live on "pork chops greasy" and cut as big a swath as anybody.

Fosts are unknown in the orange belt of southern California, and the growers are constantly experimenting, with the result that the fruit has been brought to a state of perfection scarcely dreamed of fifteen years ago, when it was coarse and stringy, with more pulp than juice.

Now man ever lived who could save from legitimate earnings as much as $1,000,000. Those who have that amount or more have not earned it, but have acquired it by special governmental favors, or by "winning" the earnings of others, just as the common gambler does.— Texas Farm and Ranch.

The following special from Lake Providence, La., might be read with interest: "Saturday the Police Jury of this parish borrowed $10,500 from the Lake Providence Bank, at 6 per cent interest, to pay for the new courthouse now being built, and decided to lay the corner-stone with masonic ceremony in July."

Mr. Edison having discovered how to make "Portland cement" at extremely low cost, expects to drive quarried stone and brick out of use as building materials. It will consequently cost comparatively little to build houses, or rather to "pour" them, for when houses are made of cement, they will be "poured" instead of built. Since it will thus cost so little to make a house, Mr.
Edison thinks "rent will be very low."

Grand Cotenn Notes.

We have been blessed with a heavy rain since my last writing, the results of which is a revival of the whole country. The populace is overjoyed with this great benediction. Every person one sees now tells of the great benefits this treat has brought upon him. The farmer on one hand describes with overwhelming joy the great improvements of his crops, as he journeys over his spacious fields of cultivation. This instills him with an energy to redouble his work; seeing better prospects for a successful year. The merchant, on the other hand, is stirred on with new life from better prospects of good trade.

The chief pleasure parties, at present, are pic-nics and fish fries.
Several have taken place this Spring and were conducted with great enjoyment.

The fish must be biting quite well in our neighboring streams, since Judge Lewis and other notable personages from Opelousas drive way over to "Coulee de Marx" to fish for them.

Judge Lewis must be watching the seiners closely, principally for his interest; he does not want to travel so far and not get a bite. We all hope, as well as Judge Lewis, that this practice will be stopped in the near future.

The feast of "Corpus Christi," which falls on this week, is one of the grandest Catholic celebrations of the year. The procession—the chief part of the ceremony—passes over the grounds of the St. Charles College to a beautifully decorated repository. All this artistic work is accomplished under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia McPherson.
This lady has been decorating these "out-door" alters for upwards of twenty-five years. The concourse of people that follow this procession of the "Body of Christ" number fully fifteen hundred.

Oil has not yet been struck in our neighborhood. Only have enough patience, and you will hear of it one day.

Mr. T. S. Isaacs, the drummer of the Oil, Land, Mineral and Development Co. of Opelousas, has been here several times lately. He is trying to obtain leases on lands belonging to our neighboring farmers.

Let us trust to providence that both sides will succeed.

FAIR PLAY.

Historical Families Of Louis- iana.

The late Henry Schuyler Thibodeau, or Thibodeaux, founder and preceptor of the flourishing town that bears his name, was the descendant of an ancient French family, early domiciliated in Canada.
He came to Louisiana in 1794, and settled on what was then called the Acadian Coast. What is now St. Charles parish was originally termed the First German Coast.
St. John parish was called the second German Coast. St. James was then known as the Acadia Coast, having been chiefly settled by immigrants from Canada, and by the French from Nova Scotia, after its conquest by the English. Here Mr. Thibodeau lost his first wife.
His second wife was born in what is now the parish of West Baton Rouge, on the memorable 4th of July, 1776, and was descended in a direct line, on her father's side, from the famous French Navigator and discoverer of Canada, Jacques Cartier. Her family were present when Chaplain founded the city of Quebec.

In 1801, Mr. Thibodeaux moved to a point on the Bayou Lafourche, nearly opposite where the town of his name now stands. That portion of the province was then known as the 'District of Valenzula dans Laforce,' and embraced each side of the "Fork" outlet, from the point where it leaves the Mississippi to its de bouchement into the Gulf, and was some fifty leagues in length.

In 1810 Mr. Thibodeaux removed to what is now the parish of Terrebonne, which at that time was known as La Fourche Interior. He was the first permanent settler or planter of that productive and now populous portion of Louisiana. In 1822, being then a conspicuous member of the Legislature, he caused it to be set apart and established as the parish of Terrebonne, the birth place of his wife's father. The family residence was the plantation St. Brigitte, on the Bayou Terrebonne, where he lived like a patriarch, surrounded by a large family of sons and daughters—with his slaves and flocks—hundreds of the poor clustered around him—dispensing a generous hospitality, and exercising unbounded influence over the primitive population.

A purer man and a better patriot never lived or died. His venerable wife survived until 1850, devoting herself to the duties imposed by wealth and high special position and her death was mourned by the whole parish, but especially by the poor.—N. O. Picaune.

Uses Of Oil.

Since oil has been found in such unlimited quantities in Texas, with the prospect of a like supply in Louisiana and Arkansas, its sphere of usefulness will naturally be extended. Already some of the railroads of the South are preparing to use it for fuel in the locomotives in place of coal. The oil cooking stove will be more generally used.
In fact it will take the place of coal for most purposes, and being cleaner and more easily handled, it will consequently grow in favor both as a generator of power and heat.

The Time-Democrat suggests that it be used for sprinkling the streets and road-beds of railways. Water as a settler of dust soon dries out, but oil will form a sticky substance that will in time become hard and thus permanently lay the dust. It will prove very useful for that purpose.

The Cane Crop.

During the past week rain has fallen generally over the sugar district and the benefit derived from it has been very great. Under its influence the growing crop has taken on life and vigor and quite a transformation has been wrought in the appearance of the fields.
The dry weather had prevailed in most localities since the middle of April and moisture had become extremely necessary, though every effort was made by cultivation to keep the cane in as good condition as possible. Warm weather has also put in its appearance and the combination of heat and moisture will do much to help the backward condition of the crop. The prospects at this writing are very favorable and the reports of our correspondents are encouraging from all parts of the sugar district.—N.
O. Sugar Planter.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, that the report of collector be accepted as read and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The report of W. R. Cochran, collector of w. w. and e. l. plants, showing collections for month ending June 4, 1901, for m. and l. services and water, amounting to $443.34, was accepted as read and referred to the finance committee.

The treasurer makes the following report:

Statement of the Town of Opelousas, La., from May 7 to June 4, 1901: May 7, bal on hand as per report..... $ 9314.58 June 3, cash rec'd from W. R. Cochran, Clerk..... 443.34

Hayes, Collector..... 164.90

Total..... $ 9,848.70

On motion, duly seconded and carried, that the report be accepted as read and referred to the finance committee. The committee after examining the report, report same correct and ordered that the treasurer be credited with the sum of $1,984.12 and vouchers for same be cancelled, which was accordingly done.

The report of Supt. A. C. Jones, was accepted as read.

Opelousas, June 5, 1901.

To the Members of the Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen—Since our last meeting I have tried 20 cases in the mayor's court, 10 were brought to trial by marshal Hayes and 10 by nightwatchman Healey. Of these cases 8 paid their fines, 9 worked their time on the streets or have not settled, 2 served their time in jail and 1 was discharged.

The term of nightwatchman expired on the 1st of this month. I recommend the continuance of the officer.

During the recent drought I tried the experiment of watering the streets from the fire plugs. I find it altogether impracticable. But I would recommend that the town at an early date procure a sprinkling cart or wagon and whenever the dust becomes such a nuisance as recently, that the town sprinkle the streets where the waterworks do not reach.

The second payment on new engine was made during the past month. The engine has been placed in service by Supt. Jones, and running satisfactorily.

The purchasing committee has ordered all the apparatus necessary for burning oil at the power house, and we will be using the oil within the next two weeks.

Supt. Jones has completed the extension of the waterworks and electric lights. The costs of the extension amounted to $2,187.20.
Mr. Jones has superintended the whole work and has thereby saved the town a considerable amount of money.

Respectfully,

B. A. LITTELL, Mayor.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the report of the mayor was accepted as read and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The report of J. G. Lawler, street commissioner, was accepted as read.

The sprinkling committee reported, and, on motion of Vilaseca, duly seconded and carried, that the question be referred back to the committee for further investigation.

The finance committee beg leave to report that we have examined the report of W. R. Cochran, collector of w. w. and e. l. plants, for month ending May 7th, 1901, and find same correct.

fund to pay the balance due on the high school annex contract, and that a warrant be issued in favor of the chairman of the building committee, and this amount to be paid by him to the contractor when building is accepted and all labor and material bills are shown

On motion of Vilaseca, duly seconded and carried, that Mr. A. D.

Little Mason.

Died, on Saturday morning, June 8, 1901, Mason Arthur, infant son of Mason McBride and Ida Cullom, aged 7 months.

Little Mason is gone, gone to meet the white-winged angels above; gone to play and gambol on God's baby campus; up there to join the myriad little tots, little flowers, who have preceded him, followed by the tears and sobs of anguish-wrung hearts. The little darling was precious down here on earth, and to take him away from the ones whose hearts he had been sent to cheer and make happy, seems a stroke of Providence pettish indeed—but such is terrestrial existence—Joy and Sadness commingles so; even in the cradle, one fills it, for the other to rob it. The kiss of the earthly mother has hardly dried on the little ruby lips, when the Omnipotent mother high above claims her gift and recalls baby home.

Little Mason was sick but a short while. Hardly had his fond "Dannon," his sweet and loving mother, his stout-hearted, affectionate boy father, realized that he was sick before he was called to come above.
Raymond, Bess and Judy, hardly had time to see the baby of the playhouse ere the little frame was chilled in death; his little soul winged its way to meet other playmates in the other Home.

The precious little darling, in its little white bed, was conveyed to the Methodist cemetery at six o'clock, and there placed in its brick home beneath a scoughing live-oak, its green branches sheltering Baby from the cold rain and hot sun.

A pathway straight and sweet."
