

Local News

Real estate still changes, hard in this town.

W. G. Penny has purchased the G. G. Ewing market and grocery business and will continue same at the Ewing store.

Fullerton came on schedule time Saturday for the three game series with the locals and lost each game as follows- first 5-3 second 7-1, third 10-3.

Labor day passed quietly here. We had a barbecue and baseball game for the benefit of the public. Business houses were closed and the employees had a free day.

Pull for the community fair. It will help the town and nearby territory to put on this sort of work annually.

W. H. Humble, the Parish demonstration agent, was in town Wednesday and met with the community fair committee.

Miss Hattie Chester was in Oakdale Tuesday to meet Miss Gussie Meyers who was returning home after a visit at Kirbyville, Texas.

D. W. Squyres of Melder was in town Labor Day.

The big day of the town is next Monday when the school opens.

Leon Brooks got a finger broken in the ball game Sunday.

Edwin Orr and son of Grayson were guests of relatives here this mid week.

Some of our citizens met last Monday night to discuss the community fair. They were enthusiastic and Messrs. C. A. Carruth, D. J. Milner, C. G. Durham, J. P. Maxwell, J. E. Patrick and W. W. Perry were elected as a committee to perfect plans and arrange the details of the fair if it be expedient to have one this fall.

Righteousness has its reward in this life as well in the life to come.

The blues never built anything; work and good cheer do this.

The Baptist lawn party Tuesday evening was well attended by pupils and teachers.

Our merchants are hopeful for the fall trade as they are receiving new goods each week.

Patrons, take a day off Monday to attend the school opening.

Ex-service men are working to organize a post here.

"The coward can smile when there is nothing to fear, and nothing his progress to bar."

Boost the Sunday School and Churches here by giving them your presence and support.

Mrs. J. T. Gilman and some of the children will occupy the upstairs rooms of the Halliday store Business and the school account for this.

Several of our citizens have had Mr. L. A. Blevins to put down deep wells for them. He understands this business and deep wells assure plenty and pure water for all that uses them.

How about a "Pay up Week" in Glenmora? Some towns have used pay up week with splendid results.

One more of our streets is being put in first class shape. The one that crosses north Glenmora toward C. A. Casruth's place.

The recent showers have been helpful to fall gardens and sweet potatoes. When we have our fair, we shall see some good produce exhibited from the local gardens and farms.

The year is fast slipping away. The busiest season comes to us in the autumn when crops are gathered and sold.

Mrs. Joe Byrd of Emad is visiting her mother, Mrs. B. Jones.

O. W. Babam is the meat cutter for the W. G. Penny market.

The "Highpockets" and "Ty Cobbs" of Cottonport are scheduled to play base ball here next Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary Britt left Saturday for Franklinton where she will take charge of the Home Economics department in that school.

The City Confectionary has those tablets' pencils and ink that the school people need.

The alumnium sale last Thursday at Maxwell and Pringle store was a splendid success. Some pieces were sold out before ten o'clock that morning.

Oakdale is advertising its fair to begin October the fourteenth.

Louisiana Sawmill plainer will run a day and night shift for the next month.

Mrs. J. B. Hall and daughters, Jewel and Irbel, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bethel Hall this week.

E. M. Pringle was at a lumbermen's meeting in Alexandria last Friday.

Messrs White and Jackson of Lecompte were here Monday evening in the interest of the American Legion. We hope a post will be organized here in the near future.

Glenmora is setting a worthy pace for other towns in Rapides Parish as it is planning to have a community fair in the near future.

A fine spirit is manifested by our people in this section, and it is practically assured that we will have a creditable fair this year. This fair is just the beginning of a better day for this part of Louisiana.

We will learn and profit by comparing our products and learning how to grow better stuff than we now have. We are all interested in this fair and we will put it over in good shape this year.

Some places not half as large as Glenmora get themselves advertised to the world nearly every week. Every little event is noted and capitalized for the press: but it is not so with us. How many towns in Louisiana having a population of 2,500 inhabitants is as little known as this one?

It is true true that Glenmora is a young town: but that is no excuse for keeping ourselves hidden in these pine woods.

With our school and fair we should soon be so well advertised as to shame any Louisianan for not knowing the town of his state better.

We appreciate our sport report for this and other seasons. Put Glenmora on the Louisiana map in a large way.

Daniels—Flanders

Tom Daniels and Miss Margaret Flanders were married last Monday at Oberlin, Rev. J. H. French officiated.

The young people were accompanied by Mesdames D. P. Reid sister to the groom, H. A. Bremer and J. M. Patrick; Misses Vaunceil Flanders, Ruby and Johnnie Patrick. They left here in automobiles about 11 o'clock and arrived at Oberlin about 1 o'clock. After a dinner party at a cafe they went to the home of Rev. French for the marriage. After the ceremony the party returned to Glenmora where they are receiving the congratulations of their many friends. Miss Daniels is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Flanders and is a popular member of the younger set here.

Mr. Daniels is a valued employee of the Louisiana Mill store. He and Mrs. Daniels have the well wishes of many friends here and elsewhere.

School Opens Monday
Next Monday the Glenmora High School opens for another term of work. Our faculty is strong and the patron here is a unit for its success.

No doubt the usual large attendance of students will be on hand, and we would like to see a large number of patrons present. Suppose we take time to go to the school house Monday morning to witness the opening of this term and to meet our teachers.

It will be helpful to the patrons and teachers. We mutually need each other's confidence and help and Monday is a good time to start up this program of helpfulness.

One of the important diseases in the South, from an economic standpoint, is malaria. The number of deaths caused by malaria is small compared to the total number of cases. It is a disease which causes a great loss from decreased efficiency and productivity of agricultural and industrial labor' absence from work and resulting loss of wages sums spent for doctors' fees, "chill tonics" etc. Not only this but the general impression in the North and East that the South is an unhealthy place in which to live has hurt our Southern States very much and has prevented us from getting the immigrants we need to develop our resources.

Malaria is spread in but one way, by the bite of the Anopheles mosquito. That malaria can be controlled is a proven fact that has been demonstrated in many places. It is not only possible, but it economically practicable. To secure results we must act. To get action we must arouse people and officials to the importance of the problem. Will you help us?

Yours truly,
Dr. Dowling.

Oil Edition

The Interstate Oil edition of the Haynesville News was a most creditable effort on the part of B. W. Barnes and W. P. Watson who got it up and Wade brothers publishers of the News.

The editor of the of the Patriot is well acquainted in that territory and the added interest of oil developed there since he moved from Haynesville makes the News a letter from his many friends every week.

North Louisiana and South Arkansas are given splendid publicity in this special edition of the News and we feel sure that every one that a part in getting up this paper is proud of it.

Fresh vegetables are being offered for sale by our truck farmers. It is nice looking and finds ready disposal.
