Go In Comfort

Go at your pleasure—go where you choose and when you choose, with your family or your friends. Enjoy the boundless beauties of nature, the pure air, a lunch in a shady wood, a fishing excursion, a rest by a cool lake or stream.

You can in a Ford. Millions have learned by experience that to own and operate a Ford is not an extravagance; they have learned that the many pleasures derived from a Ford takes the place of other pleasures, and the saving thus made often pays for the car and its maintenance.

Let's talk this matter over. Get the facts and figures.

L. S. U. ACTIVITIES

University Station, Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 15.—The first of a series of "Pep" meetings was held at Garig Hall, early this week in which 800 students participated. The pep meetings are held for the purpose of getting ready for the big Tulane-L. S. U. football game on November 19. The students will go down on a special train.

L. S. U. students are not to be left out of better Speech Week, which will begin December 4 and continue through December 11. It is announced by Supt. C. A. Ives, state high school inspector. The purpose of the week is to focus attention to better speech in the schools of the state, in home and in business, and to create a favorable atmosphere for the things the schools are trying to accomplish in their day-by-day school exercises.

A plan is being made by the University students to secure a hundred per cent in the Red Cross membership drive. Prof. R. L. Hiss, University purchasing agent, has been designated by the Baton Rouge chapter of the Red Cross to handle the University end of the campaign.

The Women's Athletic Association of L. S. U. held its first initiation Thursday afternoon, November 10, in the Pavilion on the campus. The meeting of the W. A. A. preceded the initiation and at the conclusion of the meeting the poor initiates were brought forth and made to perform. A stunt was staged by the girls. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, Delaware punch, hersheys, and bananas were served at the conclusion. Those initiated were Misses Berta Lee, Mae Kelley, Thelma Mopper, Estelle McClellon, Jessie Chambers and Eugenie LeCoc.

The Women's Enterprise, which is the women's newspaper published in Louisiana, will have in its next issue a very interesting article on the coeds of the University who have gone out in the state and taken prominent parts in constructive and useful women's clubs.

Sigma Delta Chi will hold its sixth annual convention in Ames, Iowa, December 10, 11 and 12. Leaders in professional and collegiate newspaper work from every part of the United States will be at the convention. Clyde R. Brown will represent the Louisiana chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

MARSHAL PRAISES FOOTBALL MORALE

Foch's Name Inscribed on Yale's Roll Bearing that of Washington

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 12.—The name of Ferdinand Foch, Marshal of France, was inscribed today with the Sons of Yale upon the roll call which bears those of George Washington, father of our country, and General Lafayette, soldier and statesman de Rochambeau, who was also a Marshal of France.

Marshal Foch received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at a special convocation of the fellows of Yale University, and later, as the all-day guest of the University, he saw other sons of the same alma mater battle to victory against Princeton. The stay of the Marshal here was an ovation. Thrice he was driven over pre-arranged routes with a cavalry escort and was acclaimed by the tens of thousands who lined the streets, and tonight he stayed at home of Col. Hiram Bingham.

Those who were with Marshall Foch at the football game say that he watched the players intently, occasionally using his field glasses. After the game he was asked his impression of the sport and he said: "It was interesting and exciting, every moment of it. The formations of the teams as they went through with their plays made a keen study which required much quick thinking. I have seen football in France but never before such an exciting game as the one today. It was all brilliantly staged, from the brain work and brawn of the players, to the esprit de corps, or morale shown by them. Much of this morale seemed to be supplied by those supporting their respective teams. Football is an ideal game for young men because it requires excellent discipline quick thinking, principal strength. It was one of the most entertaining games I have even seen. My one regret was that both teams could not win, so hard did each work." On the Princeton side of the bowl Marshal Foch sat with President Hibben of Princeton and Mrs. Hibben.

PARISH HAPPENINGS SIXTY YEARS AGO

Reception of the News in Opelousas
Wednesday last the mail brought the welcome intelligence that the flag of the Confederate States was floating in triumph over Fort Sumpter.

The news was received with every demonstration of joy and enthusiasm by our citizens. The cannon was brought out and seven guns fired for the Confederate States, one for Gen. Beauregard, and one for the gallant State of South Carolina.

The young men of the parish are now rapidly enrolling their names on the lists of Volunteer companies, for the purpose of offering their services to the Governor during the war. Young men desirous of serving their country have a chance of doing so by reporting at Head Quarters in Opelousas.

It seems that Heaven smiled upon the first warlike effort of the Confederate States, for during the bombardment of the fort, a storm prevailed, preventing all efforts at reinforcements; and now success, like the first beams of the morning, throws its rosy light on the victorious flag of the Southern Confederacy. Now, let the people of the south but remain true to themselves, and the glorious destiny of a free, independent, powerful, and happy nation is before us.

THE WAR NEWS

The city papers of the 13 instant, brought us the startling intelligence that the Lincoln government had informed Governor Pickens and General Beauregard that they had determined to reinforce Fort Sumpter at all hazards; which news was transmitted by telegraph by Gen. Beauregard to L. P. Walker, Secretary of war of the Confederate States, who gave Gen. Beauregard orders to demand the evacuation of Fort Sumpter at once.

On the 11th instant at 2 o'clock p. m., this demand was made of Major Anderson, and he was allowed until 6 o'clock to answer. Major Anderson refused to comply with the demand, or to state a time at which he would evacuate, and agree that in the meantime he would not use his guns against us unless ours should be used against Fort Sumpter. Upon Fort Sumpter on Fri. morning the 12th instant, at half past 4 o'clock. On Saturday, the 13th instant at 2 o'clock p. m., Major Anderson hauled down the United States flag and run up the white flag; at 4 o'clock the flag of the Confederate States of America floated over Fort Sumpter.

An intercepted dispatch discloses the fact that an agent of the Black Republican administration who had been permitted to visit Major Anderson of pledge that his purpose was pacific, had employed the opportunity in the Fox like business of devising by the Washington Government and a plan to supply the fort by force and that his plan had been adopted was in progress of execution.

Thus the curtain is raised on the first act of Abe Lincoln's administration, a long-continued one of perfidy and deceit.

Headquarters, St. Landry, Rept. 1st. Brigade, 4th Division L. M. Opelousas, April 20, 1861.

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 1.

By the act of the Federal Government of the United States of the north a state of war exists. The power of that government, in the hands of an insolent foe to the South and its institutions, is to be used for the subjugation of our people. The principle of Free Government (in which a people choose that form of government best suited to promote the interest general welfare of the community) is sought to be subverted by ignominious men who have attained power in the name of liberty, to establish that liberty, which, in the first settlement of Massachusetts, accorded the sabbat and the faggot to the Catholic, the Quaker, and the Baptist.

In this war—a war of independence—a war in which we are to assert the manhood, the dignity, and the freedom of our people, and our race, every citizen must bear his part, and none but the coward and the traitor will refuse to sustain his share of its burdens, either by the contribution of his means or his personal service in the field.

The creoles of Louisiana inherit a glorious name, illustrated, on every battle field in Europe from the time of Caesar to the present day, and they will not permit the name of Frenchman to be dishonored, when honor calls them to the field. Our Anglo-American citizens will remember, too, how nobly their ancestors fought for liberty and free government, and they will stand by the side of their creole brothers as did the French and English in the Crimea, emulous only in the strife for honor, glory, and fame.

Whilst, then, it is not to be doubted, hundreds of our young men will rush to the standard of the Confederate States, where honor, glory, and fortune await the enterprising and the brave, a thorough and efficient organization of the Militia is required at home, to which every patriotic citizen is expected to give his aid and countenance. To this end it is recommended:

1. That Volunteer companies be formed under the provisions of the regiment, and subject to the orders Military board, detached from the of the Governor for a stated term of service.

11. That Volunteer companies be formed under the general militia laws of the State, and attached to the Regiment; such companies to adopt their own rules and regulations, which when approved by the commander in chief, will have the force of laws.

111. That all citizens between the ages of 18 and 50 years, not attached to Volunteer companies nor exempt from Military service by law, hold themselves in readiness to be called at a minute's notice.

And it is ordered:

1. That all commissioned officers of the St. Landry Regt. report in person at head quarters, with out delay.

11. That Captains of Volunteer companies organized under the general Militia laws report in person or in writing at Head Quarters.

By Order of:
JNO. G. PRATT,
Col. St. Landry Regt. L. M.
W. H. SPENCER, Adj't.

SMALL TOWN

(With apologies to the poet)
Now, I often get discouraged
And I wonder with me
If I had a perfect husband
And my dreams would all come true
My needs are very simple
My requests are very few
Just a "Chummy" Dutch
And a string of pearls or two
Where the styles can't be
And tho I live in dear old town
I would love to go a-shopping
With a suit of "knickers"
All this, and yes, a great deal more
I'd love to type to you
'Cause typing is the greatest thing
That ever I can do!
But time I do a thousand things
You'll wish the thing was done
And I will have forgotten
It ever was begun!

MODERN WIVES SHOULD HAVE MODEL KITCHENS

A convenient and attractive kitchen was never more essential to the happiness and contentment of a household than it is today. M. R. Sebastian, head of the Department of Home Economics in the Louisiana State University, who has exhibited a model kitchen accessories at the State Fair now held at Shreveport. The exhibit shown by Miss Sebastian a great amount of interest and sized the following points:
1. The grouping of related pieces lightens the labor saving process.
2. Correct height of work surfaces for each household member's expenditure of energy.
3. A pressure cooker and a less cooker save fuel and eliminate the necessity for the wife to spend the afternoon in order to have a hot dinner.
4. Foods should be stored properly in the refrigerator which spoil most easily should put directly under the top of the place, while those which will be put at the top.
5. That with a poorly arranged kitchen would walk far enough in six months it is estimated that a woman circumnavigate the globe.
6. That an attractive color scheme makes work in the kitchen a pleasure.
Miss Sebastian was assisted in staging this exhibit by her university coeds who are specialists in home economics.
