TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Resolutions passed by the R. E. Lee Camp 14, on the death of Leonce Sandoz, deceased Adjutant.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from the Sphere of his usefulness our beloved Comrade and zealous Adjutant of R. E. Lee Camp 14, U. C. V., Leonce Sandoz, Whereas, in Comrade Leonce San-doz's untimely demise, the community loses one of its best citizens and every Veteran Confederate Soldier loses a true friend.

At the early age of 17, when the tocsin of war was sounded, he was among the first to rally to his country's standard, and followed the fortunes of the Confederacy, until the end of the war. He was true to every relation of life. He was a man of unbending integrity, yet gentle as a woman; of dauntless courage, yet modest and retiring; he was genial, kind, charitable, generous, the very soul of honor, and above all a devoted husband, and a fond father. He cherished fondly the memory of those glorious days, and enjoyed the companionship of old Comrades, not one of whom ever appealed to him in vain for needed help. With intense conviction, he believed our Cause was Just, and he never made apology for his course. As a citizen he was a staunch advocate of Law and Order, and with liberal public spirit, he strived to build up the moral and material interest of his section.

Therefore be it resolved, that the R. E. Lee Camp 14, U. C. V. deplore his loss, and extend to his grief-stricken family our heartfelt sympathy, in this their hour of trial and affliction, and pray that the God of Hosts will extend His protecting arm around the bereaved widow and orphan, and will ever guide and protect them from adversity and sorrow.
Committee: Major Arthur Simon, Chairman; John N. Ogden, A. B. Anderson.

MANY CHILDREN POISONED.

Lys A Source of Great Danger to Children...
Careless Mothers Responsible.

In the building at the Charity Hospital reserved for children, known as the Milliken Memorial, there are always to be found several babies suffering from the effects of eating lye.
Now there is not more than half a dozen, but the nurses say there is often twice that number. Just how young children happen to "indulge" in lye was made clear by one of the surgeons. He explained that careless mothers were in the habit of leaving boxes of lye on the floor where their unsuspecting children could get hold of it. Being of a white substance it appeals to their palates and whenever it is placed within their reach they invariably taste of it.

Lye poisoning, which appears to be almost as much of a children's complaint as measles or whooping cough, often has serious results. One little tot, Newton Roberts, who says his home is in Hammond, La., had a narrow escape from death by eating a bitful of the stuff used by his mother for cleaning floors. He has been at the hospital for some months and strange to say his particular playmate, a child of three years, known as Odette, is suffering from the same complaint. Odette has not been out of the hospital since she learned to walk. She is one of the "old-timers" there, and when a search was made for her card of entrance by a reporter wishing to learn her last name and her address, it was found that it had been shelved. Usually these cards are to be found on the cot of the patient, but not so with Odette. She had been there so long that the card had been put away for safe-keeping.

One of the physicians in charge said that though the children suffering from lye poisoning were at present able to run about and play, their throats were still in a critical condition. The lye contracts the thorax, and for a long time after the child swallows lye this canal becomes so twisted that only liquids can be forced into the stomach. An operation is often necessary to straighten out the throat.

"A little more care on the part of mothers in seeing that lye is not placed within the reach of their children would prevent much suffering and frequently save their children's lives," said the surgeon in charge of one of the children's wards in the Milliken building, where never less than one hundred little sick children are confined.

New Postal Cards.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Designs for the new postal cards to be issued by the government have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

On the ordinary card the head of the late President McKinley will appear as now, but a much better likeness of the martyred President has been selected. On the new small card intended for index purposes and for social correspondence, a likeness of President Lincoln will appear. The two-cent international card will bear a portrait of Gen. Grant.

On one-half of the double, or reply postal cards will appear a portrait of George Washington, and on the other a likeness of Martha Washington.

The paper to be used will "take ink" better than the paper now employed.

LOUISIANA PEANUTS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND.

Carloads in North Louisiana Find Ready Sale to Supply Shortage.

New Orleans, Nov. 22.—North Louisiana farmers are helping this year to make good their very heavy shortage of the American peanut crop and at the same time recouping their own losses from the boll weevil and demonstrating the benefits of diversification.

Ex-Senator Lewis of Ruston was in New Orleans about three weeks ago and told of the shipment of several cars of goobers raised in Lincoln to Texas and Virginia. The shipments have continued since then.
Ten days ago the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific handled on one day, twelve carloads, loaded at Ruston and Foster, La., six going to Terrell, Texas, and six going to Suffolk, Va. It marked the largest movement of peanuts in the history of Louisiana.

The successful experiment of the Lincoln farmers has made an impression on the farming interests of the northern section of the State, and there are indications, as has already been pointed out in the States, that a very much larger acreage will be devoted to the cultivation of pinders next year than ever before. The V., S. & P. and other roads interested are doing all in their power in the matter of rates for the growers, and are preparing to encourage the industry, by every means in their power.

WOODALCOHOL CAUSED DEATH

Boy's Father Thought He Was Drunk and Whipped Him.

Shreveport, La., Nov. 23.—News was received here today of the death of Buddy Flowers, the 16-year-old son of Joe Flowers, living several miles north of here, as a result of drinking wood alcohol. The alcohol was mistaken for whiskey. His father thought the boy was drunk and whipped him several times before discovering the truth. The boy died in terrible agony Saturday night.

Texas 2,100,970.
