In Honor of Mrs. Stewart

Trenton (Tenn.) Gazette.

Mrs. George W. Wade was the exceedingly lovely hostess of a beautifully arranged luncheon of five courses, given at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, in her handsome apartment home on Church street, in special honor of Mrs. W. T. Stewart of Opelousas, La. Yellow and pink was the pretty color motif of the luncheon. The picture table was draped in cluny lace, and was centrally decorated, crystal epergne holding yellow spring daffodils, which were gift flowers to the popular hostess. From the chandelier hung streamers of pink ribbons, caught at the four corners with yellow and pink ribbons, over which hovered a shower of golden butterflies.

The exquisite table was further adorned with white baskets daintily tied with pink and yellow ribbons holding French bon-bons. The luncheon personnel was Westdames Stewart, Eliza Rankin, Dee Tyler, Homer Lain, Marc Anthony, Webb Herbert, Earl Greer and W. L. Wade. The honoree of this lovely luncheon, Mrs. Stewart, who was formerly in her girlhood Miss Willie Fielder and who was one of Trenton's most beloved daughters and one of her most popular society belles, and who after an absence of twelve years, is now a visitor to her hold home and receiving an overwhelming ovation from her many friends. Mrs. Stewart is the house guest at Rose-dale of Mrs. Rankin, and will be all-night guest at Colonial Court of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Elder. Mrs. Stewart will be entertained on Thursday at Dixie, of Mrs. Tyler as hostess.

SOME FAT JOBS IN THE CIVIL SERVICE

COMMISSION ANNOUNCES EXAMINATIONS TO FILL SEVERAL POSTAL VACANCIES

According to information given out, there will be held examinations under the civil service rules to fill vacancies in a number of lucrative positions in the postal service. These positions and the date of examinations for the same are as follows:

Postmaster at Church Point, the salary being one thousand dollars per annum; date of examination, to be held in Opelousas, April 23, 1919.

Position of rural route mail carriers at both Opelousas and Washington, examination to be held today, Saturday, March 22.

Fourth-class postmaster at Krotz Springs, position pays about $351 per annum. Examination to be held at Opelousas on April 12, 1919.

Blank forms for prospective applicants can be secured from the civil service commission at Washington, D. C., and rules governing the examination can be learned by applying to the secretary at the federal building in this city.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS

April 26 has been selected as the date for the examinations upon books of the Institute Reading Course for the session 1918-19. These examinations have an important value to the teachers, as institute credits, earned through offering satisfactory papers upon two books of the Reading Course, may be applied to the extension of a teacher's certificate for one year, or have the value of 3.5 per cent in examinations for teachers' certificates and the value of one hour in the rating of high school teachers.

Your attention is directed to the regulation of the State Board of Education that after January 1, 1921, first grade certificates, whether earned through examination or issued upon normal or college diplomas, will be renewed only upon application of summer school or institute credits: (a) three summer school credits; (b) three institute credits; (c) one summer school credit and two institute credits; (d) two summer school credits and one institute credit, all earned within five years during the life of the certificate.

In accordance with the action of the State Board of Education February 10, 1919, the issuance of War Emergency Certificates has been discontinued. War Emergency Certificates already issued, may be kept alive through the application of summer school credits or institute credits.

Respectfully,
B. PRES-COTT,
Superintendent.

Whereas, the Silent Angel of Death has touched the latch string of the homes of three of our brothers, and thus has taken from our midst Guests Goldman Richard, Edward Brice and Hillard Carriere, members of this Household who were esteemed and loved among us; and

Whereas, whilst bowing in humble submission to the mandate of that great Supreme Court from which there is no appeal, we desire to record in permanent form our sorrow for their untimely departure from useful spheres of effort and endeavor, and to solace, so far as we can, the stricken loved ones left behind; therefore,

We resolved, this Household, in their death, has lost three of its ardent, efficient and devoted members, and that we hereby tender the families and friends of our deceased guests our heartfelt condolence. We can but say to them "words of consolation are too few of the instruments that open afresh the heart's wounds," but that in the fullest sense we mingle our tears with theirs and trust that the soothing hand of time will soften their grief, and heal their wounds so that with Christian resignation we may
