Gambling Game Raided N'r Town

On Tuesday evening a gambling game was raided in the colored section of town near the crossing, and six men were taken. Four of these were convicted and fined five dollars and costs.

PEANUT PHILOSOPHY.

"Despise not the day of small things" is a principle most philosophic. For instance, on the word of the National Foreign Trade Council the plebeian peanut is now to be regarded as a formidable factor in across seas commerce. This development offers a new opportunity to American farmers, especially those who cultivate the sandy loams of some of the southern and western states, and gives them a wider interest in the expansion of American foreign trade. The reason of this improvement in status for the peanut is found in the discovery by the British—hard put to it for food during the war—that a fine quality of edible oil is produced from peanuts. The National Foreign Trade Council has information from London to the effect that an official committee of distinguished British scientists has been appointed to study the question of edible oils and fats and that this committee is now studying the humble "groundnut", as they call it in England, to see what it can do to relieve the pangs of British hunger.

Where the special opportunity of American farmers and exporters comes in is through the decrease of production of peanuts in India and Africa during the war. Those countries used to export 350,000 tons of peanuts annually before the war and a good share of them came to the United States, where with circuses, picnics, baseball games, and other public attractions, our powers of peanut consumption were expansive and expanding. But while this production was decreasing during the war, importation of peanuts into Great Britain was growing from 11,000 tons in 1913 to 135,000 tons in 1918. This gives a glimpse of the increasing market for peanuts in England, and it is well known that the peanut habit, once formed, is well nigh unbreakable.

The French have long known the beneficial uses of peanuts. As long ago as 1913 more than 500,000 tons were imported into France. That market will come back in a short time, and, coupled with the growing British demand, it offers an attractive selling place for American peanut growers. American farmers have not been much accustomed to take either peanuts or foreign trade very seriously, but the time has come for them to wake up to the advantages of both.—Exchange.

GOVERNMENT TO HELP TICK DRIVE

Mr. W. A. Dougherty, U. S. Demonstration Farm, New Lllano, Vernon Parish, Louisiana.

Dear Mr. Dougherty: Referring to your esteemed favor of the 25th inst., requesting to be furnished with Motion Picture film entitled "The Charge of the Tick Brigade", you are advised that it is a pleasure to comply with your request, and in this connection it is being forwarded to you by express, prepaid, to Leesville, Louisiana. After it has served your purpose, will you kindly forward it, prepaid, by express to Mr. M. B. Lay, Many, Louisiana.

I thank you kindly for your communication, and hope that the film will be of some benefit to those who may have the pleasure of seeing it. Vernon Parish has decided not to furnish any more cooperation along the lines of the work of tick eradication, and their reason is because the courts have not upheld the law. It is a sad state of affairs in any community when the court officials fail to recognize a law on the statute books of the state. Such an attitude is certain to bring about a reaction, which will cost the people thousands of extra dollars.

Very respectfully,
E. I. Smith
Inspector in Charge

The Largest Cheese In The World.

A 31,964-lb. cheese, the largest ever manufactured, was made at Appleton, Wisconsin, June 17. The milk from 12,000 cows on 1,800 farms was used. The container for this cheese weighed more than 8000 lbs. Seventy-three cheesemakers in 59 factories had a part in converting 357,500 lbs. of milk into the curd required for the immense dairy product.

When the containing vat was filled, and a compressing machine had forced the cover down, an ice-house was built around the vat. The cheese will be allowed to age in this ice-house until ready to be shipped to a packing company in Chicago which will exhibit it at the 1919 National Dairy Show. —Hoard's Dairyman.

Mr. Dave M. Dowden is suffering from a mangled hand. He dropped a pulley on it while repairing some machinery.

Mr. Ed. Cooper has established a restaurant in Anacoco. The trade from the mill makes it possible.

There is singing here at the Orange Baptist Church every Thursday night. Every one is invited to attend.

Miss Sybil Tovey of this place returned from Natchitoches, La. last week where she has been attending school.

A Baptist meeting at Cold Springs Church, several miles east of Anacoco, started last Sunday. All are invited to attend.

Politics are boiling more furiously. Mr. W. W. Conerly, Mr. H. Marcus, better known as Boss Marcus, and Mr. R. T. McConathy are the novice aspirants for Member of Police Jury. Opposing them is Mr. M. B. Martin, present member. Mr. Martin has given the people splendid service. Now it's to the voters to keep a tried-and-found-not-wanting man, or elect someone who has not the experience and is untried, along the other candidates. I feel sure, would not disappoint their trust.

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

"Divers Weights and divers measures both of them alike are abomination to the Lord."—Proverbs, 20:10. Thinking men and women will do well to consider the striking arguments brought out by the World Trade Club of San Francisco in their campaign for adoption of the units of the metric system of weights and measures.

They show a striking anomaly: That the metric system was invented by a Briton, Watt, in 1783, and yet all civilized nations have adopted it exclusively, excepting the United States and Great Britain.

That the so-called "British system" of weights and measures is of German origin—a relic of the old German Hanseatic trade league—and yet Germany script it in 1871 and adopted the metric system, invented by a Briton.

People of Britannia and America may well ask themselves whether they are not carrying conservation too far. The metric system is no untried theory.

Its principle—the principle of decimal computation—has been used in the monetary system of the United States since 1786. If the United States had heeded Thomas Jefferson we should also have adopted this system of weights and measures based on decimals—so simple a system that a child can learn its main features in ten minutes. We know how well it works with money. It will work equally well with weights and measures.

The World Trade Club has started the ball rolling. What we all need is to look the subject up.
