To the Insuring Public

The trouble and expenses incurred by the Local Insurance Agents, because of their inability to collect their premiums, and the frequent losses by non-payments has become so much of a tax on their business that they have found it necessary to limit all credit for premiums to 60 days from date of policy. Hereafter, satisfactory settlement must be made within that time, otherwise the policy will be cancelled, for such non-payment.

Hanson-LeBlanc

This morning at 10 A. M. while even dear old Mother Nature seemed to rejoice at the happiness of two loving hearts, they stood before the altar of Hymen while Rev. Father Souby pronounced the solemn service of the Catholic Church that made them one "for better, for worse, till death do us part."

The contracting parties were Mr. Leslie Hanson of Berwick and Miss Mable LeBlanc of Bayou Boeuf, the attendants were Miss Blanche LeBlanc, sister of the bride and Mr. William Drury and Mayor Watkins.

The wedding took place at the home of Capt. Hanson, father of the groom, which had been converted into a perfect bower of loveliness. The parlor, halls and dining room were a beautiful mass of autumn blooms. After the ceremony a delicious buffet luncheon was served. The couple leave this afternoon for Orange, Texas their future home, accompanied by the hearty congratulations of their numerous friends.

Owing to the popularity of Mr. Hanson and his bride the presents were numerous and expensive.

Those attending were, Mesdames B. W. Scott, Chas. Drury Sr., Amelia Troutman, Sam Watkins, Zulma Piffet, Albert Auenson, Maurice Fortin, Fritz Lemke, Geo. Hanson, Lyda Robicheaux, Ruth Donning, Ella Pierce, Chester Robicheaux, W. Geisler, Emma Benson, Olga Daigle, Pos. Stansbury, Albert Boudreaux, Ruby Drury, E. M. Cameron, Dorothy Hanson, Walter Williams, Misses Euberta Downing, Mamie Puckett, Lyda Robicheaux, Leah Fortin, Ruth Alma and Ida Hanson, Messrs. Wm. Drury, Albert Hanson, Willie and George Hanson, J. Watkins, John Whalden, Jos. Hanson and Mayor Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hanson accompany their son and daughter to Texas, where they expect to soon make their new home.

PLANT OATS NOW FOR FEED NEXT SPRING

Corn usually gets pretty low in the crib in the spring, and by early summer it is entirely gone. Instead of planting early corn for feed, as is frequently done, farmers should plant oats in the fall, according to W. R. Perkins of the Live Stock Extension Service, L. S. U.

Early corn is usually a poor yielder, points out Professor Perkins. When planted in the fall oats are safer and surer than corn. It will come earlier and will furnish a better feed. Another advantage of oats it can be followed by a summer crop, such as soy beans, cow peas, peanuts, etc. Early corn comes too early to make a good yield and too late to be followed by another crop.

A medium grade of land is most satisfactory for the oat crop; very rich land has a tendency to grow too much straw, and in seasons of excessive moisture the crop will lodge, or fall down. Plow the land well two or more weeks in advance of planting time and disc or harrow it to a compact and well pulverized seed bed. Put in two to two and one-half bushels per acre, in October if possible. Oats should be planted early enough to give them a good start, before winter weather.
