Will My Funds Be Safe?

It's the very first question that enters your mind when you consider depositing money in a bank or making an investment.

It is a very reasonable and logical question. Money should be safe, and still harder to save. You have a DEMAND safety.

New Flashes From Near and Far

Rumanians forced back Austro-German forces at the Transylvania frontier; Russians took trenches west of Lutsk; artillery hit all the heavy work along the Somme.

Survivors from the horse transport Marina stated the vessel was torpedoed without warning, while messages stated that seven men was killed trying to launch lifeboats.

The Washington government asked Germany to furnish any information it has upon the sinking of the Marina and Rowanmore.

Villistas trapped a Carranza force in Bachimba pass and dispersed them under the shell fire, retaining a canyon necessary to Trevino's scheme of campaign.

The statements by the comptroller of the treasury showed the country's banking resources had gained six and one-half billions since passage of the federal reserve act.

Reading of a long cablegram from priests in Mexico, denying tales of the persecution of clergy, and official denial by Luis Cabrera of the Edmunds statements were the features of the commission hearing in relation with Mexico.

Richer premiums were offered exhibitors at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport which opens today.

The so-called Shreveport rate case, involving a proposed general increase in freight rates effective November 1, between intrastate Texas points on practically all commodities was passed upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission and increases on some commodities suspended.

Frank D. Comstock, Southern Pacific export and custom agent, died from a stroke of apoplexy.

Women speakers urged the defeat of the proposed bond issue at a mass meeting in Lafayette Square.

HALLOWEEN

The Kiddies, yes, and even many of the grown ups enjoyed Halloween last night. The stores that carried Halloween novelties did a rushing business through Tuesday evening supplying the wants of those who participated in the evening celebration. Halloween parties, and dances, were in vogue. Jack O' Lanterns, black cats, witches, and other yellow and black trappings, that go to make up Halloween were visible everywhere. Parties of youngsters, were out early in their ghost-like attire, followed by the youngsters who were not alert enough to have prepared their fun-making costumes, in advance, and consequently had to follow those who were better prepared to "scare them." Of course there were some of the girls who waited until midnight to go through that candle and mirror ceremony to find out who their future husband would be.

"The Prince And The Pauper"

The offering last night of "The Prince and the Pauper" at the Evangeline, created quite a furor. Marguerite Clark, the leading character in the production is an artist and was well supported. The play was well received and a return of Marguerite Clark at the Evangeline will make Manager Loeb smile as he only knows how. It was an excellent moving picture with a theme that appeals to the people in general, and they showed their appreciation to the fullest extent. There should be no empty seats at the Evangeline with such "movies" on the screen.

MISS MARY BEARD ENTERTAINS WITH HALLOWEEN PARTY

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Beard, on Federal Avenue Tuesday night, Miss Mary Beard charmingly entertained her classmates of the Senior Class and one or two friends with a Halloween Party. Miss Beard is a member of the class of '17 of M. C. H. S. and her guests included the eighteen young ladies and gentlemen who will finish their course in the Spring.

Miss Beard's home was decorated in keeping with the date, and Halloween games and refreshments were enjoyed immensely by all. A walk through the city by the company of merry makers was one of the features of the evening's program and the gaily costumed group attracted much attention thruout their stroll. Returning to the residence, the indoor games and Halloween tricks claimed the attention of the party and the evening was climaxed by refreshments of Pumpkin Tarts, Witches Brew, Devil's Sip, Fruits, etc., each item of the menu eloquent of the spirit of the occasion.

Miss Beard has been in Morgan City only a few months but during her short residence here has become a highly valued addition to the younger social circles of Morgan City. Mr. C. S. Beard, her father, is manager of the splendid shock factory recently opened up here on the Boeuf by the Texas Company. His large responsibility in his position as manager of this concern sufficiently introduces Mr. Beard as a gentleman of ability and a welcome addition to the commercial and social life of this city.

The following were the guests at Miss Beard's party: Misses Thelma Thorgeson, Henrietta Brown, Gunda Gabrielson, Vivian Cropper, Nellie Durham, Una O'Brien, Alma Larose, Freda Bass and Jeannette O'Brien, and Messrs Lyman Reed, Edwin Dyer, John Bourgeois, Allen Bella, Arthur Golden, Isaac Himel, Joe Granata, Clayton Coleman, Merville Gautreaux and Wallace O'Brien.
