RELICS OF THE CROSS OF NAZAR ETH IN AMERICA.

Well-Authenticated Fragment Is in the Cathedral at New York-Archbishop Ryan Tells of Pains Taken to Inves tigate Relics.

That well-authenticated relics of the true cross of Nazareth are treasured in New York is not generally known. It is, however, a fact. The cathedral authorities have long possessed one of the largest pieces of the true cross in this country. It is a mere splinter, not much larger than a cabric needle. In speaking of the matter Rev. Dr.

Lavelle, pastor of the cathedral, said: "When Mark Twain, in his 'Innocents Abroad,' made the assertion that ne had found enough relics of the true cross to build a ship, he made a most ridiculous blunder and betrayed an al most unpardonable ignorance." The reliquary which holds these sa cred relics is usually from 12 to 18 inches high. The precious specimen is rarely more than a mere thread of It is placed in a large ostensor ium, in order that the multitude may on occasions when the relic is displayed, be able to distinguish its posiion upon the altar.

The relic which the cathedral cherishes was brought to this country by Cardinal McCloskey. Before this one of the other priests had, as his private possession, a small relic of the cross. Archbishop Hughes also possessed one of these tiny treasures. The relic at the cathedral is incased in a costly jewel studded reliquary, standing about 14 inches high. It shows ancient Roman repousse work in gold and silver. It is brilliant with dianonds and sapphires.

In the center of this ostensorium is small medallion, covered with beveled crystal and showing beneath an ivory cross of exquisite workmanship. Set in the center of this is the relic of the cross of Nazareth.

Cardinal Gibbons has a piece of the true cross in his pectoral cross. Upon being requested to give his opinion as to the authenticity of these relics of the passion, he replied: "As far as we can judge, we have every reason to believe in the genuineness of the relics which are preserved in Rome, particles of which have been distributed in almost every part of the Christian world. Archbishop Ryan, who has gone more deeply into the study of this subject than any other prelate in this country, has

"'Every Christian, of no matter what creed, can appreciate the veneraion in which we hold the relics of the Savior. Even as the patriot preserves souvenirs of heroes, so have the Chriscians in all countries held in reverence relics of the Nazarene.

"The true cross has been an object of especial veneration ever since its discovery, in the year 326, by Empress Helena. Many pieces of it have been distributed among the faithful, but these have not been larger than a small strand of hair. Thus a small piece of the wood affords thousands of relics "There is a congregation of canons appointed to investigate sacred relica and authenticate them. It is one of the most difficult things in the world to obtain such authentication. The seal of the church is never given to doubt ful relics. There are, however, a great many duly authenticated rel-

SMALL BOY KNEW HIM.

But the Identification Was Not Entire ly Satisfactory.

A Duluth attorney recently went East to visit his old home, and the first Sunday he was there he attended church. After service he visited the Sunday school and saw many familiar faces among the pupils, although they had all grown considerably during the years he had been away.

At the request of the superintendent the visitor addressed the school, and in opening he asked if there were any present whos remembered him—who had ever seen him before.

The hand of a little fellow in the front row immediately went up. "I do-I do!" he said.

A satisfied smile crept over the face of the visitor. He was glad that the children remembered him. "Now, where was it you saw me be fore?" he asked the boy who had raised his hand. "You was the clown in the circus last summer!" replied the youth, enthusiastically. "I'd never forget your face."—Duluth News-Tribune.

With Faint Praise. One day Peter McArthur, who was at the time editor of Truth, was speaking of a certain poet who had just brought out a book of verse. "It is certainly a unique volume," said Mr. McArthur, who was and is still a stickler for good art, "a unique volume, and nothing else. It contains only one poem that is actually good,

'You don't mean to say that any one owns a racing automobile around here?" asked the drummer in surprise. "No, they don't own them, but they sit on the fence all day Sunday and throw stones at those that pass."-

Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, Washington, D. C., Ladies Auxiliary to Burnside Post, No. 4, G. A. R., recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"In diseases that come to women only, as a rule, the doctor is called in, some-times several doctors, but still matters go from bad to worse; but I have never known of a case of female weakness which was not helped when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used faithfully. For young women who are subject to headaches, backache, irregular or pain-ful periods, and nervous attacks due to the severe strain on the system by some organic trouble, and for women of advanced years in the most trying time of life, it serves to correct every trouble and restore a healthy action of all organs of the body.

"Lydia E.Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a household reliance in my home, and I would not be without it.
