Prayer Meeting Tonight.

Rev. Wier announces prayer meeting services to be held in the Methodist church tonight.

TOPSY TURVY.

A pretty and well-played comedy was enacted at the Evangeline Tuesday night by Berwick talent in their rendition of Topsy Turvy, or The Deacon's Courtship. A fairly well-filled house witnessed the performance which was given by the Berwick Epworth League under the auspices of the Ladies' Presbyterian Aid of Morgan City. The financial success of the play has not been reported, but the entertainment was a splendid success from a standpoint of presentation.

The parts for the comedy were well cast and the story of the play was well worked out. The character parts enacted by Miss Henrietta Brown, Miss Ouida Byron, Mr. Alvin Gashia and Mr. Harold Jacobs were played to perfection and the make-ups were in strict keeping with the characters represented. The juvenile and straight lead parts were taken by Mrs. S. H. Coleman, Miss Thelma Thorgeson, Mr. Dewey Brown and Mr. Clayton Coleman who were highly entertaining in their respective parts.

The story of the play was built around a pranking young couple, Topsy Turvy and Frank Golden, a miserly deacon and his persistent wooer, played by Miss Ouida Byron and Mr. Alvin Gashia. Lord Clarence, an Englishman, much desired by May Golden, but finally captured by Topsy Turvy, were represented ably by Mr. Dewey Brown and Miss Thelma Thorgeson. Mrs. Clarendon, who was unable to confine the vim and vivacity of her daughter, Topsy Turvy, and her nephew, Frank Golden, was played exceedingly well by Miss Henrietta Brown. Frank Golden, the mischievous college boy, home on a vacation, was a hit as portrayed by Mr. Coleman Clayton. Ned, a negro part, played by Mr. Harold Jacobs, kept the audience in an uproar.

Special musical numbers were contributed to the successful entertainment by Mr. C. J. Harrell of Morgan City, and by Miss Jessie Hanson of Berwick with Miss Leah Fortin as accompanist.
