INDIAN MAIDEN MAY BE SAINTED

WOULD BE FIRST NATIVE AMERICAN TO BE SELECTED

Washington, July 24.—Prominent Catholics of the national capital, as well as others throughout the country are hopeful that the first Native North American Saint will be a Mohawk Indian maiden.

The Bureau of Catholic Indian Missions believes the prospects of canonization of Kateri Tekakwitha, the Indian maiden, to be excellent. The Pope has been acquainted with the desire of American Catholics to honor the Indian race and it is believed that Kateri Tekakwitha will be canonized in the near future.

Kaeri Tekakwitha was born in 1666. Her father was a Mohawk warrior and her mother a Christian Algonquin, who died when she was four years old. The little girl was then sent to live in the lodge of her uncle, a pagan. When she became a young lady she took up missionary work among the Mohawks. On the stone that covers her grave is a cross upon which has been inscribed in the language of the Iroquois:

"Kateri Tekakwitha, the fairest flower that ever bloomed among the Red Men."

Mons. William H. Ketcham, director of the Bureau of Catholic Indian Missions, hopes for the early canonization of the Indian maiden, so that the Indians of this country—of whom about 100,000 are Catholics—may have the privilege of venerating one of their own people.

CORN A FATTENING FEED FOR POULTRY

"Corn is very fattening and when fed to closely confined chickens in large quantities results in a surplus of fat rather than eggs," says Harley L. Williams, poultry specialist, Extension Division, Louisiana State University.

"When corn is fed to laying hens it should be balanced with meat, bone, linseed, gluten and such feeds that are rich in nitrogenous matter, as corn is deficient in this constituent. Laying hens that have the opportunity of taking plenty of exercise and of securing plenty of insects and green feed can be fed corn and very satisfactory results will be obtained. Corn may be fed extensively during winter as it is very heating, but should be fed sparingly during summer."

BAMBOO PLANTATIONS GROW SPROUTS FOR TABLE USE

The tender sprout of the bamboo plant, according to a recent statement from the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture, when prepared like asparagus, is a most delicious vegetable, according to an article in the August issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine. Already several bamboo plantations are being operated on a paying basis in Georgia and Louisiana.

FOREIGN TRADE INCREASES DURING FISCAL YEAR 1920

Eight billion one hundred and eleven million dollars represents the total value of all export shipments from the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920. The greatest value in the history of the country's foreign trade. This is an increase of $379,000,000 over the export value of $7,232,000,000 during the fiscal year 1919 according to official figures issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce.

The imports of $5,239,000,000 in the fiscal year ended with June exceeded by $2,143,000,000 the imports of $3,096,000,000 in the fiscal year 1919.

Imports in June totaled $533,000,000, an increase of $122,000,000 over the May figures of $431,000,000 and $260,000,000 more than the imports of $269,000,000 in June of last year. On half of the June imports consists of dutiable articles, the highest proportion of dutiable imports in any month since July, 1911. Preliminary figures indicate that this is due to unusually large imports of sugar.

June exports amounted to $631,000,000, a decrease of $115,000,000 from May exports of $746,000,000 and $2,000,000 less than the exports of $3,000,000 in June of last year.

Gold imports amounted to $151,000,000 and gold exports to $467,000,000 in the fiscal year 1920, while imports totalled $195,000,000 in use, against silver exports of $176,000,000.
