To the Insuring Public

The trouble and expenses incurred by the Local Insurance Agents, because of their inability to collect their premiums, and the frequent losses by non-payments has become so much of a tax on their business that they have found it necessary to limit all credit for premiums to 60 days from date of policy. Hereafter, satisfactory settlement must be made within that time, otherwise the policy will be cancelled, for such non-payment.

JAPANESE CUSTOMS

A large appreciated audience filled the Presbyterian church last night to greet and welcome Miss Thompson, the returned missionary from Japan, who held her hearers spell-bound for over one hour with her interesting and attractive talk on the customs and habits of the Japanese.

Of other things she told of how fashionable it was in Japan for any one to eat the longest and to put big bites of food in the mouth. She also said that when doughnuts or biscuits were partaken they were put in the mouth as whole and pushed in with the fingers. Speaking of salutations between people who meet on the streets, she acted as they do, by kneeling on the ground, resting on the arms, the forehead touching the ground. They remain in that posture a long time talking to each other and if the one met with is a loved one or a dear friend, his companion remains in that posture until the loved one or the friend raises first. She remarked that the little boys in Japan are wearing shirts, and that the kimonos worn by all classes of the people have dots and rings on the sleeves which denotes the age of the wearer. She spoke and sang in Japanese, and she also remarked to her listeners that time was of small importance to the Japanese, and that it was ultra-fashionable in the land of the Sun to take the longest time to do anything. Miss Thompson has been in Japan nearly eight years having gone as a missionary from South Carolina.

The services were opened by Rev. McLane, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the congregation was dismissed by Rev. C. C. Wier, pastor of the Methodist church.
