FOR CONGRESS
We are authorized to announce the candidacy of
L. LAZARO
for Congress, Seventh District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

ROOSEVELT

Whatever may be said of ex-president Roosevelt it cannot be denied that he is the luckiest mortal on earth and that his luck is dependent on a shrewd insight into human nature; it is a faculty he possesses in common with the late P. T. Barnum, Sangrado, Laws of the Mississippi Bubble, and the army of successful gamblers in Wall Street and behind the roulette tables and the long green.

In Cuba, any other man would have been court-martialed for insubordination; he was elected president. In 1912 he played the role of Judas Iscariot in the tragedy of the G. O. P. while how he it the "Fidus Achates" of Hughes and would be his secretary of state if there was any remote possibility of the gentleman, who dragged the judicial ermine of the highest court in Christendom in the dust, being elected.

In the late convention of the defunct Bull Moose party Roosevelt was the unanimous choice and selected standard bearer with John M. Parker as first lieutenant, the latter as loyal friend and gallant citizen as ever stood in the vanguard of a forlorn hope; with a selfish ruthlessness that surpasses belief he left his friend Parker and the thousands of loyal progressives high and dry and has trimmed his sails to the republican breezes and has now rallied to the support of a man, although his former chief detractor; worse, a hyphen, who is playing to the German galleries; if there is one thing more than another that Roosevelt prides himself on it is his clean cut Americanism and his detestation of hyphenates, but the dog has returned to his vomit and saves his elastic conscience by a private understanding that Hughes' hyphenism is for political effect and that at heart he is sound in his Americanism.

No one doubts that if Hughes were president he would not dare play into the hands of the Kaiser, if he did so, and no man would arise with a nerve to put a quietus on him, the glorious womanhood of America would furnish a Charlotte Corday.

The danger lies in the effect the election of Hughes would produce in Europe and in the future in this country, where it is shown that foreign influences can determine the course of a presidential election. If ever there was a time in American history where it is obligatory to set the seal of disapproval and condemnation on meddling foreign interference in our politics it is now. Every patriotic American regardless of party affiliation should support Wilson, on account of the foreign enemies he has made.

Even the pachydermatous hide of Roosevelt must have been pierced by the cold-blooded selfish treachery to the men who had been so loyal to him; adverse criticism appeared throughout the length and breadth of the land to which he was extremely sensitive. As an off-set to these, this monumental four-flusher, in order to create a press diversion, in his favor, and keep his name before the public, offers a division fully equipped and armed to the smallest detail, but makes the terms of this pound of flesh—Roosevelt to be major general, a man without military experience, temperamentally disqualified to subject himself to military discipline, nay worse, judging his future record by the past in Cuba he would subvert the discipline of the army in Mexico in a desperate effort to re-establish himself as a national hero and some convenient Wall Street Platt would not be wanting to give his requisite newspaper boost and the columns of the yellow journals would be blazoned with a "hero of Chapultepec" as apocryphal as the "hero of San Juan" as it is a notorious fact that the hero of San Juan was not on San Juan during the fight, and viewed Kent's division as it marched up and captured the fort from Kettle Hill, a half mile distant.

It is to be hoped the commander-in-chief will refuse the offer of the army division as long as it is coupled with the calamity of Roosevelt as major general.

Information to the Public
There seems to be some confusion regarding the assessor's office. Many are under the impression that Mr. A. L. Andrus, assessor-elect, is the one to see regarding the assessments for the roll now being prepared for the collection of taxes.

For Sale 9 heads of mules, 1 fine family horse, 1 first class 4 year old horse, 1 road grader, in perfect condition, 6 scoops, 1 lot heavy single and double trees. For particulars apply to tion of taxes. For their information, we wish to make it clear that Mr. D. M. Fontenot is still the assessor, and Mr. Andrus has nothing to do with that roll, as he only takes his office in January, 1917. Until that time all parties wishing to correct their assessments or otherwise wishing to see the assessor regarding their assessments will have to see Mr. Fontenot as he has full charge of the assessor's office until Mr. Andrus receives his commission and qualifies for his duties.

Following my warning in the last "talk" about having too receptive an ear for your friends' well intended prophecies, I may add the suggestion that you take all cheap advice on motion picture affairs "with a pinch of salt."

It is astonishing to note the number of people who would seem to know more about motion pictures than about the particular line of business for which they are supposed to be qualified. It would almost appear that the more real experience one has in pictures, the less he or she knows about them. I am acquainted with one girl—who occasionally dresses her hair—who would willingly tell you more in fifteen minutes about motion pictures than I shall be able to impart in this entire series of "talks."

And the surprising part of it is that she can dispense her information with so small an expenditure of thought. I have met a great many others exactly like her.

It is well that the "screen struck girl" realizes that there is a frightful amount of misconception concerning motion picture acting, and that it is trying hard to pass muster as real information. It may be had for the asking—yes, too often without the asking.

There are people who will assure you—as they have assured me—that motion picture directors everywhere spend a good part of their time tearing their hair because they cannot find enough actresses to fill their casts. This is altogether ridiculous. True, there is, and always will be room at the top for real ability coupled with ambition and a willingness to work and learn; but never for a minute, you girl who would succeed, figure on finding a place in pictures through the supposition that a dearth of talent in the profession will allow you to "squeeze" in. At the studio where I work there are two big drawers filled with applications on file, and a great many of the girls whose names are listed there will never "squeeze" in.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT. FACTS AND FIGURES ON YOUNG PEOPLES' EARNING ABILITY

From $100 to $150 pays for a complete life scholarship, including books and board, in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Telegraphy or Business Administration and Finance in our school. When one or more of these courses is finished, we will place the graduate in a position where his first two or three months salary will reimburse him for all necessary tuition and board paid for the course. The graduate seeing that he can now earn $3.00 where before he could earn but $1.00 will soon admit that if he had had to borrow every cent of the money to pay board and tuition, that it was the best investment he ever made. Traffic is usually heavy on northern roads, which means additional help in all departments. The Union Pacific Railroad is urging young men to learn Telegraphy. They call on us for from 12 to 20 men every few months, which we are unable to fill owing to the great demand for help on the southern roads. Enroll now for a course of Telegraphy and help us supply the demand for operators and clerks next fall.

With the famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand and Practical Bookkeeping, and our practical way of teaching Telegraphy and Railroad Station Work, we give the student a more thorough training, in half the time and half the usual cost of a course in other schools teaching other systems. This is conclusively proven by the endorsements in our catalogue from those who have attended other schools and studied other systems. We conclusively prove every statement we make, and that is why we have the largest business training school in America. Our catalogue is free for the asking, and it will give any parent or young person just the information they desire in helping them to make up their mind as to the school to patronize, the course to take, the cost, and the increased earning capacity.
