WHAT "LIBERTY" REPRESENTS

"Liberty" the twenty-chapter Universal serial, has been planned to capitalize the martial spirit which is now sweeping over the country, the preparation to put the United States in possession of some degree of military strength, the revived interest in the spirit of liberty, and the power to defend it, and the particular attention which is being cast by every American to that portion of North America which lies south of the Rio Grande. With these things in view Jacques Jaccard was selected to wire and produce a serial which would embody the spirit of Liberty and it was decided that that would to the best all-around title for the serial with the sub-title, "A Daughter of the U. S. A." Work on "Liberty" has already started, and on August 14th the first episode will be released.

The Universal announces the titles for the first four episodes respectively, "Fangs of the Wolf," "Riding With Death," "American Blood," and "Across the Border."
"Liberty" promises to be a record smasher. It deals with venture below the Mexican border at the present day. Outlaw Mexican bandits, border raids, and their repulse by American troops, the ventures of an American girl on a great hacienda down below the Rio Grande, the trapping of American troops and their splendid fight to escape the ambush prepared for them by traitorous natives, pitched battles in the mesquite country and in the mountains of Sonora with greasers carefully entrenched and well supplied with American-made machine-guns, the abduction of an American girl by natives who hold her for ransom, the invasion of Mexico by the American Government after repeated raids of American towns along the border and the final establishment of a protectorate over Mexico—all combine to make "Liberty" a super-serial with all the attraction of a heart-interest drama and the thrills of a real live photographic reproduction of actual events along our southwestern border.

"Liberty" will be shown at the Evangeline next Monday night, October 2nd, besides the regular program, and admission to "Liberty" will be (as the word's implication) Free of Charge.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
